SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly:

This is the First Session of the Eighth Legislative Assembly of the Province of Alberta, and I assure you that I have every confidence that in our association together we shall be able to perform the important duties to which I now welcome you.

We are meeting on this occasion under a cloud of great sorrow. The loss of our widely respected and greatly beloved Sovereign, George the Fifth, has caused wide-spread grief in our Province and throughout the Empire. A motion will be introduced voicing the sincerest sympathy of all our people to His Majesty, King Edward the Eighth, and his gracious Mother, Queen Mary, in their bereavement. May the God of Heaven comfort them.

It is with feeling not less deep and sincere that the people of this Province, together with the other peoples of the British Commonwealth, have acclaimed the accession of His Gracious Majesty King Edward VIII, who has a special place in our loyal affections. It is our earnest prayer that he may be blessed with long life and happiness and that under his reign the contentment and welfare of his people will continue.

Since the last Session of the Legislature His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough, whose visits we enjoyed, having completed his term of office as Governor-General of the Dominion, has now returned to the Motherland. The recent appointment of His Excellency Baron Tweedsmuir as Governor-General of Canada has created decided satisfaction throughout the Province.

WINS WARM PLACE

Already he has won a warm place in our hearts. I am sure, as the elected representatives of the people of this Province, you would desire me to extend your cordial greetings to Baron and Lady Tweedsmuir and to express the hope that they may be able to visit Alberta this year.

In surveying the events of the past year, special mention might be made of the Dominion-Provincial Conference held in Ottawa during the closing month of 1935, at which the various problems of the Provinces were reviewed and proposed solutions offered. We trust that this may prove to be the beginning of a unified attack upon those forces that today are tending to destroy our whole economic background.

In entering upon your duties this Session, therefore, your attention will be directed to a full realization of the forces by which the general economic conditions of the world continue to affect all our people, both urban and rural, and to the fact that the depression shows but little sign of abatement even after six years of devastating material and moral influence.

STRICT ECONOMY NEED

Faced with the possibility of a still further decline in revenue as a result of these conditions, and of a greater demand for direct and agricultural relief caused by the hail and frost calamities affecting

STORM HITS COAST CITY

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—The season's worst gale brought extensive damage to the Vancouver district today as an icy wind blew itself out across the Gulf of Georgia. Small craft were blown ashore, power and telephone lines were hurled down and a moored seaplane of the Royal Canadian Air Force pulled 1,800 pound anchor and was wrecked. Authorities stated the plane was a complete loss but expected they would save the motors.

A large lumber barge pulled her anchor in English Bay and ground on Kitsilano Beach. Two men aboard were in no danger.

Duke Concerned For Safety Own Children In U.S.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The Duke of Marlborough expressed concern for the safety of his children in a land he visualized as over-run with gangsters when he debined Wednesday to allow them to be photographed.

The Duke and Duchess arrived in the United States from England on the liner Majestic with their three daughters aboard.

"You will have to get rid of your gangsters first," he told photographers as he kept the children out of range.

France Lowers Discount Rates

PARIS, Feb. 6.— The Bank of France today lowered its discount rate to 3½ per cent from 4 per cent.

"At your service"

That is exactly what the Bulletin Once-a-Week Classified Directory, published today, means to you. Quite naturally we all expect service.

The Once-a-Week Directory offers service — both for the household and business — dependable, prompt and efficient. Those who advertise in this Directory are skilled in their professions and trades, and can give the kind of service and work you want in your home or business. You get the benefit of their desire to please.

NOMINATES NEW SPEAKER

who heads the first Social Credit government ever elected. Premier Aberhart officiated today in the formal nominating of a speaker for the house. The opening of the Alberta legislature was accompanied by much ceremony.

Shaw Wouldn't Broadcast For Fifty Million

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 6.—Fifty million dollars might be a lot of money to some people, but it wasn't enough to get George Bernard Shaw before a microphone here Wednesday.

Radio men reached Shaw by telephone as he sat sipping orange juice with Dr. John Harvey Kellogg at the Battle Creek sanitarium near here, and offered him $500 to broadcast.

"Not for $50,000," Shaw said. On being pressed, he added: "No, no, not for $50,000,000!"

GAME WARDEN LOSES POSITION

As forecasted in the Bulletin last Thursday, Stanley H. Clarke, Alberta Game Commissioner here for the past four years, was dismissed Thursday morning.

Mr. Clarke told the Bulletin that he was called into the office of D. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, and dismissed without any reason being given for such action.

Pope Observes Anniversary Date Mid War Alarm

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 6.—Pope Pius XI, dedicating his pontificate to peace, observed the 14th anniversary of his election to the throne of St. Peter today amid alarms of war.

The 78-year-old pontiff passed the day in commemorative quiet. He devoted most of it to reading the hundreds of messages of congratulation which came to him virtually from all the world.

BIG STRIKE IS NOW AT END

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 5.—The three-day general strike of 2,000 union men in Pekin was ended today.

Deputies armed with shotguns guarded Mayor W. E. Schurman's home today as a blast of gun fire wakened in the second day of a strike-imposed business moratorium in this industrial community of 17,000.

Ten highway patrolmen cruised the streets but a phantom car eluded them to fire upon Clarence Rupp in the first serious shooting of a labor dispute which developed into a general strike.

WOMEN AID SOLEMN VISTA

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—Never before has Canada's opening of parliament assumed such a solemn aspect as scheduled for today, when, garbed in black 250 women, wife diplomats, Senators, ministers and members of the House of Commons, heard Lord Tweedsmuir read the Speech from the Throne.

Only once since confederation have Canadian women attended an opening of parliament held in mourning. Then, excluded from the floor of the Senate, dressed in deepest black, they gazed down from the gallery, listening as the Earl of Minto spoke sorrowfully of the death of Queen Victoria and gave a message from her son.

SOVIET GUARD CHARGED WITH BORDER RAIDS

LEGISLATURE IS BRILLIANT AT OPENING

Colorful Ceremonies Feature the Start of Session

With solemn dignity and ceremonial and marked with significance by reason of the fact that it is the first occasion on which a Social Credit government has controlled affairs, the first session of the eighth legislature of Alberta, was formally opened by His Honor Lieutenant Governor W. L. Walsh at 3 p.m. on Thursday.

Customary pomp and circumstance associated with the brilliance of the event, was tempered by state mourning due to the death of King George V, of blessed and hallowed memory, for whom the large oil portrait in the legislature had been draped. A wreath was placed thereon.

Seldom has there been such a large assemblage at the opening ceremonies. Every available inch of space was occupied and many who sought to gain admission to the legislative chamber were unable to do so.

Military uniforms combined with the colors of women's gowns to give the whole picture a colorful, memorable effect. Plants and flowers were arrayed in the main rotunda and up the main stairway leading from the entrance to the legislative chamber. A red carpet had been placed on the steps.

All 63 members of the house were in their appointed places when the opening took place. They had visited the buildings at 10 a.m. to be sworn in. The members wore morning coats for the most part and in some cases formal dress, such as tuxedos, was worn.

LARGE CROWD

Although doors were not opened until 2:30 p.m., there was a large crowd on hand long before that. Within a few moments of the time the public gallery was packed, all seats were occupied. The Speaker's gallery, the member's gallery and seats placed on the floor of the house were occupied by invited

CANADA BEATS POLAND BY 8-1

LAKE RISSERSEE, Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Feb. 6.—Canada defeated Poland 8-1 in the preliminary round today of the Olympic hockey championships. The game played in a driving snowstorm saw the Dominion representatives maintain their undefeated record in the winter games competition by scoring five goals in the first period, two in the second and one in the final frame.

U.S. Barely Ekes Out 1-0 Victory

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 6.— Favored to reach the Olympic hockey final with Canada, the United States encountered a tartar in the slow, hard first round opponents today, and barely eked out a 1-0 victory. The lone counter of the slow, ragged match came from the stick of Gordon Smith late in the first period.

WAR BETWEEN JAPAN, BRITAIN NOW PREDICTED

LONDON, Feb. 6.—An eventual war in the Pacific ocean between Great Britain and Japan is predicted by Lieutenant-Commander Totaishi Maru of the Japanese navy in his book, "Japan Must Fight Britain," published here Wednesday.

He predicts a conflict between the two powers is inevitable and says the United States probably will side with Britain.

"Either Japan must stop her expansion or England must willingly give up to her some of what she has or hoped she will have," says Maru.

"Revision of the Anglo-Japanese trade treaty must be made temporarily remove some of the economic difficulties, but that would only postpone the evil day. A collision is inevitable."

Singer Robbed

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Ethel Shutta, blues singing wife of George Olsen, well known orchestra leader, reported she was robbed of a mink coat and jewelry she valued at $15,000 by three robbers last night.

Latest Clash Believed To Have Brought Danger of War in Far East Appreciably Closer.

HSINKING, Manchukuo, Feb. 6.—A division of Japanese-Manchukuo troops were locked in battle with mixed Russian-Mongolian forces on the frontier today, dispatches from Harbin stated, and it was feared the engagement, the first major battle of months of border fighting, may explode the Far Eastern powder keg.

The large-scale fighting was reported to have broken out on the frontier north of Tungning, closely following a Japanese army communique which charged more than 20 Russian officers with instigating and leading the bloody mutiny of a Manchukuoan detachment near Nishan Thursday.

Eleven Japanese soldiers were killed by the mutineers and a number, of others were wounded.

As proof of "Soviet complicity," Japanese army headquarters today charged that the body of a Red army soldier was found among those of the mutineers who were slain.

The communique alleged that arms and equipment manufactured in Russia, among them two cartridge bags, two gas masks and a bayonet, were picked up on the battleground after the remnants of the mutineers had fled into Soviet territory.

Orders went out to all Japanese military commanders of Manchukuo forces to repel Soviet invasions of Manchukuan territory. They were instructed to try to settle border questions locally and without bloodshed. Otherwise, it was ominously added, "wider effects are to be feared."

Close on the heels of these instructions came Harbin reports of the major battle on the frozen wastelands of the frontier near Tungning.

It was supposed here that the Tungning fighting was precipitated by another raid by Russian-Mongolian forces across the Manchukuan border.

REBATE WILL BE ALLOWED TO MOTORISTS

25 Per Cent. Reduction is Planned by Government

Providing automobile license plates are returned to the government by Dec. 31, a rebate of probably 25 per cent will be allowed by the government, it was learned on Thursday. This provision will be incorporated in a bill to be brought down early in the session.

This bill also will include provisions for changing the automobile license from the calendar to the fiscal year, or to April 1 to March 31.

It was learned that rural motorists had lodged complaints that they would be unable, under the present system, to save money by not getting their license plates until April 1 at a reduction of 25 per cent.

Speaking in regard to the proposed change, Hon. E. C. Manning stated that: "We believe the new system will mean there will be many more cars on the road and that gasoline tax revenue thus will be increased.

"We also think that none but rural residents whose cars are definitely no use because of blocked roads will turn in their license plates by Dec. 31 in order to get the rebate, although under the existing system many city residents simply put off buying their licenses until April 1."

Asked if the government had definitely decided on a 25 per cent. rebate, the Minister said "not definitely, but probably."

India Scores 189 Runs: Aussies 61

MADRAS, Feb. 6.—The touring Australian cricket team met an India 11 in the fourth and final unofficial test match of the tour. At the close of play India had scored 189 runs and the Aussies 61 runs for loss of four wickets.

In the previous three matches the Australians have won two and lost one.

Hungary Wins From Belgian Team

GARMISCH - PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 6.—In the third hockey match on today's opening program of the fourth winter Olympics Hungary buried Belgium under an 11-2 score.

PARLIAMENT IN OPENING, SANS POMP, GLITTER

Pierre Casgrain, Former Chief Whip, Elected as Speaker

Canada's 18th parliament since confederation launched upon its first session this afternoon with all the traditional ceremonial of opening day and with added interest incidental to the changed political situation. But the customary color and glitter of the occasion was dulled by the atmosphere and habiliments of mourning for the late King.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—Pierre Casgrain, Liberal member for Charlevoix-Saguenay and former chief whip for the party, was nominated speaker of the House of Commons today at the opening session.

The nomination was made by Premier King.

The house met at 12 noon for a brief session, preliminary to the formal opening later in the afternoon. The primary purpose was to elect a speaker.

A few minutes after the house met, the gentleman usher of the Black Rod, the historical messenger of the senate, summoned the members to meet Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff in the Red Chamber. The members obedient to the summons, trooped down the corridor.

ELECT SPEAKER

In the senate, the members were told in diplomatic language to return to the house and elect a speaker. Obedient again, they retreated down the corridor.

First words in the House of Commons were a reference to the death of the late King. George by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. He said sorrow for the late King's death was the uppermost sentiment in the minds of members. The House would wish at an early opportunity to express its loyalty to the new king and its sympathy to members of the royal family.

Nothing could be done, however,

RAILMAN HIT BY PLOW DIES

HORIZON, Sask., Feb. 6.—Thomas Suffick, 35, died in Assiniboia hospital the result of injuries received when he was struck by Mike Brown, 40, section foreman, on a jigger struck by a snow plow rounding a curve. Brown was instantly killed.

J. J. MALONEY GOES TO JAIL

DUNCAN, B.C., Feb. 6. — J. J. Maloney, formerly of Biggar, Sask., and known throughout western Canada as a lecturer, was sentenced Wednesday to 18 months imprisonment on a charge of obtaining $35 by false pretences. He announced he would appeal the case.

Maloney was alleged to have passed a worthless cheque on the Duncan branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce Nov. 26 when he was here delivering a lecture. The cheque was drawn on the Biggar branch of the bank. He was arrested in Prince Rupert, B.C., a few days later.

Bank Of Canada Deposits Decrease

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—Deposits by the dominion government with the Bank of Canada during the week ended Feb. 5 showed a decrease of $9,701,968 compared with the previous week, according to the weekly statement of the bank issued today.

At the same time deposits by chartered banks showed an increase of $947,587.

Casgrain Is Sad Over Attack In House Commons

By THOMAS WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—Mr. Speaker Casgrain, saddened by the attack on him in the commons prior to his election to office, retreated to the Speaker's ornate quarters after the house adjourned.

A slim young figure in black velvet, her eyes tear-dimmed went with outstretched hands to meet him.

"Pierre, I am so glad," said Madame Casgrain as she kissed him.

"Thank you Theresa," he said and turned as Major Jones, his messenger, announced the prime minister.

Mr. King came in to congratulate the new Speaker and felicitate Madame Casgrain, then to talk of the business for this afternoon's session.

The new Speaker's eyes were all for the lovely figure in black velvet, as he listened to the prime minister, then off they went together to lunch, happy for the first time in days.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—If His Majesty King Edward extends clemency to prisoners in jails and prisons in the United Kingdom, Canada by order of the Governor-General-in-Council, will extend like clemency, it was intimated Wednesday in government circles.

There was a clemency extension last year on the occasion of His late Majesty's jubilee, but that will not preclude further extension should the King decide. Action in this respect will await action in London. The usual rule of the remission will follow the practice carried out in England.

Planting Loan

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 6.—A commission appointed by the ministry of agriculture recommended last night that the government spend 10,000,000 pesos (about $2,600,000) as a planting loan to about 13,000 wheat and linseed farmers whose crops were damaged by drought.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Honorable members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

I meet you under the shadow of the loss which Canada, in common with all parts of the Empire, has sustained in the death of our late beloved sovereign, King George V. The sorrow so universally expressed is but one of the many evidences of the great regard in which his late Majesty was held by all men and nations.

In no part of the King's dominions has the sense of national and personal loss been more deeply felt than in Canada. King George's patience and wisdom, his example of courage and devotion to duty, during the years of unparalleled anxieties, will be held in all our memories as a great heritage.

PERSONAL AFFECTION

Toward the new King, there already exists, on the part of the people of Canada, a feeling of personal attachment and affection, occasioned by His Majesty's visits to this country, and the many friendships and wide acquaintances formed during the years he was known to us all as the Prince of Wales. To these sentiments will now be added in increasing measure those of loyalty and devotion.

I am profoundly sensible of the great honor of having been chosen as the King's representative in Canada. I am pleased that my meeting with the members of both houses should be at the beginning of the first session of the eighteenth parliament. It is with the greatest pleasure that I look forward to the associations of the next few years.

The seriousness of the international situation has contributed to the world's anxieties. My ministers are confident they express the conviction of the people of Canada in adhering to the aims and ideals of the League of Nations, and in seeking, in unison with members of the League as

AIRMEN ON SOLO FLIGHTS

LYMPNE, England, Feb. 6.—Two British flying officers, Tommy Rose and David Llewellyn, took off today on separate solo flights to Capetown, South Africa.

NO UPSETS IN BONSPIEL AS LEADERS WIN

McLaughlin of Wetaskiwin is Still Undefeated Skip

Favorites continued to advance along the trail that leads to championships Thursday morning as play in the annual provincial bonspiel of the Alberta Curling Association got underway.

George McLaughlin, of Wetaskiwin, the only undefeated skip at the conclusion of Wednesday's play, maintained his unblemished record by chalking up his eighth straight triumph with an 8-5 decision over Waniess.

This game was one of the most interesting in the morning's play, and both rinks put up a close battle all the way. The feature was the brilliant running of the 2nd rink, which cleared house when their opponents had counting rocks lying for counters.

Two 13-enders also featured the morning games with Perrin nosing out a 10-9 decision over Ritchie, and Hardie gaining a 10-8 victory over Thomassen.

Following are the detailed results of Thursday's 9 a.m. draw;

Ritchie 8; Perrin 10 (K.E.)
Reid 3; Glover 10 (N.W.B.)
Moar 6; Laight 16 (B. of M.)
V. Smith 17; M. Smith 12 (Essery)
McCulla 11; Currie 4 (Essery)
Fitzgerald 9; Carter 7 (G.C.)
Lingings defaulted Hill (Essery).
Hardie 10; Thomassen 8 (Essery).
Olson 11; Grandage 8 (N.W.B.)
Manahan 7; Purvis 15 (B. of M.)
Anderson 5; Armstrong 9 (G.C.)
Loader 5; Poole 8 (Essery)
Bard 12; Freeman 13 (B. of M.)
Passley defeated to Hegler (Essery)
Edmond 15; White 6 (K.E.)
McLaughlin 8; Waniess 5 (N.W.B.)
Huddleston 11; Gregor 13 (Eatons).
Thomassen 8; Hardie 10 (Eaton).
Brown 9; Bell 8 (Essery).
McIntyre 9; Keiller 7 (K.E.)
There will be no games scheduled this evening as the curlers will hold their annual banquet at the Hudsonia at 7 p.m.

Two Armed Men Hold Up Bank

HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 6. — Two armed men held up the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at Locke and Herkimer streets today and escaped with about $1,300 in cash. No shots were fired.

The End of the Frontier!

Frontier days—happy, laissez-faire days when all of us were potential capitalists — are just about over for the west!

The problems which have been set old-established industrialized countries are crowding in on us. The machine age has caught up and dumped new, strange, bewildering difficulties into our laps.

Through frontier days The Bulletin guarded over the interests of the people.

Now it takes its place in the vanguard of those who earnestly, OPENLY grapple with TODAY'S bewildering problems.

PARLIAMENT WILL BE ASKED TO RATIFY TREATY

RECIPROCAL PACT WITH U.S. TO BE UP FOR APPROVAL

Finance, Constitutional Reform, Unemployment Legislation to be Presented in Speech From the Throne.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6. — Finance, constitutional reform, social legislation and measures to deal with unemployment problems are expected to feature the government's sessional program to be presented in the speech from the throne which Lord Tweedsmuir will read at today's opening of parliament.

Reform of the election laws has also been under consideration but since there is unlikely to be an occasion for using this machinery for several years there will be no pressing need of action at the forthcoming session.

TAX REDISTRIBUTION

With a gross current year deficit on all accounts of probably more than $125,000,000, Finance Minister Dunning will not hope to be in a position to attempt a balanced budget in the first year but it is known his intention is to bring about this condition in as short a time as possible and all departments have been so advised. No tax reductions are anticipated although there may be a redistribution of taxes.

Reference will be made in the speech to the reciprocal trade agreement reached with United States last November and notice will be served that parliament will be asked to approve and ratify that treaty, as well as another statute supplementary to it, dealing with the exemption up to $100 on goods brought back by Canadians travelling in United States.

Amendments to the British North America act will be forecast, probably on two grounds. Mr. Dunning proposes to ask parliament to approve an amendment to the constitution to enable him to proceed with his proposed loan council to govern future borrowings by the provinces with a federal treasury guarantee.

A wider reference will probably be made dealing with the efforts now under way in conference between provinces and Dominion looking toward securing for the Dominion the right to amend its own constitution without recourse to the imperial parliament.

UNEMPLOYMENT BODY

One of the first measures to come up will be the necessary statute empowering the government to create a national commission on unemployment and relief. It had been intended to set up this commission at the first of the year but Prime Minister Mackenzie King decided to await the approval of the necessary legislation and appropriations. He has stated that no time will be lost in proceeding with this measure and that the house will be given a full opportunity to discuss the entire relief and employment problem.

Other legislative forecasts in the speech will deal with merging of government departments, possibly railways and telegraph will be merged and become the department of transportation, possibly to include civil aviation now under national defence. Interior, immigration, mines and colonization will be merged probably under the name of natural resources.

The Liberal platform calls for nationalisation of the Bank of Canada, but there has been no indication as to whether this would be preceded with at once. It would involve selling in of the $5,000,000 capital stock of the bank now held by the public.

Mr. Mackenzie King has advised Labor delegates when presenting legislative proposals, that his government had many of their suggestions under consideration. These include a wide list of social reforms dealing with hours and conditions of work and rates of pay, safety measures, peace efforts, and repeal of section 98 of the Criminal Code, the latter a plank in the Liberal platform.

It is anticipated that reference will be made to the participation by Canada in the League of Nations economic and financial conditions against Italy arising from the war in Ethiopia.

HOUSE HEARS OTTAWA SPEECH FROM THRONE

well as with other nations, to support by all appropriate and practical means the maintenance of peace, and the establishment of a world order based on justice and equity.

Unemployment continues to be Canada's most urgent national problem. While there is an increase of the number of persons, the number of those on relief shows no abatement.

NATIONAL COMMISSION

As a means of dealing with present emergency conditions, you will be asked, with the approval of the governments of all the provinces of Canada, to make provision for the establishment of a representative national commission, which will co-operate with the provinces and municipalities in an endeavor to provide work for the unemployed, and the supervision of unemployment relief.

The commission, which will be assisted by a representative advisory committee, will aim at effecting nation-wide co-operative effort toward increasing opportunities of gainful employment.

Transfer of the camps established for the care of single homeless men from the department of national defence to the department of labor, is in process of being effected. Every effort will be made to close the camps altogether at an early date as expanding employment opportunities permit.

A Royal Commission has been appointed to inquire into conditions in the textile industry, as the result of the coming down on January 18th of one of the textile plants in the city of Sherbrooke, hereby occasioning, in midwinter, and at a time of unemployment, great hardship to hundreds of employees and their families.

OBLIGATION DUE

My ministers are of the opinion that industries should recognize an obligation to co-operate in every manner possible in continuing and providing employment, and that labor and consumers have a right to have their voice heard, and influence felt, in the control of industrial policy.

Where these ends cannot be effected through voluntary co-operation of all parties to industry, my ministers are of the opinion that there is every interest of reasons for state intervention.

With a view to safeguarding the interests of consumers a full inquiry will be instituted into representations which have been made to you respecting monopolistic control of the importation and distribution of anthracite coal.

In order to determine the question of their validity, reference has been made to the supreme court of Canada of a number of measures enacted at the last session of parliament.

TRADE AGREEMENT

I am happy to be able to inform you that a trade agreement between Canada and the United States of America was concluded on Armistice Day, 1935, and that the trade dispute with Japan, which had seriously affected the trade of both countries, was adjusted before the end of the old year.

The Canada-United States trade agreement will be submitted for your approval. You will also be forthwith advised of the basis on which normal trade relations between Canada and Japan have been restored.

My ministers believe that the Canada-United States agreement will mark a great improvement in Canada's international economic relations; also, that the principles embodied in this agreement, expressed and applied in good faith and determination, will contribute to the reversal of the trend toward extreme economic nationalism, which has been undermining standards of living, and embittering relations between countries all over the world.

You will be pleased to know that the policy of the Canadian wheat board in selling wheat at competitive prices is bringing satisfactory results.

A conference between the Dominion government and the government of the province of Canada was held at Ottawa during the month of December. Continuing committees have since carried on consideration of the more important subjects discussed.

Legislation, arising out of the conference, which will be submitted for your consideration, will be a proposal for amending the British North America Act, 1867, in order to provide for certain financial arrangements in relation to unemployment and the province. A committee of Dominion and provincial representatives, appointed by the Dominion-provincial conference, is engaged in the consideration of a method and procedure for effecting constitutional amendments.

CONTROL TAXATION

It is proposed to restore to parliament its control over taxation and expenditure by ending all measures which have deprived members of the House of Commons of this control, and which have served to invest the executive with unwarranted arbitrary powers.

Every effort will be made to substitute stability for uncertainty in the administration of customs laws.

The control of credit, and the issue of currency, being public matters of direct concern to every citizen, it is intended at the present session to ask parliament to make such changes in the ownership and control of the Bank of Canada as may be necessary to give to the government a predominant interest in the ownership as well as effective control of the bank.

You will be asked to consider amendments to existing legislation respecting the Canadian National Railways, which will serve to afford a greater measure of governmental authority and responsibility to parliament.

RADIO QUESTION

It is proposed to make the present position of radio broadcasting in Canada the subject of inquiry by a special committee of the House of Commons.

Steps have already been taken with respect to the reorganization and consolidation of government services, which it is believed will further their efficiency and effect much needed economies. These will be supplemented by legislative measures to which your attention will be invited.

A reduction from twenty-one to sixteen has been made in the number of ministers of the crown.

A bill to provide for creation of parliamentary secretaryships will be submitted for your consideration.

Members of the House of Commons:

The public accounts of the last fiscal year and the estimates for the coming year will be submitted for your consideration.

Honorable members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

In inviting your careful consideration to the important matters which will engage your attention, I pray that divine providence may guide and bless your deliberations.

Pomp Without Glitter At Parliament Opening

The Parliament buildings will be draped in mourning for the late King George V, when Canada's 18th parliament opens today. Baron Tweedsmuir (LEFT) will read his first Speech from the Throne of the Senate chamber. Four major political parties will be represented in the House of Commons, led by (Liberal) R. B. Bennett (Conservative) J. S. Woodsworth, (C.C.F.), and John Blackmore (Social Credit). They are shown in that order at (RIGHT).

ALBERTA SOLONS HEAR THRONE SPEECH TODAY

last year's crops, the strictest economy will need to be enforced and the general scheme of taxation reviewed.

My Government will need to make adequate provision for feed and seed to relieve the agricultural districts which suffered most heavily from weather conditions and crop failures last year.

The careful administration of direct relief and a whole hearted encouragement of industry and private enterprise should also engage your closest attention.

The economic reconstruction, which my Government has promised to undertake, presents many problems, the solution of which involves new conceptions of human rights and social justice. The meeting of these problems fearlessly and without sectional or political prejudice offers a challenge to Canadian democracy which has attracted world-wide attention. I am confident that the citizens of Alberta will support my Government in this endeavour.

The two-year engagement of Major C. H. Douglas, of London, England, as Reconstruction Economic Advisor to the Government, will no doubt be used by my present Government to advance the introduction and establishment of Social Credit principles within the Province.

SOCIAL CREDIT PRINCIPLES

A measure leading to the formulation and adoption of a plan based upon the principles of Social Credit will be submitted for your consideration.

At a time like this, when the agricultural industry is faced with the serious problems of unusually low prices for farm products, and the adjustment and liquidation of private debts are bearing heavily upon farmers, it is fitting that you should be asked to take measures to stabilize the industry by improving the purchasing power of farmers and reducing the overhead charges as far as practicable.

The prevailing high rates of interest both of public and private indebtedness are matters of grave and pressing concern which occupy a prominent place in the deliberations of my Government.

Some definite direction should be taken by you through which capital may be made available to our citizens in building and rebuilding programmes in the towns and cities of our Province. Too many restrictions are interfering with capital investments.

FOR PUBLIC HEALTH

Some consideration will need to be given to the improvement of Public Health Services, notwithstanding the necessity for rigid economy. Due to the depression our Public Health programmes need revision. A general review of provincial legislation, municipal health contracts, and the Workmen's Compensation Act will have the attention of my Government.

In no sphere is there more need of careful legislation at this time than in that of Education. The reduced revenue resulting in the certificates of election of the members.

Next, Sergeant-at-Arms Capt. H. S. Newby, making his first sessional appearance, was ordered to the door of the chamber and announced the arrival of His Honor, at which the assemblage stood, while His Honor and retinue proceeded to the Speaker's dais.

Hon. E. C. Manning, as provincial secretary, then rose and announced that His Honor would not read the Speech from the Throne until the Speaker had been appointed, this being necessary in view of it being a new legislature.

His Honor then retired from the chamber.

NOMINATIONS

Mr. Andison then called for nominations for Speaker and pointed toward Premier William Aberhart, who then nominated Nathan Eldon Tanner, member for Cardston, and this was seconded by Hon. Mr. Manning.

No other name was proposed and Mr. Andison then announced that Mr. Tanner had been elected as Speaker, according to law.

Mr. Tanner, who had been sitting in a far corner of the assembly, then left between Premier Aberhart and Hon. Mr. Manning.

BELGIUM TO FORTIFY ALL KEY POINTS

Copyright 1936, by Havas News Agency

BRUSSELS, Feb. 6.—A chain of artillery from Antwerp by the sea to Arlon, capital of Belgian Luxemburg, and buttressing of key points on the vulnerable Belgian - Netherlands frontier, may be Belgium's answer to the threat of a German remilitarized Rhineland.

A survey by those of a possible second German invasion through a re-armed Rhineland, parliamentary defence committees indicated last night they would unequivocally endorse government plans to strengthen all frontier defences.

All eyes were consequently turned to the meeting Thursday of the Grand Council of the Socialist party, where the government's national defence project will be debated. The cabinet of Premier and Foreign Minister Paul Van Zeeland, which regards the program as vital, will be put in a very embarrassing position if the powerful Socialist group, known to have strong objections to certain phases of the program rejects it.

PROBE HEARS HOW OFFICER KNOCKED OUT

Constable Who Rescued Felled Companion Himself Struck Down

REGINA, Feb. 6.—Evidence to indicate that the constable that rescued the senseless body of Detective Charles Millar, the city policeman who was slain in the Dominion Day riot, from the street was himself knocked senseless by a blow was heard at the riot inquiry on Wednesday afternoon.

The constable in question was Alexander Hill, now a detective, who identified a uniformed man in a Leader-Post photograph of the riot as himself. In the picture he is standing over the fallen Millar, while several rioters, armed with clubs and missiles, run up to attack him.

RECEIVED BLOW ON HEAD

Hill testified he received a blow on the side of the head as he was dragging Millar away. He remembered nothing more about it until he came to his senses in the police station garage, still on his feet.

Millar, seriously injured, was in the garage, too, and police do not know how he was brought in, or by whom. Another constable, C. Anderson, went to Hill's assistance in this incident, and himself was "knocked out." He did not remember anything until he came to his senses sitting on the fender of a car in the garage.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY

Chief Justice Brown, chairman of the inquiry, saying that he thought it "quite a possibility" that Hill could have dragged Millar in without being aware of it, suggested that medical testimony be brought in to clarify the problem. "A man can go on," he thought, "instinctively and have no recollection of it."

Constable Hill said he ran out of the police station when he saw Millar on the ground, on his knees with his head lowered, with a half dozen or dozen men around him. These men backed away when Constable Hill rushed out, and he caught the fallen man under the armpits, as shown in the Leader-Post picture, when he was forthwith shed the inquiry as evidence.

DIDN'T REMEMBER

"I may have brought him in," was all Hill would say when he could say about how Millar was taken to the police garage, "but I don't remember."

Besides Constable Hill, witnesses yesterday were Sergt. Thos. Logan, who was cross-examined on his evidence given in the morning session; Detective-Sergt. Ewen McDonald, Sergt. Jas. J. Maitland, all of the Regina police force; and Geo. Leslie Schofield, of Beveley and Swift Current, Sask., a witness for the truckers.

Reindeer Herd Walking Meat Store For Esks

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—A walking meat store that took four years to reach its consumers may change the lives of Canada's Eskimo, curing them from hunting in herding the only form of farming possible in their bleak Arctic homeland.

The store contains more than 3,000 reindeer, driven by Seattle's Andy Bahr from Alaska to Alaska to the ranges near the mouth of the Mackenzie river in the western Northwest territories. It arrived early last year and produced 811 young in the first fawning of its new home.

$15,000 Fire

GREENWOOD, B. C., Feb. 6. — Believed to have started from explosion of a gas tank, a fire Wednesday razed five buildings in the business section of this mining town. Damage is estimated at $15,000, partially covered by insurance. The business section was swept by fire last November with an estimated loss of $60,000.

PARLIAMENT IN OPENING, SANS POMP, GLITTER

until the House had elected a speaker. He therefore nominated Mr. Casgrain as a member eminently suited for that post.

"I wish to make it very clear," said Mr. King, "that the choice of a speaker is the choice of the members of the house."

As presiding officer a speaker was required to observe fairness and impartiality between all parties and members of the house. He was the custodian of the dignity and rights of the house. He was expected to have a thorough knowledge of the rules and procedure of parliament.

The Prime Minister referred to Mr. Casgrain's command of English and French and concluded by giving his opinion the new speaker would be a success.

REGRETS TO ACT

"I regret," Mr. Bennett said, "to have to say I am opposed to the election of Mr. Casgrain as Speaker."

It had been known for some time Mr. Casgrain was to be Speaker, Mr. Bennett said. With that knowledge going out unofficially he had no fault to find.

On January 28, after the press announced Mr. Casgrain would be Speaker, Mr. Bennett said, the sergeant-at-arms sent letters to more than 120 employees of the house telling them their services would not be needed after the end of January.

"Those instructions," said Mr. Bennett, "came from Mr. Casgrain. He had the same right to give those instructions as the youngest and most humblest member of this house."

EXPRESSLY PROVIDED

It was expressly provided by the written constitution of parliament, said Mr. Bennett, that no employee of the house could be relieved of his office unless a complaint was made against him and he was given an opportunity to state his defence.

It was a painful time for him to call attention to this situation, said Mr. Bennett. But he asked if a man who was capable of such an arrogant disregard of the privileges of the house could have confidence of men on the opposition side.

In the pressure of party politics governments often had to do things they did not like. He was proud, however, of the prompt action taken by Mr. King to halt the dismissals.

WISHED TO BE FAIR

Mr. Bennett said he wished to be fair to the Prime Minister and to the government. Mr. King deserved the gratitude of all members.

The remarks of the former premier were regarded as having made statements which demanded an inquiry. The whole matter would have to be investigated by a committee of privilege.

If Mr. Casgrain were elected, said Mr. Bennett, he would be in a peculiar position when he had to put to the house a motion to refer his own conduct to a committee.

"Can we condone the action of Mr. Casgrain?" asked Mr. Bennett. "I cannot, although I am asked to do it. I cannot condone a clear violation of the law."

MAKES APPEAL

Mr. Bennett appealed to the Prime Minister to choose another from the large number of French members in his party who would have the confidence of the house and could be counted on by all members.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, said he agreed with most of Mr. Bennett's remarks, but felt that some should be challenged. He said he had now been in the house 32 years and had seen things transpired when governments changed.

In theory, a speaker had no authority until the vacancy arose, but in practice the Speaker always arranged for appointment of temporary sessional employees.

BENNETT WIRES TOO

Mr. Bennett himself had wired Mr. Casgrain asking a certain person to be appointed, Mr. Lapointe said.

Mr. Bennett said his criticism was only with regard to permanent employees. He admitted Mr. Casgrain's right to prepare for the session by making temporary appointments. The appointment he had asked was of a young woman for the office of leader of the opposition on a temporary basis. She had formerly been on the staff in an unofficial capacity.

Mr. Lapointe said he did not believe in wholesale dismissals but knew of many cases of repeated two or three years ago, who waited until they got justice and their jobs back. He knew of cases like that he would recommend them.

WOODSWORTH AGREES

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, said he agreed with Mr. Bennett. He asked if the dismissals were for this session only. Mr. Lapointe said, "If they were just, why were the orders countermanded?"

Other C.C.F. members voted for Mr. Casgrain, Mr. Woodsworth believed they would be condoning something that should be thrown out of Canada.

Mr. Casgrain, continued the C.C.F. leader, had not shown impartiality or fairness in his dealings.

Premier King said he could not commit the government to following any policy in the future because parliament at present was not constituted.

The premier suggested the members be represented in the House of Commons, led by (Liberal) R. B. Bennett (Conservative) J. S. Woodsworth, (C.C.F.), and John Blackmore (Social Credit). They are shown in that order at (RIGHT).

LEGISLATURE IS BRILLIANT AT OPENING

guests. On the floor of the house were members of the judiciary, civic, ecclesiastical and other dignitaries, as well as leading educational authorities.

Seldom has every member been in the house when the opening ceremony has taken place.

ENTERS BUILDING

At 3 p.m. His Honor entered the legislative building and inspected the Guard of Honor, drawn from the 1. of A. Officers' Training Corps.

Owing to the extreme weather the guard was mounted in the main rotunda of the building, rather than outside.

The inspection over, His Honor proceeded to his offices, where he was joined by his retinue of military officers.

At the moment, within the chamber, R. A. Andison, clerk of the assembly, was reading the official proclamation calling the house together.

Immediately after this ceremony was completed, Mr. Andison read

These hardships have undoubtedly impaired efficiency in many cases, and have seriously handicapped the introduction of the New Curriculum so necessary for progress and for the attainment of standards in keeping with the educational requirements of the times. Too many of the children of our Province have not had the opportunities for development that they should have and could have had without increased cost.

My Government will, as soon as possible, institute inquiries for the efficient co-operation and co-ordination of Rural Schools.

It is quite evident that the problem of caring for our highways and secondary roads needs careful supervision. Transportation regulations, licensing control and hard surfacing of roads, are among the questions that must be faced very definitely.

VAST RESOURCES

The opening up and development of our vast resources, the encouragement of new industries, exploration and research in the extensive northern areas, together with the recovery and rehabilitation of the Southern Peace River Districts, present subjects of profitable investigation on the part of my Government. A number of measures will be brought before you dealing with matters of general importance and for the purpose of amending certain existing Statutes. A revision of the Statutes of the province is necessary and must receive your immediate attention.

Amongst other measures to be submitted for your consideration is a Bill providing for the Recall of Members of the Legislative assembly.

The Annual Reports of the various Departments of the Government will be submitted to the House in due course.

The Public Accounts of the last Fiscal Year and the Estimates of Expenditures for the coming year will be submitted for your consideration.

WELFARE OF FUTURE

These Estimates will reflect the most rigid economy compatible with the proper and careful administration of the Province until more favorable economic arrangements can be made under the policy of this Government.

In the meantime the task which confronts my Ministers and to which your deliberations will be directed at this Session is to deal with the affairs of the Province in such a manner that no ill-considered action of today will jeopardize the welfare of the future.

I leave you now to the business of the Session, with full confidence that you will faithfully discharge your duties and legislate in the best interests of the general welfare of the people and I pray that Divine Providence will guide and bless your work.

'Flu Epidemic

CHARLESTON, S.C., Feb. 6. — Hospital facilities at Fort Moultrie, near here, were taxed beyond capacity for an outbreak of influenza, but medical officers at the army post said there was no occasion for alarm. More than 150 cases of the disease were reported.

Salt placed quickly on a fresh wine stain will absorb the fluid before it sets and prevent the stain from spreading.

LENGTHY CONSTITUTIONAL REFERENCE IS ENDED

COURT JUDGMENT ON VALIDITY OF 8 LAWS RESERVED

Month or Six Weeks Will Elapse Before Ruling is Given—Appeals to Privy Council Will Follow.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—The supreme court of Canada reached the end of the long constitutional reference Wednesday, reserving judgment on validity of the last of the eight federal statutes which have been under legal fire for two solid weeks.

It will be a month or six weeks before judgments are delivered and in any event there will be appeals to the privy council in England, either by the Dominion or provinces, depending upon the supreme court's decisions.

STUDY 800,000 WORDS

It will be necessary for the six judges to study 800,000 words of legal argument before rendering judgment and reading scores of case precedents cited by the opposing counsel. From the beginning to the end there were hundreds of dusty law books read in part.

The eight laws were as follows: Section 498A of the Criminal Code, Dominion trade and industry commission act; employment and social insurance act; weekly rest in industrial undertakings act, minimum wages act, limitation of hours of work act, natural products marketing act, farmers' creditors arrangement act.

VALIDITY ATTACKED

In a general way, the provinces attacked validity of each of the eight laws, but sometimes not from the same angle or to the same extent. The Dominion argued each statute was constitutional as a whole.

Quebec and New Brunswick attacked every law as an infringement of provincial legislative fields as established by the British North America Act. Ontario and British Columbia attacked only clauses of section 498A and the Trade and Industry Act.

LAWS ATTACKED

All provinces, including Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, attacked the laws establishing minimum wages, eight-hour day and weekly day of rest on the basis parliament had no power to invade provincial rights on the pretext of implementing treaty obligations. Ontario, however, admitted parliament could have passed the legislation on the "peace, order and good government" provisions of the B. N. A. It was the only province to make the admission, which was repeated in relation to unemployment insurance.

The Insurance Act was attacked by Ontario, Quebec, British Columbia and New Brunswick, with the western provinces taking no sides. The provinces split the same way on the Farmers' Arrangement Act, but British Columbia took no sides on the Marketing Act, leaving Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick to attack it.

NAZIS AIM TO BLOCK RIOTS

BERLIN, Feb. 6—The German government acted to forestall anti semitic riots last night after demanding the Swiss government "discover and prosecute those behind the murder" of Wilhelm Gustloff, Nazi leader in Switzerland.

Gustloff was assassinated Tuesday in Davos by David Frankfurter, a Jew.

Dr. Goebbels, minister of propaganda, forbade all Jewish cultural organizations, such as theatre groups, to meet until further notice.

In an official communication through its minister to Berne, the Nazi government called the slaying "a serious affair, which without a doubt was a political murder."

Three Western Provinces Get 5-Year Census

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—While the census of Canada is taken once every decade, the law provides that the three western provinces are entitled to a census every five years. The reason for this is that in past years the prairie provinces grew so rapidly they would have suffered injustice in the matter of provincial subsidies, which are based on population, if the census were not more frequent than once every ten years.

It is understood that this year, in view of the extreme restriction of immigration, the Dominion government has opened negotiations with the prairie provinces, looking to avoiding the cost of a census at this time.

PLAN FOR NEW PEACE PARLEY TURNED DOWN

Motion for Peace Round Table Defeated in British House

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The House of Commons turned down Wednesday a proposal to sponsor a new international peace conference but affirmed its confidence the government will "take all practicable steps to promote international prosperity."

The suggestion for a peace round table came on the motion of George Lansbury, 77-year-old former Labor leader, and was defeated 220 to 137.

AMENDMENT PASSED

An amendment which eliminated the conference proposal but kept the language of the original resolution on the "futility of war" and "grave concern of world-wide preparations for war" was offered by Paul V. Emrys-Evans, Conservative. It passed 207 to 125.

Viscount Cranborne, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, said preliminary examination of the problem of an international conference has already been started "but we cannot fix a date until circumstances favor further negotiations."

The last world economic conference, he said, was a failure because the world war "not prepared for it. If another were called "it would be not only unfortunate but disastrous," he declared.

NOT TO BANG DOOR

Lord Cranborne asserted the government had no intention of "banging the door" on the declaration of Sir Samuel Hoare, former foreign minister, at Geneva, regarding collective examination of economic problems. The general aim was "international appeasement which will remove from nations the incentive to pile up armaments and establish the peace of the world on a sure foundation," he said.

The government would adopt no policy which would impair the British Empire or injure its prosperity. The government believed international discussions on economic problems were immensely valuable and might play an important part in the solution of the difficulties. But it was an exceedingly complex question and should be handled cautiously.

DENTISTS TO INVESTIGATE PAIN-KILLER

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Appointment of a committee of dentists to investigate the tooth pain desensitizer of Dr. Leroy A. Harman of Columbia University was announced here Wednesday.

The committee was appointed by the first district dental society, to which Dr. Harlman announced his discovery a few days ago.

Inquiry whether the committee appointment meant that Dr. Hartman's desensitizer had failed brought the answer "No." Dr. R. W. Tench of the first district society said that in making his report Dr. Hartman, formerly of Victoria, B.C., specifically requested dentists to assist him in getting and comparing data on use of the desensitizer.

"There is need," Dr. Hartman said, "for further research. A new field lies before us."

The new preparation, Dr. Tench pointed out, was not offered as or intended as a substitute for novocaine. It is effective only on the part of the dentine treated with it.

Resume Trial Of Croat Terrorists

AIX-EN-PROVINCE, France, Feb. 6.—An array of evidence was marshalled by the prosecution Wednesday as the trial was resumed of three Croat terrorists on charges of plotting the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou in October, 1934.

The trial was adjourned last November when Georges Desbons, defence attorney, was disbarred on charges of adopting a threatening attitude toward the court. The prisoners are Mio Kralj, Zvonimir Pospechil and Ivan Rajlich.

42-YEAR-OLD ZOO ELEPHANT HASN'T FORGOTTEN FAVORITE PARK SPOTS AFTER 20 YEARS

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Alice, being an elephant, did not forget.

She broke out of her stall Tuesday in the New York zoological park and roamed over the park, revisiting scenes of 15 and 20 years ago. That was when the 42-year-old animal used to carry parties of children around the grounds.

The record of Alice's wanderings during the early hours of the morning was imprinted in the snow and it showed she filched a dozen loaves of bread from the park's cookhouse. Years ago, she used to be fed there.

Returning to the elephant house, she butted her head through a glass panel door. Zoo keepers pointed out that once, when Alice was practically a debutante, she became frightened and broke a lot of glass in the reptile house. Since, she has gone in for glass-breaking wherever she could because she liked the sound, the keepers said.

Zoo attendants explained that Alice left her stall because a sewer backed up and inundated the place with several inches of water.

When the elephant house was opened Tuesday morning Alice was found standing before a steam radiator.

SOCIAL CREDIT MEMBER HAS NO CULINARY AIMS

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—Although for 24 years he pleased prairie palates with culinary creations, John Charles Landeryou, Social Credit member for Calgary East, has no such ambitions so far as the house of commons is concerned.

Mr. Landeryou, designated on election ballots as a chef, is more interested in being named a member of the house committee on banking and commerce than the committee in charge of parliamentary restaurant and cafeteria.

Asked about the rule the Social Credit group of 17 members is likely to play in the new parliament, Mr. Landeryou described their chief task as one of publicity for the Social Credit plan before the Canadian public.

Born in Harriston, Ont., Mr. Landeryou went west in 1912. He operated a restaurant for some time in St. Louis, Mo., and then returned to take up duties as chef with a Calgary department store.

SIX NATIONS INDIANS THANK WHITE SPIRIT

ATKINS CORNERS, Ont., Feb. 6.—A bitter wind moaned mournfully in the eaves of Cayuga and Seneca longhouses on the Six Nations Indian reserve near Simcoe last night as the braves concluded the "Feast of the White Dog" with ceremonial dances and incantations.

Thermometers registered slightly below zero in keeping with the tradition the festival be observed on the coldest night of the year.

Custom demanded a pure white dog, "without blemish or spot," be sacrificed, but the Cayuga and Seneca medicine men could not find such an animal and dispensed with that part of the ceremony.

CANBERRA, Feb. 6.—Prime Minister James Lyons announced today that William Morris Hughes would re-enter the Australian cabinet as minister of repatriation.

Hughes resigned from the cabinet last November shortly after Australia voted to concur in League of Nations sanctions against Italy.

Announcing the return to the ministry of the former prime minister, Lyons said Hughes had written a letter in which he gave his assurance of unequivocal adherence to the sanctions policy of the government.

FRANCE PUSHES SECURITY PLEA

Copyright 1936, by Havas News Agency

PARIS, Feb. 6.—France last night pushed its plans for collective security far into the Balkans, storm-centre of much post-war diplomacy, in a series of important conferences with Yugoslav, Bulgarian and French statesmen.

Wednesday was pre-eminently "Balkan Day" in the succession of diplomatic conferences that have followed the talks begun in London among the statesmen who attended the funeral of King George.

Prince-Regent Paul of Yugoslavia received Nicholas Politis and Constantine Batolov, respective Greek and Bulgarian ministers at Paris. The latter, with Mme. Batolov, later gave a dinner at the Bulgarian Legation in honor of King Boris of Bulgaria, which was attended by Premier Sarraut and Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin.

RAP PLAN FOR CAPITALIZING 1935 DEFICIT

Suggestion of Mayor Clarke Leads to Storm Of Opposition

Suggestion by Mayor Jos. A. Clarke, K.C., on Wednesday night's special meeting of city council that the 1935 deficit of $142,000 on civic operations be capitalized, led to a storm of opposition by several councillors and the statement by Commissioner David Mitchell that such a step would be "financial suicide." The question was tabled for discussion at a later meeting.

Under existing provisions of Edmonton's charter the city is required to place a deficit occurring in one year in the following year's current estimates. This would mean that the $142,000 would be absorbed in the 1936 budget.

MAYOR OBJECTS

Mayor Clarke objected to such practice, claiming the city should seek a charter amendment empowering it to float a debenture issue covering the total 1935 deficit, which he gave as $275,000 for the city, with another $145,000 deficit budgetted for by the school board last year.

Objecting to such procedure, Ald. James East termed it a poor way of reducing the mill rate.

Through the medium of a debenture issue the deficit could be spread over a number of years, making the liability light for succeeding councils, the mayor claimed.

BUDGETTED FOR DEFICIT

At this point Ald. Margaret Crang reminded aldermen that the C. G. A. councillors had budgetted for a deficit last year.

"I for one opposed it," rejoined Ald. J. T. McCreath.

Strongly opposing capitalization of a deficit, Commissioner Mitchell said: "Who's going to buy those debentures? Don't let us get our wires crossed, gentlemen." He added that such a move was nothing short of "financial suicide."

Ald. McCreath and Ald. J. W. Fry looked upon the proposal as bad practice, but Ald. Guy Brittain remarked that all nations of the world were postponing their debts "and we must wake up to the situation."

Actress To Wed

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 6. — Mae Busch, 35, dark-haired motion picture actress, and Thomas Tate, 29, civil engineer, filed notice of intention to wed Wednesday. They said the wedding would take place Saturday. The actress is a native of Australia.

GAS MIXTURE IN MINE AIR

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Feb. 6.—Samples of air taken from the Coalhurst mine of Lethbridge Collieries Limited while the mine fan was running showed a highly explosive mixture of methane gas, District Mines Inspector J. B. de Hart of Lethbridge testified Wednesday before the judicial inquiry into the disaster of Dec. 9.

Sixteen miners were killed in a mysterious explosion at the Coalhurst mine, which officials and miners considered gasless.

Inspector de Hart told the inquiry under Mr. Justice H. W. Lunney that he had taken four samples of air from the mine Dec. 27 and sent them to Ottawa for analysis. The analysis report showed the quantity of methane gas in one sample was negligible, in another it was highly explosive and in the other two was so rich it was above the explosive limit.

Captains of rescue crews who entered the mine following the explosion were heard during the afternoon but little new evidence was obtained.

WELCOME HOME WINSOME FAY

FAY WRAY

It used to be that film players went to England for vacations. Now American stars go abroad to work in British films and return to the U. S. for relaxation as does Fay Wray, daughter of Alberta foothills, shown arriving in New York.

FARLEY RAPS LIBERTY BODY

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 6—In a sharply-worded attack on the American Liberty league, Chairman James A. Farley, of the Democratic National committee, last night termed that group "The centre and soul of the predatory powers."

Making not a single reference to Alfred E. Smith, who recently denounced the new deal before a league dinner, Farley labelled the league an "ally" of The Republican National committee. If allowed its way, he said, the league "would perpetuate the sorry business of the Mellons and the Morgans in refusing 75 per cent. of the people to the status of serfs."

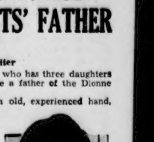

"The Liberty league," said Farley, "is the organization of those Bourbons who learn nothing and forget nothing. . . . It would rule America. It would squeeze the worker dry in his old age and cast him like an orange rind into the refuse pail."

ACTOR JOHN QUALEN SETS OUT TO LEARN HOW TO ACT LIKE QUINTUPLETS' FATHER

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 6—Actor John Qualen, who has three daughters of his own, has set out to learn how to act like a father of the Dionne quintuplets.

Partly because he was presumed to be an old, experienced hand, Qualen was selected for the part in a motion picture "featuring" the quints. All that remain to be made are scenes, being filmed here, showing Qualen as Papa Dionne in the days immediately before the five little girls of Callander were born.

WAS AWAY FROM HOME

"But," he confessed, "although I've got three children, I don't know how an expectant father acts. I was away from home at the birth of each of mine."

He was 3,000 miles from his New York home, on a vaudeville tour, when the first Miss Qualen made her appearance. The next time, he was "on the road" in a play. The third time, he was in Los Angeles, playing the Swedish janitor in "Street Scene."

TWO COACHES HIRED

"So how was I supposed to know what a fellow would feel like?"

He told Director Henry King about the situation, and two "coaches" were hired. One is a nurse, who outlined the actions of men waiting in the corridor outside. The other is a studio scenarist, who specializes in writing such scenes.

Oliva Wasn't Very Happy

CALLANDER, Ont., Feb. 6. — If actor John Qualen wishes to learn to act like the father of the Dionne quintuplets, he will not take the present feelings of Oliva Dionne in Hollywood scenes concerning the birth of the famous children as a guide, residents of this northern Ontario town advised today.

Early the morning of May 28, 1934, Oliva was anything but a happy man when informed his wife Elzire had given birth to five daughters—at the same time. With a heavy mortgage against his farm property, Dionne was prepared to care for one more to the family, but not for a ready numbered five, but the addition of five daughters made him despair.

PAPA WAS DEPRESSED

"I'm the kind of a guy they should put in jail," the depressed father said when questioned by the news reporter to arrive at the lonely house 2½ miles from here.

Now the father of the famous quintuplets is glad there were five babies instead of the one he expected, for he has gained considerable wealth, money and has seen a trust-fund built for the children which makes them independent for life.

REQUEST AID OF TROOPERS

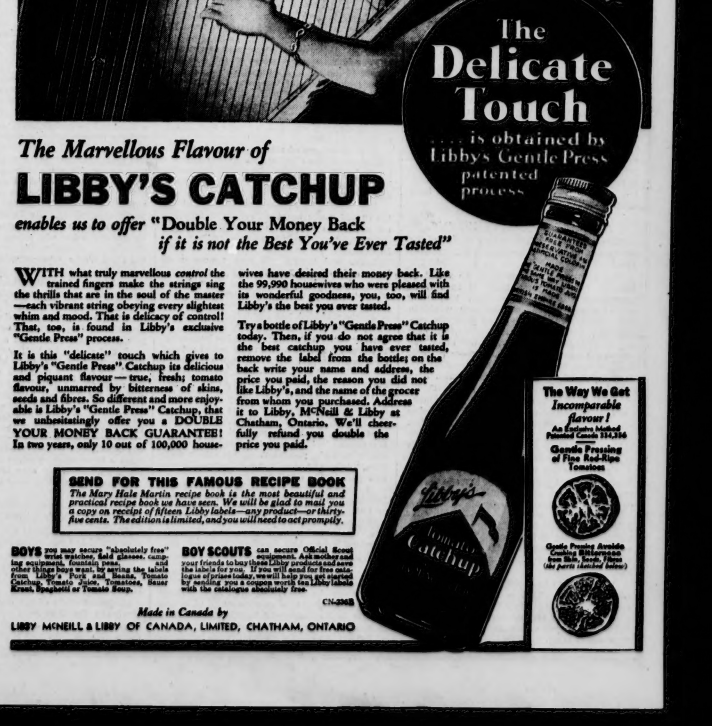

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 6. — National Guard aid was requested Wednesday by Sheriff Ralph Goar shortly after leaders of a general strike had completed a shut down of business activity in this city of 17,000 persons.

The sheriff telephoned state officials for guard reinforcements for his meagre band of officers—a force he admitted was incapable of coping with the 1,500 men who walked off their jobs Tuesday as 31 labor crafts swung behind disgruntled employees of the American Distilling company in their long drawn controversy over union recognition and other demands.

Four hundred Guardsmen, seven miles away at Peoria, needed only an order from adjutant general Carlos Black to combat the strike front which widened this afternoon to touch the two largest remaining plants in the city unaffected by the first general walkout of labor Tuesday.

More Water Supply

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 6. — The Rand Water Board is considering a recommendation that a loan of $5,250,000 be raised for the purpose of an additional water supply scheme.

THE "BACKWARD ONES"

The International Labor Office at Geneva reports that in all the countries for which figures are available, the numbers of those registered as unemployed are smaller than a year ago—with the exception of Bulgaria, France, the Netherlands and Switzerland.

These countries are die-hard adherents to the gold standard which the world has long since abandoned. They are paying the price in lost markets and unemployment for their fidelity to a lost cause; hoping vainly that the nations will some day return to the ancient superstition.

Apparently the rulers of these countries have forgotten the story of King Midas—starving because he wanted to turn everything he touched into gold.

NO GROUND FOR EXEMPTION

A Calgary alderman wants the city to bill the Provincial Government for taxes on the property occupied there by the liquor control branch and the provincial telephone system.

Edmonton's council should take parallel action, and invite the Government to pay, as any private concern would have to pay, on the property where its liquor sales store is operated.

A kind of argument—pretty thin and unconvincing—can be made that the Government should be free of city taxes in respect of property not used for revenue-producing purposes. Since the vendor's branch is run for profit, and is making richer profits than any other business enterprise, there is no shadow of reason why it should not pay.

STILL OUT OF BALANCE

The claim is made, and is probably true, that some debtors have taken advantage of the Agricultural Industry Stabilization Act and the Debt Adjustment Act, and have not tried to pay their debts.

Against which it may be claimed with truth that some creditors have, in the absence of such legislation, exacted the last penny that could be wrung from honest but unfortunate debtors, turned them on to the road and left them to drift into relief lines.

These Acts, which may be faulty in many particulars, were not passed to shield dishonest debtors but to curb rapacious creditors; and were passed because it was believed to be necessary to curb them. The hope behind the restraining laws was that if debts were carried as they stood for a time, conditions would improve and leave both parties in much the same position as when the depression tightened down.

The times have not improved to that extent yet, and show little sign of reaching the much to be desired state of balance until interest rates are brought down into line with reduced farm earnings.

ALBERTA'S UNIVERSITY

There are 1673 students taking courses at the University this year, more than in any previous year.

The continuing depression is no doubt in measure responsible for that. If hard times have kept many students away, they have caused others to take courses who would in other circumstances have found profitable employment and gone out into business from high school. Balancing one against the other, the University has probably gained more students than it lost; which may be set down as one good result of adverse conditions which have few other claims to credit.

A notable fact is the steadily growing number of students who come to Varsity from other provinces and from points outside the Dominion. This is a measure of the University's value. It holds a high place in the estimation of people outside the province.

Universities are common in these days, and financial reasons urge a student to go to the one nearest his home, usually in his own province or state. When he must go far afield he naturally goes where he thinks the facilities are good and where graduation gives one an assured standing among college men. The University of Alberta evidently has those qualifications, since it is drawing outside students in larger numbers.

Edmonton, to its credit, supplies 40 per cent of the students. That is a high per centage, even for a "college town." Edmonton young people, and their parents, appreciate the advantages that are thus within reach, and are making good use of them.

FIND THE FACTS

A rayon manufacturing concern at Sherbrooke, Quebec, turned its employees into the street and padlocked its doors in protest against the resumption of trade relations with Japan.

Ottawa announced it would investigate the affairs of the company, and find out whether Japanese competition would really prevent it carrying on at a profit, or whether the company was only bluffing.

The company promptly unlocked the doors and called its employees back to work. It was bluffing.

The investigation should go right ahead, as though the doors were still barred and the employees on the street. Government investigators should go through the concern with a fine toothed comb, from its capital set-up to its selling prices. Its capitalization, its equipment, its methods, its profits, should all be brought under review and the facts disclosed.

This industry has been sheltered under a protective tariff running up to 148 per cent. If it can't do business without subsidies of that magnitude it would be cheaper to buy the plant, lock it up permanently, distribute its employees in other lines of work, and let the consuming public buy rayon at one price instead of two and a half. But it evidently can do business without so much "pap," because it has decided to carry on rather than have the facts examined.

The curse of excessive protection is that the favored ones come to think it is a right, and not a favor at all, that they should be allowed to exploit the public. It is time to correct that notion in a good many quarters, and there could not be any better place to start. This concern was petted and pampered until it got to think it should run the tariff policy of the country, as Japan wanted to run the naval policies of the other Powers at London. It is due for a good hard jolt.

Editorial: There is just one man in Canada, a resident of the North West Territories, who by long experience, by well proven ability, by having secured the respect and confidence of every class and race throughout the territories, wherever his name is known, and by the various positions he has already held, is thoroughly fitted to discharge the duties of lieutenant governor and Indian Commissioner during the next four years—be they as critical as they may —to unravel the crooked Indian policy that has been pursued and lay down a new policy that shall serve as a standard for the future. It is to be hoped that the government will see its way around all "political exigencies" to appoint Col. Jas. F. M. MacLeod our next lieutenant governor and Indian commissioner.

School report: The number of days on which the public school was kept open during the past year was 193. The total number of children attending school during the period was 84; of which 48 were boys and 36 girls. The average age of the children attending school was 9 1-2 years. The average daily attendance throughout the year was 38. The branches of education taught were reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, dictation, spelling, history and grammar. The pupils are divided into four divisions or forms, and these again into junior and senior subdivisions. Reading, writing and arithmetic are taught to the pupils in the junior and senior subdivisions of the first form. Reading, writing and arithmetic and easy lessons in geography to the pupils in the second form. Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography and spelling to the pupils in the third form. Reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, dictation and spelling to the junior subdivision of the fourth form and the same with the addition of history and grammar to the senior subdivision. The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Today marks a milestone in the history of Alberta—perhaps in the history of western civilization. It is the day on which the first Social Credit government in history meets in legislative assembly. This loyal subject in all sincerity hopes that the government may be able to fulfil its promises to the uttermost. Then, the present legislative session will become not merely a milestone in the history of Alberta, but a milestone in world progress.

J. S. Cowper

No one must look for any sensational development today or for several days at least. Today will be taken up with pomp and ceremony —the arrival of his Honor the Lieutenant Governor in cocked hat and gold-braided Windsor coat, with military outriders to his carriage, the fire of cannon and the crimson and gold Mounted police with swords and revolvers. The ceremony in the Chamber will repeat the solemn refusal of his Honor to enter the Chamber until a Speaker has first been appointed whom he can recognize as the mouthpiece of the Assembly, the reading of the Speech from the Throne—prepared for him by the government in which he will congratulate the government, and refer in solemn terms to the death of his late Majesty and the accession of Edward the Eighth.

We shall have to wait a day or two for the new government to get into its stride and settle down to the real business of the session.

Some folk point to the circumstances that the government with all its 53 members in a House of 62, lacks any who have had previous legislative experience. They think this may prove a handicap. If the government lacked direction, it would but with a dominant personality like the Premier as House leader, it is more likely to lead to business-like despatch of business.

Everyone will remember the last session of the House. I have particular reason for recalling it: I spent a good part of each day in the Press Gallery. The trouble with the 1935 House was not a lack of experienced members but a super-abundance of them. With several opposing groups, each larger than the present Opposition, and each member with many years of Legislative experience behind him, the Order Paper was cluttered up with questions, motions and demands for returns of documents to the House.

On the government side were nearly two score experienced debaters, all ready to ask counter-questions, debate motions and scan demands for returns. While debate on legislation is of paramount importance, the last House spent most of its time discussing motions and resolutions with little relation to legislation, but often introduced for party political purposes.

With his legislative program all worked out, his followers well in hand and overwhelming voting power behind him, Premier Aberhart will be in a position to show other Legislatures in Canada how a Legislature should be conducted. There should be a minimum of superfluous talk and a maximum of legislative action. He has the voting power to do anything he wants within the legal ambit of the province. No doubt he will exercise it to bring to pass the particular reforms he has advocated, for the fulfilment of which he was placed in power with the biggest majority in the history of the province.

No premier before him has been so fortunately situated, with the press and the public of the province almost solidly behind him, Ottawa teeming millions in his lap to relieve him of his financial problems, and 56 out of a House of 62 ready to do his bidding.

Two young economists, Clark Foreman and Michael Ross, have contributed in story form a primer on latter-day economics under the title of "The Consumer Seeks a Way." If you want an easy way to view the various view-points and nostrums of the depression years, Foreman and Clark have made it easy for you.

It is all about the efforts of John Littleman, a dismissed bank clerk, searching out the causes and the remedy of the depression which closed the doors of the bank which worked for, and put him near the tail-end of the bread line. He goes to see his old and amiable professor of economics, who thinks it all comes from United States forfeiting her position as a debtor nation and that things will right themselves after some years of suffering. He hears a young Communist soap-boxing and attends the meetings; he sits at the feet of a young radical professor. From a job cutting weeds on a golf course for the Civil Works Administration, he finally becomes clerk in the office of the CWA local administrator. The administrator had taken the job because his mass-production radio factory was closed down.

So on he goes on this modern Pilgrim's Progress, with his bright young wife and their young son. He is knocked a little goofy after reading a speech by Matthew Woll, vice-president of the A. F. of L. to be visited by an agent of Mr. Woll's life insurance company, seeking his name on the dotted line of a policy application. He can't see how Mr. Woll can be a labor leader and a president of a life insurance company, with millions to invest, at the same time slowly he wakens to the fact that most of the "planning" is being done for the producers, while the consumer is ignored.

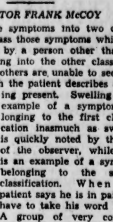

He gets his first insight into the possibilities of a technocrat state while working as Assistant to the General Office Manager of the Tennessee Valley Authority. There too he gets his first disillusionment of the simple life on a farm as a remedy for the depression when he and his wife are stormbound and have to stay overnight in a shack with the half-starved and disease-ridden brood of a Tennessee hill-billy.

After tapping life at many of its economic sources we leave John Littleman, still working as a New Deal reliefer, organizing the consumers for political action. He is in the grip of a far-off vision, not too clearly defined, of something that looks like a Technocratic State. The modern pilgrim is out of the Slough of Despond and on his way to the Celestial City.

Ear Noises May Prove Troublesome

By DOCTOR FRANK McCOY

Doctors divide symptoms into two classes, putting in one class those symptoms which are reading observed by a person other than the patient and putting into the other class those symptoms which others are unable to see, hear or feel, but which the patient describes as being present. Swelling is an example of a symptom belonging to the first classification inasmuch as swelling is quickly noted by the eye of the observer, while pain is an example of a symptom belonging to the second classification. When the patient says he is in pain, we have to take his word for it. A group of very common symptoms belonging in the second classification is the group included under the heading of ear noises. Patients with ear noises may describe various kinds of ringing, buzzing, whirring, murmuring and roaring sounds. The type most frequently reported is similar to a dull roar. Ear noises are not apparent to others and the patient is the only one who hears them.

Dr. F. McCoy

Ear noises may occur in one ear alone or may occur in both ears. They may be present only once in a while or may bother the patient continuously. Unquestionably they cause the patient a great deal of mental distress. It is not unusual for the patient to spend considerable sums of money in a vain attempt to banish these disturbing and annoying noises in the ears. Sometimes the patient says that the noises are absent early in the day when he is tested but inevitably return when he becomes tired.

The medical term used to describe these various sounds is tinnitus aurium and they may accompany high blood pressure; chronic catarrh of the middle ear and other forms of ear disease; migraine headache; anemia; neurasthenia; or may be caused by the pressure of wax on the ear drum. Once in a while, ringing sounds are produced by the taking of quinine. However, the two chief causes are high blood pressure and an excess of mucus within the ear due to catarrh.

The immediate irritation which produces the throbbing noise is due generally either to high blood pressure or to an accumulation of catarrhal mucus. Whether the symptom is caused by blood pressure or mucus pressure, the patient actually has something which is irritating the nerve of hearing.

In a large proportion of the cases coming under my observation, the patient has been able to reduce the annoyance caused by ear noises through following a fasting and dieting regimen and in many cases the use of a right diet and other right habits has brought about a lasting disappearance of the symptom. I have received reports by mail of many patients who were greatly helped in the same way, which further strengthens my belief that relief from ear noises can be had.

Inasmuch as roaring in the ears is very commonly present as one of the earlier symptoms in those disorders which lead to deafness it is important that treatment be undertaken to return the ear to normal before deafness intervenes. During the time that you neglect tinnitus or ringing in the ears, you may be slowly growing more and more deaf.

I strongly suggest that those of you who have ear noises, send for my article on the subject, which you may obtain by writing to me and enclosing ten cents and one large self-addressed envelope. The article will provide you with further information which I trust you will find helpful. I also suggest that at the same time, you ask for some general dietetic suggestions, as it is frequently found that the patient with ear noises has been following an unsuitable diet which has caused a digestive disturbance. The digestive interference will in turn induce a tendency to catarrhal inflammation of the nose which spreads up to the middle ear by way of the Eustachian tube. The middle ear must be rightfully considered as an accessory cavity of the nose and catarrh of the nose may easily affect the middle ear by simply extending along the tube which connects them.

Poems That Live

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

—John McCrae.

SIDE GLANCES—By George Clark

"You kids get back to your studies. You promised to keep up with your class, if we brought you along."

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

Unless something unforeseen happens Pierre Francois Casgrain, M.P. for Charlevoix-Saguenay, will today be elected Speaker of the new House of Commons—elected because, although a nominee of the ministry, his selection was made by the House itself, a formality since the ministerial majority is large enough to overcome any opposition even if it were proposed. That is wherein the commons differs from the senate, where the Speaker is a nominee of the ministry, a wise constitutional provision not thought of by the Fathers, since there is now a tremendous Conservative majority in the upper house, which could, if it wished, defeat any government proposition.

Mr. Casgrain, who was born at Montreal in 1886, comes of one of the oldest families in Quebec, one which has given sons to both church and state. He has been a member of the commons since 1917 and chief Liberal whip. He will be the eighth Quebec M.P. to occupy the Speaker's chair. Ontario has also had eight, while Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba and Yukon have each had one member as first commoner. The record is:

Hon. James Cockburn (Ontario), 1867-74; Hon. T. W. Anglin (New Brunswick), 1874-78, Hon. J. G. Blanchet (Quebec), 1879-92; Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick (Ontario), 1883-87; Hon. J. Ald. Ouimet (Quebec), 1887-91; Hon. Peter White (Ontario), 1891-96; Hon. (later Sir) James Lougheed (Ontario), 1896-99; Hon. Thomas Bain (Ontario), 1899-1900; Hon. L. P. Prodour (Quebec), 1901-04; Hon. N. A. Belcourt (Ontario), 1904; Hon. R. F. Sutherland (Ontario), 1905-08; Hon. Charles Marcil (Quebec), 1908-11; Hon. T. S. Sproule (Ontario), 1911-15; Hon. Albert Sevigny (Quebec), 1916-17; Hon. F. N. Rhodes, Nova Scotia), 1917-21; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux (Quebec), 1921-30; Hon. George Black (Yukon), 1930-35, and Hon. James Bowman (Manitoba), 1935.

As Mr. Casgrain is French-speaking he will be the first deputy Speaker will be from one of the English provinces. Like the Speaker he will be elected by the House, on the motion of the Prime Minister.

The Mail Bag

GOVERNMENTAL EFFICIENCY?

Editor Bulletin: This is the limit. I can stand it no longer. I just got to give somebody Hail-Columbia.

For nearly four months now I have had toothache. At first I did not take it seriously. But it persisted, not every day of course, only most of the time. Finally I went to the provincial outdoor clinic. You see, I am one of those unlucky ones that have had next thing to no income for five years, been on partial relief for three years as a transient.

Nurse Young promptly arranged for a date at the University hospital for my wife and myself, as we both needed some teeth extracted and some repaired, subject to approval by the relief department. This was Jan. 4th. On Monday the 6th, a friendly clerk of the department referred me to a superior officer, who in turn took me to Gould. I believe is the name. According to this gentleman, I had to go and see Mr. Brown, secretary of Strathcona M.D., as I had lived there about five or six months. The department had no funds for fixing teeth—I am not sure if it had any for mere extractions.

So I visited Mr. Brown. He could not act without the consent of councillors. Council would not meet next Friday. At the appointed time I appeared. My letter of explanation was read; questions were asked. Then one of the councillors duly moved, "That we do not consider the case." His wife needed her teeth fixed too and I presume he inferred that they could not afford it either. So that's that. I did not feel like fighting the case with the M.D. The ratepayers had not asked me to come and live amongst them. They did not really owe me anything, nor I to them. The superior governments do.

Back to the clinic I went on Jan. 15. Could I arrange for extractions without so much redtape? We were willing to let the repairs-work but even at that an order was needed from somewhere. So I phoned to Mr. Scholefield of the relief department, as I know him quite well. I had better come to the office again. There I was met in a rather dry official manner. I presume it would not do to be too friendly to a reliefer. Possibly one might lose a job if he showed too much sympathy. He would refer me to Mr. Brown and let me know by mail. I am still looking for the mail.

Today is Feb. 4. Again my teeth remind me in no uncertain manner that all is not well. By this time I had been twice at the clinic, twice at the relief department, twice at the M.D. office, a total of about fifty miles walking. My patience is at an end. There is a society for the protection of animals against cruelty by men, but there seems to be none to look after man's inhumanity to man. Overworked - tape and buck-passing. To me it is not a question of who is going to pay the bill, but of how to get rid of or repair our decaying teeth. I would gladly pay for it myself if this world had sense enough to engage me at work with a little spare time in it.

I am going out today to see if I can find a dentist kind-hearted enough to do the job first, and see where the money is to come from after. And I am going to try to give this sort of thing a little publicity. It may not do me any good, but may help someone in the future. Why should we suffer for weeks and months until hard-boiled officials can decide who is going to pay the bill?

PROSPECTOR.

Current Comment

"THE GREAT BETRAYAL!"

Yesterday was the seventh anniversary of the senate vote approving, with one dissenting voice, our ratification of the Kellogg Pact for the renunciation of war "as an instrument of national policy." This neglect of the Kellogg Pact anniversary is not accidental. It is symptomatic of a profound change in American policy, the significance of which will gradually become bitterly apparent. The United States is abandoning co-operation in order to pursue a course of action not merely to frustrate peace efforts elsewhere, but also to make this country inevitably militaristic. By one of the most profound ironies of history such a policy is being forced by men who denounce our participation in the last war, and a multitude of them led by misguided pacifists who believe that denial of realities will of itself assure peace.—Washington Post.

Sunshine Shafts

"Heads we have a drink, Tails we don't, we said and there it is tails. What'll we do, George?"

"Don't be silly—Toss the coin again."

"Ever hear the story about the pair of tights?"

"No, spill it."

Once there was two Scotchmen—

Visitor (at private hospital)—"Can I see Lieutenant Barker, please?"

Matron—"We do not allow ordinary visiting. May I ask if you're a relative?"

Visitor (boldly)—"Oh, yes! I'm his sister."

Matron—"Well, well! I'm very glad to meet you. I'm his mother."

Of This World So Passeth The Glory

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

Shipping annuals give prominence to the fact that as a result of the Cunard and White Star amalgamation, a substantial fleet of trans-Atlantic vessels has been turned over to the ship-breakers. Vessels of magnificent proportions, full-powered, equipped with every comfort and many luxuries, still strong, fast and seaworthy, and not so long ago regarded as great trophies of human achievement, they have had to be scrapped because the public taste in travel has changed.

The vessels are the Mauretania, Adriatic, Albertic, Calgaric, Doric, Homeric, Laurentic, Olympic, and Majestic. As a spare vessel the Majestic may be kept ready for use a while longer, but her regular operation has ended. At least fifty million dollars has vanished.

The only two White Star liners surviving are the motorships Georgic and Brittanic. By some strange sidewind in public taste passengers prefer motorships to steamships; and the Georgic and Brittanic run, with full lists in competition with larger, faster steam vessels running with only partial passenger lists.

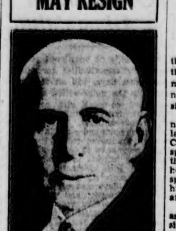

It may be due to the general familiarity with the automobile engine on land, and the record of smooth, effortless transport by motor. Passengers may have come to believe that motor success on land will be duplicated on the water. Whatever the reason the fact is that passengers want motorships; and the effort to get them to travel by steamship involves costs of construction and operation which can never be covered by earnings. The Queen Mary and the Normandie may be run at public cost for a few years, but when the taxpayer gets tired, there will be two more examples of the passing of the Glory of this World.

Travel between Europe and America is still on a skeleton basis, as compared with pre-war years. In the first ten months of 1935 the total passenger traffic handled was slightly less than 450,000 people—the principal lines sharing as follows:

Cunard-White Star	122,500
Canadian Pacific	49,600
French Line	49,000
North German Lloyd	66,000
Hamburg-American	42,000
United States Lines	38,000

Unclassified lines carried the balance. The profit element was absent.

HIGH JUSTICE MAY RESIGN

The latest portrait in robes of Justice Willis van Devanter, who may soon resign from the U. S. supreme court. His resignation would change the set-up of the supreme court, where he usually aligned himself on the conservative side. Five to four decisions have occurred frequently. Should President Roosevelt appoint a liberal, his New Deal policies would have a better chance of being upheld, according to all observers.

STATES WRITER LAUDS PREMIER FOR SINCERITY

Forest Davis, feature writer of the Scripps-Howard newspapers of the United States interviewed Premier William Aberhart on Wednesday and came away praising the sincerity of the government leader.

Mr. Davis, who is here to witness the opening of the first legislature in the world where a Social Credit government has held office, spent a few moments chatting with the Premier at the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday evening and then spent nearly an hour interviewing him at his office on Wednesday afternoon.

On coming away Mr. Davis, asked to comment on his impressions of the Premier and the conversation, said "I have seen Mr. Aberhart on several occasions and have been impressed with him as a thoughtful and capable leader. Also I have been impressed with his evident sincerity. He is a thoughtful man, who has some ideas which he thinks will benefit Alberta people and which he feels confident he can carry out."

Mr. Davis expects to spend several days here prior to returning east, he will sit in on several sittings of the house and will study the Social Credit situation so that he can apply its practices to a study of the Townsend plan which will loom large in the next U.S. election.

Small Town Girl

THE STORY THUS FAR

After leaving Wellesley, Kay Brannan obtains a position as advertising assistant. She enters a mad whirl of gaiety, confiding to her roommate, Genevieve, that she will never return to uneventful Carvel. She sees a great deal of Dane Ripley who is not "the marrying kind." When her boss taxes her with neglecting her job she quits in a fury and goes to a yachting party with Dane. To escape his violent lovemaking, she leaves in a passing rowboat, manned by Bob Dakin, a medical doctor who is engaged to Priscilla Ryde. Motoring back to Boston he drunkenly insists that they get married. After the ceremony they sleep in the car all night but next morning Bob awakens and remembers nothing.

CHAPTER XIX

"I'M Kay Brannan," she told him.

He considered thoughtfully. "Oh yes," he assented. "I've heard of you. You live with Genevieve, don't you? Work for Chick Rantoul?" His eyes twinkled faintly. "Good morning, Miss Brannan," he said.

"Good morning!"

"Now go on from there," he urged. She made no further move to leave him, and he opened the door of the car. "Sit down and tell me the latest from the front," he suggested. "I'll have to get somewhere to pull out of here by and by, but I'd like to get my bearings first."

Kay, still standing by the car, asked desperately: "Don't you remember anything?"

He stared at her, frowning hard. "Wait a minute," he whispered. "Wait a minute." The color drained out of his cheek. "You're Jeff!" he said accusingly.

"You called me that. last night," she admitted.

His eyes belated curiously. "Genevieve calls you that," he said. "She's Mutt and you're Jeff. And you—you were in the boat last night. You and Cissie!"

"Yes." She watched him fixedly.

"Give me a lead," he urged. "Give a man a break, won't you?"

"I asked you to take me ashore so I could get a train for Boston," she reminded him. "You insisted on driving me to Boston." And she said: "We got lost!"

His eyes widened; then set hard and cold; and she saw sudden recollection in them.

"You remember now, don't you?" she begged appealingly.

He said through stiff lips: "I remember now! Unless I'm still drunk. Minton Green? And the old J. P. with whiskers."

"Yes," she whispered.

He nodded. "Oh yes." he said in a dry distaste. "I remember now! There was silence for a long time. The day was young and green, and a cow lowed, up the hill across the stream. On the road above them a car went hissing by.

He pressed his hands to his brow. "Let me be sure I've—got this straight," he said slowly, painfully. "As I remember it, we waked up this old man and he—married us. Is that right?"

She could not answer in words; but when he looked at her, she nodded slowly.

He continued to watch her, considering each feature of her countenance appraisingly; and at last, with a sudden energy, he exclaimed:

"Look here, Miss Brannan, you seem like a pretty nice sort of a girl. Genevieve says you're a great kid!" Kay shook her head, helplessly; and he rubbed his eyes with his hands, sat up straight. "Why did you let me do it?" he asked, forward curiosity. "I know I was not accusingly, but with a slight drunk." He grinned ruefully. "Cooked as a mink! But—were you drunk too?"

"I knew what we were doing," she confessed, honestly. "I wasn't too drunk for that."

His eyes narrowed, but he only said with a remote courtesy: "I'm afraid I've got you into a dirty mess."

Her color glowed for a moment. "You're—sweet to say that," she said. "But it wasn't your fault. I might have—stopped it."

"Why didn't you?" he asked, not accusingly, but with an almost impersonal curiosity.

And when she did not speak, he urged again: "Get in here. No need of standing there. Get in here and sit down. We've got to face this together, I'll have to know all about it. Tell me as much as you remember, please."

She obeyed him, that is to say, she got in the car and sat beside him, looking straight ahead. "I don't suppose I can make you see," she confessed.

"Try," he urged. He said grimly: "I've done a lot of rotten things, but this tops them all. If you were Cissie Means, I wouldn't be so sure it was my fault. She'd grab any man, if she got a chance. But you're not that kind!"

"I'm as bad as she," Kay told him, sick with self-reproach.

He shook his head insistently. "No. If you were, it would show on you, as it does on Cissie. No, you're not that kind. But—what happened, Miss Brannan? Try and tell me."

She said, half to herself: "I think I was crazy." Faced him again, resolutely honest. "But I'd do it again, right now," she admitted.

"Marry me?" he echoed in a dark amazement.

"Yes."

"But why?" he insisted. "I'm not so much. I never met you before. You don't know me. Certainly you're not in love with me. And you know this sort of thing isn't good stuff. It's so hard to live down."

"I know it," she agreed.

He touched her arm. "Tell me," he urged. "What's the answer?"

She tried, honestly, to explain. "I don't suppose any man can understand," she said groupingly. "But—it starts with my sister Emily. She came to Wellesley, and she's wonderful, and I thought she'd do wonderful things, marry a fine man, and so on. We live in Carvel, New Hampshire. But after college she just—went home and married the grocer there. Then my father lost his job, and I had to go to work, and then I lost my job. And—I was—sort of desperate! Carvel was like something terrible, hanging over me. I was ready to anything, as long as I didn't have to go home."

He watched her, and she said briefly: "Dane Ripley asked me down here on a yachting party, and I came. And then—I had to get away from him, and you came by in the rowboat. She was silent, as though this were all.

After a moment Bob said, half hesitantly: "It doesn't make sense to me! What's wrong with Carvel, and grocers?"

She shook her head. "No man can understand," she admitted. "I don't really : understand, myself. It—it's just that I have to get away. If you sounded pretty grand, and when you insisted last night that we get married . . ." She hesitated. "Oh, I tried to stop you," she said. "At least I went through the motions." She smiled, especially. "But I guess I didn't try very hard. You see, I wanted to marry you—or somebody—so much."

"Well, you're honest about it, anyway!"

Kay told you last night how it was with me," she insisted. "And I told you that if you married me, I'd love it. I've got to!"

Bob's brows lifted. "I see," he remarked, in a sardonic tone. Then he said, half to himself: "Well, you must have been hard up for a husband, to pick me!" There was a grim mirth in his tones. "I expect you hadn't heard my latest exploit," he decided, and explained in grim self-disgust. "I was called to do an emergency appendix yesterday afternoon, and the hospital superintendent wouldn't let me operate because I was drunk. She sent for the chief instead! I'm probably on the street myself, right now!"

Pain was in her eyes. "I'm—sorry," she said.

He looked at her thoughtfully. "You knew I was engaged, didn't you?" he asked. "Genevieve must have told you."

Kay nodded, and he laughed again, in a helpless way. "I don't get you," he said. "You seem like a nice kid, and yet you've acted like a—moving picture vampire!"

"I don't get myself," she agreed wistfully.

"It's a mess!" he reflected. He sat still, looking at the water which flowed so calmly past their wheels. And at last he stirred.

"Well," he said. "No use sitting here. I'll hail a car send for help, get this boat back on the road. I guess it will run all right." He tried the starter, and the engine responded readily enough. He switched it off again. "We didn't go in deep enough to wet anything. You ready to go?"

She nodded obediently and he scrambled up the bank and departed. Kay was left for a long time alone. When he returned, she had not moved at all. She heard a car slow on the road above her, and then men's voices; and she looked up and saw Bob and a garage mechanic.

Bob called down to her: "You'd better get out. The car might upset, when he hauls it up the bank!" Kay obeyed him. She climbed to the level and stood by the elm, watching while they affixed a chain to the rear axle. The service truck backed into position; and after some maneuvering, the roadster was safe on the road again. Bob directed briefly: "You can get in now!" She saw him deal with the grinning mechanic; then he came to climb into the seat beside her.

A car approached and slowed down and someone shouted, "Hey, Bob!" Kay saw countenances vaguely familiar. But Bob, without replying, meshed his gears, his eyes straight ahead, and they leaped away toward Boston.

Kay asked no questions, but Bob said at last, under his breath:

"We'll go to my home. But I hate to think what my father will say!"

Kay did not speak; and thereafter no word passed between them till Bob stopped the car before Dr. Dakin's house on Beacon Hill.

To be Continued

Now that Kay and Bob have been married in the "tabloid" manner what are they to do? How will Bob explain to his fiancee? Will the Dakins order Kay out of their house? Be sure to read tomorrow's thrilling installment.

DELICATE SURGICAL WORK PERFORMED BY DOCTOR ON LONELY FARM AT WARDLOW

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 6.—The story of a former University of Western Ontario student, who performs delicate surgical operations at his farm home, in a lonely part of Alberta, and who mingles the divergent professions of medicine and farming, is contained in the current issue of the Alumni Association bulletin of Western's medical school.

He is Dr. Winfred G. Anderson, graduate of the class of '04, and his interests in his large rural practice are widespread.

In the farm home near Wardlow, where he lives, he has equipped an operating room. There he performs emergency operations when there is not the time or the means to move his patients to the nearest city hospital.

Province Issues Handsome Booklet On Butter Awards

Under the direction of the provincial dairy commissioner, J. R. Sweeny, a handsome souvenir booklet has been prepared summarizing the total prize winnings of Alberta buttermakers during the last year.

A total of 570 prizes were won at 10 of the largest Canadian exhibitions, compared with 331 prizes won in 1934, which indicates the progress made during the last year. When it is remembered that much of this butter had to be shipped by express during the warm summer months, to Toronto, Ottawa and other points, it merits even greater attention than is generally accorded when prizes are announced.

Special prizes at the Vancouver exhibition and the silver medal at the Toronto Exhibition are outstanding features of Alberta awards.

In the exhibitors' contest, a silver cup has been donated by the agricultural department and $100 in cash is being donated by the Alberta Dairymen's Association to the 10 exhibitors having the highest standing. These prizes will be presented during the coming dairy convention at the Macdonald hotel on February 11, 12 and 13.

Plans Completed For Underwriters Congress Feb. 14

Jack Marshall, recently elected president of the Edmonton Life Underwriter's Association, announces that plans have been completed for the annual Life Underwriter's Congress. The Congress is to be held in the Macdonald hotel, February 14.

The executive is following the successful procedure used last year. All speakers are to be men well versed in present day conditions in western Canada.

A luncheon will be held during the noon recess at which John Blue will be the guest speaker. Other guest speakers will include J. W. Glenwright, managing director of the Commercial Life; C. C. Ferguson, general manager of the Great West Life; Victor B. Harris, assistant superintendent of Agencies, for the Sun Life; Dr. G. W. Hardy and E. A. Corbett of the University of Alberta.

Local insurance men who will address the congress are: W. H. Stevens of the London Life; E. L. Churchill, Continental Life; Ken. Dixon, Monarch Life; Miles Palmer, Sun Life, and Louis Bierwagen of the Metropolitan, and Bill Mathews of the Mutual Life of Canada.

Two Saskatchewan Farmers Honored

REGINA, Feb. 6 — Two Saskatchewan men, farmers in the province for a quarter-century or more, were honored at the annual dinner of the Saskatchewan Dairy Association last night.

They were Joseph Stringer, Grenfell, who was presented with the Master Farmer medal of the "Nor'-West Farmer," of Winnipeg by its editor, L. T. Chapman; and John A. Thomson, veteran Moose Jaw dairyman, who was presented with a scroll by P. Reed, secretary of the Dairy Association.

OBTAIN MONEY IN ENGLAND IN EXCHANGE FOR WHEAT TO REFUND SCHOOL DEBTS, PLAN

CALGARY, Feb. 6.—Refunding at or lower than can be obtained in Canada as wheat can be exchanged as payment from Alberta."

Restoration of government grants to the 1921 basis of $1 a day for each room in rural schools and $4 a day for each room in high schools was asked in another resolution favored by delegates. It urged, that all grants be paid according to the legally authorized teaching period of 200 days.

Other successful resolutions asked:

That mutually satisfactory agreements between teachers and boards be binding without interference by the Department of Education;

That where districts could not pay arrears and current salaries the government pay these and charge them to the school districts;

For the right to assess grazing lands for school purposes; and

For adequate grants and support for school fairs.

Black And Purple Gowns Of Mourning Glittered With Gems, At Opening

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—Scintillating jewels loaned brilliance to the opening of parliament today and in some way made up for the lack of color in the gowns of the women which has in the past lent this function a splendor of its own. The gowns worn were black and according to official mourning regulations, but diamonds gleamed from the folds of velvet and satin, pearls relieved the sombre hue of black chiffon and crepe.

Miss Agnes MacPhail, member for Grey-Bruce, was in black velvet; Mrs. George Black, member for the Yukon, chose a simple dress of black crepe with bands of sealskin on the short jacket.

National Home For Drama Is Actress Hope

CALGARY, Feb. 6.—The hope that the formation of a national theatre would be the ultimate outcome of the provincial dramatic festivals in Canada was expressed here today by Margaret Sieveking, English actress, and wife of Alan Wade, adjudicator for the festivals this year. The Calgary festival opens Thursday night.

"The people of Canada are evincing such a great interest in things dramatic," she said.

Fort Edmonton Chapter Pledges New Allegiance

As the anniversary of the founding of the Fort Edmonton Chapter I. O. D. E. will be celebrated on Thursday, February 13, members of the unit were very interested in a paper on the life and accomplishments of the founder, Mrs. Clarke Murray, which was given by Mrs. I. J. Johnston at the annual meeting in the Macdonald this week.

Mrs. Marshall

Following one minute of silence in tribute to the memory of His late Majesty, King George, members took the oath of allegiance to King Edward VIII.

Over $1,500 were raised during the year and all but $6 disbursed again in donations to soldiers' work, Cancer Jubilee Fund, Countess of Bessborough Fund, Stewart Endowment Fund, child welfare work, William Fraser Scholarship Fund, Charles Palmer Fund, Kaiser-i-Hind Chapter, Navy League, Y. W. C. A. child welfare class, Not Forgotten Fund, and Christmas hampers. This is the record of the chapter for 1936.

The list of philanthropic activities also includes a party for soldiers in the University hospital, a Christmas party for children in the Y. W. C. A. welfare class, and a party for over 65 of the blind, and presentation of eleven prizes to high school students in the city high schools who excelled in Canadian and British history and in literature. Five hundred dollars were raised in a campaign for the blind.

Social affairs had also been extensive in 1935. Monthly bridge parties were held at the homes of the members, and a fashion show was sponsored at the Hudson Bay Company store. Mrs. I. J. Johnston arranged lectures on different phases of Empire study, and Mrs. T. H. Field recounted to members the story of the Silver Jubilee celebration in London.

MRS. MARSHALL IS REGENT

Mrs. R. C. Marshall, O.B.E., who for many years has guided the life of the Fort Edmonton unit, is regent for another term. Flowers were presented to Mrs. Marshall, to the secretary, Mrs. A. E. Anderson, and to the treasurer, Mrs. H. G. Curry, and sincere appreciation was also voiced for the work of the retiring educational secretary, Mrs. Johnston.

Other officers are: Mrs. Floyd Beach, first vice regent; Mrs. Charles Campbell, second vice regent; educational secretary, Mrs. Skarin; Echoes secretary, Mrs. de Graves; standard bearer, Mrs. Parmiter; conveners are: child welfare, Mrs. Lloyd; blind work, Mrs. R. J. S. Wright; flowers, Mrs. A. McCullough; immigration, Mrs. Weston; soldiers' work, Mrs. C. W. Boon; social, Mrs. E. E. Ross; films, Mrs. Kemp; councillors include: Mrs. Milroy, Mrs. J. H. Miller, Mrs. King, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. McConachie, Mrs. Stonehouse, Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mrs. W. E. Greer, Mrs. McCullough.

I almost had a COLD!

"I went home sneezing and sniffling—all the makings of a first rate cold. My wife saw me and said, 'This won't do! We'll stop that cold before it gets a firm hold. A hot mustard bath and then you had better get to bed and keep good and warm'.

"This morning I woke up feeling like a king—no trace of cold. I must take home a bunch of flowers and another tin of Keen's Mustard".

For coughs and colds you cannot do better than a hot mustard bath. 742

LADY WITH THE LAMP IS NAMED A SCIENTIST

Florence Nightingale and Louis Pasteur head the list of great contributors to Science according to Mrs. F. C. Butterworth in her talk to the Current Events group of the Beta Pi Gamma club on Tuesday evening. "Florence Nightingale is the founder of the system of nursing that we have today," stated Mrs. Butterworth, "and a worthy tribute to her contribution to science is the Florence Nightingale Training school for Nurses in London, England."

Mrs. Butterworth told the story of Louis Pasteur, of his characteristic slowness and infinite capacity for taking pains, with the resulting great discovery known as "pasteurization" of milk.

Next Tuesday evening Mrs. Casselman will be the speaker at the Beta Pi Gamma Current Events group selecting as her topic, "The European Situation." Young women are invited.

I.O.D.E. FUNDS ARE USED FOR GOOD PURPOSE

Receipts of over $1,000 which have been employed in innumerable avenues of social welfare work during the year, is the fine accomplishment of members of the Elizabeth Mowat Chapter who held their fifth annual meeting in the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Victor Horner again accepted office as regent, and in token of her efficient leadership in the last year, was made recipient of a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Extensive work in the interests of children has been the chief object of the unit and includes donation of $25 to the I.O.D.E. provincial text book fund, supply of pencils, scribblers, dental work, clothing, milk, payment of a special nurse, and at Christmastime, cheer for seven families including 43 persons.

Assistance has also been given generously to the blind who were entertained at an annual picnic arranged for them in Victoria park. Members of the chapter have been aides to the blind in their painting, basketry, exhibitions, financial campaigns and tagging. In all they realized $150 for this special fund.

Contribution was made to the I.O.D.E. camp, the Jubilee Cancer fund, I.O.D.E. bursary, work in India, League of Nations, Maternity Assistance fund and a summer school scholarship was provided.

A dinner bridge and the annual spring tea and armistice bridge were very successful. For their valuable assistance in these activities the retiring secrtary, Mrs. C. L. Morton, and the retiring treasurer, Mrs. E. Johnston, were both made the recipients of flowers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mowat was named honorary regent and other officers are: Mrs. S. Johnston, first vice regent; Mrs. C. L. Morton, second vice regent; Mrs. E. Shelmerdine, secretary; Mrs. H. Randle, treasurer; Mrs. H. Balfour, educational secretary; Mrs. D. Eeitch, Echoes secretary; Mrs. G. Butler, standard bearer. Councillors are: Mrs. D. Cobbledick, Mrs. A. F. Duncan, Mrs. L. Jones, Mrs. C. Lipsey, Mrs. A. Purvis and Mrs. W. Taylor.

NATIONAL WEEK FOR C.G.I.T. IS IN PROGRESS

Conferences such as one at Pouce Coupe where over 65 C.G.I.T. gathered this year for several days of pleasurable relationship, games, songs, study and exchange of ideas and projects, are made possible by the Religious Education Council. Their value is proven from the enthusiasm among the C.G.I.T., for members of the Pouce Coupe association travelled by car, horseback, and hike to be present at their rally last summer.

This week, in making a public appeal for funds to carry on their work in 1936, they invite the cooperation of Edmonton citizens in assisting them to "Keep Faith with Youth." Miss Constance Smith, Girls' work secretary for Alberta, directed the Pouce Coupe rally and others have successfully taken place during the year at Didsbury, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary, Grande Prairie, Vulcan, Drumheller, Acme and Milk River. Discussions on such topics as "Friendship," "World Peace," "The Social Order," and many others have been helpful sources of inspiration and thought for the grils.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McCue of 7305 87 street, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Eleanor Elizabeth, to Mr. F. R. Lutman of Berwyn, Alberta. The wedding will take place towards the end of February.

Little Theatre Announces City Drama Festival

The Edmonton Little Theatre has issued invitations to dramatic groups throughout the city to take part in a dramatic festival, to be held in the Masonic Temple on March 27 and 28. Six one-act plays will be produced in this first Edmonton festival, in competition for a trophy emblematic of the city championship.

The Little Theatre plans, by this new venture, to provide a rallying point for all clubs interested in theatre, to give young actors the experience of playing to a large audience, and of hearing the helpful criticisms of an outside adjudicator. Organizations interested are asked to notify Mrs. E. H. Gowan, whose committee in charge of the festival includes Mrs. R. J. Dinning, Mr. Max Wershof, and Mr. T. Satchwell.

Spectators Fill Galleries As Session Begins

Simultaneously with the opening of Parliament at the Capitol, and arousing, in fact, a wide interest, was the assuming of office of the new Social Credit Government, at the formal opening of the Legislative Assembly in the Parliament building on Thursday afternoon.

Galleries were crowded, and upon the floor of the house were seated wives of the members and their friends. Hearing of the portentious Speech from the Throne, one might guess had drawn the unusually large crowd. His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, in full dress of office, read the Speech from the Throne. This followed the prolonged ceremony of electing a new Speaker, a touch of added interest, in the ceremonial opening of parliament, marking as it does the assuming of control of a new government.

Three women members this year sit on the floor of the house, on the government side, although not in the ranks of the cabinet. Women of Alberta turn their eyes upon them, in the hope that they will maintain the standard of political leadership among women of the Dominion, as their predecessors in the Alberta Legislature have done.

Except for the military escort, there was little of the usual spectacular color in the ceremony, for the Empire maintains strict mourning for his late Majesty King George V. Gowns worn by the women were subdued in tone. It would be unseemly for any entertainment to mark the occasion, for all state social functions have been suspended. Thus the annual reception at Government House this evening can not be held.

MRS. W. GRAY RETIRES FROM CHAPTER DUTIES

After seven years as regent of Fort Augustus Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. W. S. Gray announced her resignation at the annual chapter meeting held at the Misses Joyce and Clow tea room this week. Mrs. Gray is regent of the Municipal chapter and in this her interest in I.O.D.E. work continues. Tribute to her service in behalf of the Ex-Service men, and the blind was paid by the members.

Following the supper hour, a period of silence in honor of the memory of his late Majesty King George was observed. Mrs. R. C. Marshall, M.B.E., conducted the oath of allegiance to King Edward VIII.

Many interesting facts were brought out in the various reports of the year's work. Honor had been conferred upon three of the members by the late King George V. Weekly visits and monthly card parties were carried on throughout the year for the patients in the Soldiers' Wing, University Hospital. Material for handicrafts was supplied, also instruction given in this work. Current reading matter, books, games, playing cards, were provided continuously. The Not Forgotten Fund was supported. Frequent visits were made to the blind and parties arranged. Assistance was given in the annual sales of articles made by the blind.

Mrs. A. C. Smith will succeed Mrs. Gray as chapter regent, and with Mrs. R. C. Marshall, honorary regent, Mrs. J. Frazer-Smith, honorary vice-regent, other officers include: Miss F. Cottingham, first vice-regent; Mrs. W. S. Gray, second vice-regent; Miss Daryl Latta, secretary; Miss T. N. Allen, treasurer; Miss Doris Davis, educational secretary; Miss Grace Matheson, Echoes secretary; Miss Mabel Stutt, standard bearer.

Councillors are: Miss B. Bearisto, Miss I. Durrand, Mrs. R. B. Matheson, Miss M. McIvor.

Conveners include: Mrs. J. Frazer-Smith, service and ex-service men; Mrs. D. Macalister, blind; Mrs. L. F. Toby, child welfare; Miss P. Ebert, immigration and assimilation; Miss E. Marsden, League of Nations; Miss F. Cottingham and Miss C. Cowney, flowers and entertainment.

Calendar

Edmonton Juvenile Orange Lodge, No. 115, will hold their regular meeting on Friday, February 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Orange Hall.

Committee of conveners for the Grand L.O.B.A. session on February 25, 26 and 27, meeting Thursday evening in the hall on 114 street.

Arts and Letters committee of the Local Council of Women meeting in the Public Library Friday at three p.m. The book for discussion will be "Potlash and Totem" by W. W. Holliday. The discussion to be led by Mrs. G. R. Hulhurd.

For Breakfast Time

Pale blue silk matelasse breakfast coat.

House dress? Why yes,—for the early breakfast party, or for a bride to wear until she bids her husband good-bye in the morning. It is a handsome coat of blue silk matelasse, double breasted, and smartly belted. Speaking of little cotton house dresses in contrast to the luxurious hostess gowns and breakfast coats, lovely little house and porch dresses will be made out of the new embroidered and lace-like cottons shown for spring and summer.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—When Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of Canada's First Commoner Governor-General, took her place in the senate chamber in Ottawa today at the opening of parliament she was seated a step below and to the left of her husband in the historic Princess Louise chair. This high carved seat, which is now upholstered in crimson brocade and bears the carved and painted coat of arms of the wife of the Marquis of Lorne, was the chair used by Canada's first governor-general. It became worn out and was relegated to the cellar.

In 1882, however, it was completely renovated and presented by the government to the Princess. A metal plate on the back bore the inscription: "Presented to her Royal Highness the Princess Louise by ministers of Canada, the advisors of His Excellency the Governor General the Marquis of Lorne (1882)."

"Will you be my Valentine?" Red hearts, lacy Valentines, symbols of St. Valentine's Day, will be featured as proper decoration for the annual party of the Pembinite, the Pembina Prance, to be held in Pembina Hall, University of Alberta, on Tuesday evening, February 11, as one of the gayest dances of the year. Patrons and patronesses of the affair are Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Wallace, Dean and Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. MacEachren and Miss Florence E. Dodd, Dean of women students. Members of the House Committee responsible for arrangements are: Miss Geraldine Mavor, president of the House Committee; Miss Esme Malloch, Sophomore representative; Miss Barbara Maxwell, Miss Gay Ross, Junior representatives, and Mis Mary Faunt and Miss Barbara Adams, Senior Class representatives.

Dr. Donalda Dickie, known as a leading educationist in Alberta, will address members of the Women's University Club on Saturday afternoon on "Modern Tendencies in Elementary Schools." Dr. Dickie's lecture is of particular interest for she is one of the founders of the new elementary school system being put into practise throughout the province, which is arousing such wide and favorable comment upon the new methods employed, and the new enthusiasm with which the children are absorbed in their schooling. Following Dr. Dickie's lecture graduates of eastern Canadian Universities will be hostesses at tea.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Tuttle entertained a group of University students at tea at their home on Wednesday afternoon for Miss Margaret Kinney, National Secretary of the Students' Christian Movement, who has been on an official visit to the S.C.M. at the University of Alberta.

MUSICIANS STUDY TCHAIKOVSKY

Miss Marjorie Derbyshire entertained for Semitone Club members at her home on Tuesday evening when Miss Una Edwards presented an interesting paper dealing with Tchaikovsky and his music, using the "1812 Overture" and the "Nut Cracker Suite" as illustrations. Miss Derbyshire led a discussion pertaining to the percussion instruments of the symphony orchestra. Miss Grace Hardy and Miss Beth Arnett presented a resume of musical news.

* * *

Diamond Eight Bridge Club members were guests at a card party in the home of Miss Blanche Leicher on Wednesday evening. Honors went to Mrs. B. Mundell and Miss Jessie Fisk. Others present were Mrs. B. Durdle, Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. W. Smitten, Mrs. H. Jones and Miss D. Roberts.

"Here Comes Charlie" is the choice of members of St. Faith's Dramatic Club for their presentation on Tuesday and Wednesday evening, February 18 and 19. Mr. W. H. Jackson is directing the play, which will take place at the I.O.O.F. Temple in 95 street.

Miss Margaret Kinney of Toronto, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Love, and Mr. J. Russell Love, for a fortnight, left on Thursday for Calgary en route to Victoria and Vancouver, where she will conduct executive work for the Students' Christian Movement. Miss Kinney will return to Edmonton later in February.

Miss Mary Craig McGeachy, of the Information Bureau of the Canadian Secretariat of the League of Nations at Geneva, in the course of a visit to the west will be the guest of honor at tea when the Winnipeg Professional and Business Women's club entertain on Saturday, February 15. Many Edmonton members of the association of Business and Professional Women are acquainted with Miss McGeachy for she addressed the national convention held in Vancouver in 1932. Although Miss McGeachy does not expect to be in Edmonton, much interest is centered in her western itinerary.

Hostess to members of the club with which she is affiliated, Miss Jean Dodds entertained this week. Plans were discussed by the club to hold a Leap Year party shortly. Those present were Miss May Couples, Miss Jean Dodds, Miss Barbara Robinson, Miss Jean Ross, Miss Betty Shaver, Miss J. Stephen, Miss Margaret Stephen, Miss Kay Zwicker and Miss Bunty MacWhinnie.

"HIAWATHA" TO BE STORY FOR CHILDREN

This week there will be slides to illustrate the story of "Hiawatha," by Longfellow. Besides, there will be a nature story of Ernest Thompson Seton, called "The Winnipeg Wolf," and the story lady will also talk about some of the books on the list of the Book Adventure club. The hours are 4.30 on Friday, in the Edmonton library, and 10.30 on Saturday in the Strathcona library.

Job-Seeking Co-eds Learn Adaptability

New fields of vocational endeavor, new opportunities for after-graduation days, will show themselves to the quick-witted and imaginative co-ed if she combines with her native ability, ingenuity and resourcefulness. "Where once jobs were open and eager to receive women graduates, today, the graduate may have to create a job, a niche for himself in the business world." Miss Margaret Kinney, national secretary of the Student Christian Movement of Canada, a guest in Edmonton and speaking to a group of women university students at an informal tea held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Tuttle, on Wednesday afternoon, stressed the fact, that more and more, the holding of a job depends on a girl's adaptability and personal worth.

"The effectiveness of your place in the world will depend upon whether your work is an all-absorbing interest to you, or just a humdrum, mechanical sort of thing, a 'means to an end,' leaving your real interests and pursuits for after-hour activity," said Miss Kinney.

School-teaching, nursing, law, are the stand-bys for university graduates, and now added to these are journalism, and a very new science, adult education—the latter, wide-spread in Europe, is gaining ground in America and offers teaching possibilities for women teachers.

Journalism, as a vocation, extends a prospect of interesting occupation. The church, also, has a place for woman, for she can perform an unique and particular service for the church in being able to lend genuine sympathy and co-operation, as an assistant in church work. Be wise, imaginative and creative, in your work—it will pay! Miss Kinney concluded.

McCAULEY

Mrs. C. C. Bowen and her committee have completed arrangements for a whist drive and dance planned by members of the McCauley community league to be held on Thursday evening, in the community hall. Cards will commence at eight o'clock.

A skating party, in aid of the ice carnival next week has been planned for Friday evening at the community rink. Mr. J. J. Hodgkinson is convener.

Traveller's Aid To Benefit By Birthday Tea

Statistics for the past year reveal the fact that 1,321 girls, women and children were assisted at the C. N. R. and C. P. R. stations by the Travellers' Aid, according to the reports at a recent meeting of the Travellers' Aid committee of the Y. W. C. A. Behind these figures lie human interest stories; a bride-to-be from England en route to the Peace River with four days to wait for train connections, shops with a "Y" secretary for a wedding dress; a child of nine travelling from Toronto to the north, with a three-day wait, is caught in winter blast with inadequate clothing and is housed, fed, clothed and cared for by the Travellers' Aid of the Y. W. C. A. This is distinctly a non-revenue department and is supported by such money-making functions as the annual Y. W. C. A. birthday tea, which this year will be held on Saturday, February 15, between the hours of three o'clock and six in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium and reception rooms.

- JASPER - JOTTINGS

By FAY PARKER

JASPER, Feb. 6.—Much interest centres this week around the curling rink and the visiting Edmonton rink have already met Jasper's famous "Tubby" whose picture with Miss Betty Bell of Calder adorned the front page of the Bulletin one days last week. "Tubby" tamest of all Jasper deer, simply absorbs all admiration, and choice tid bits for he well knows they go together, and poses for the camera like a seasoned movie star.

Bert Robinson and Oscar Jacobson are curling in the Edmonton 'spiel this week, with Jock Garvie and Bob Robinson of Edson.

JASPER-EDMONTON ON SKIIS

Leo Fuhrer of Edmonton who has been employed in Jasper for some time decided to return to the city by ski, and plans to make the trip in four days. As far as is known this feat has never been attempted before and those that ought to know, say it will take a week. He will follow the Edmonton-Jasper Highway all the awy, and left on his trip early Sunday morning, in decidely sub-zero weather.

Winners at the Scout whist held on Saturday evening in the parish hall were, Mrs. H. Falkner, Mrs. Bob Richardson, Harley Webb, and W. Corrins. The boys and their leaders, Mr. B. Carlton and Mr. Whittle, were assisted during the evening by Mrs. Popey, Mrs. F. Bryant, Mrs. W. Corrins and Mrs. Noyes.

The Wooley cup was won by the Forsyth rink in the finals between Mrs. Forsyth and Mrs. H. Newman. Personnel of the Forsyth rink: Skip, Mrs. J. Forsyth; third, Mrs. J. Hargreaves; second, Mrs. J. Brodie; lead, Mrs. F. Kitchen. The Newman rink who took second in this competition were: Skip, Mrs. H. Newman; third, Mrs. O. Jacobson; second, Mrs. A. Younie; lead, Mrs. Harvey Leach.

On Friday evening the Canadian National Recreation Association sponsored a winter carnival in the skating rink, and most of the events were for the younger element, while a large gallery of spectators enjoyed the varied program. Hockey matches between the Pee Wees resulted in a win for the "Pyramid Black Hawks" against the "Boston Bruins," score 4-1. Midget hockey resulted in the team captained by Bud Bolli winning from the team led by Pat. Taylor, with a score of 2-1.

Children's fancy dress prizes were won by, Patsy Irwin, Betty Lou Irwin, for comics; and Dorothy Lee and Donnie Lee, for fancy dress. Skating races for boys and girls of all ages folowed, with relay races as well, and after the program of listed events, general skating was enjoyed. The Jasper Park bank donated their services for the evening. Judges for the fancy dress costumes were: Mrs. Crane, Mrs. A. H. Webb and Dr. T. O'Hagan. Members of the association assisting the general committeee, Mr. A. B. Lee, Mr. G. Clarke, Mr. A. Gray, sr., and Dr. Brown were, F. Wood, F. Barrow, Mickey McGuire, W. Duncan, H. Perry, J. Gray, L. McGuire, W. Sheets and G. Lycett.

PRESS IS "TOPS"

In a recent high school debate, newspapers won over the radio, as the best medium of news circulation. Pat Popey and Elinor MacDonald argued for the printed word, against Rex Steeves and Roy Webb, radio standard bearers.

Rev. R. G. Webber was in Jasper Sunday speaking in the interests of the Lord's Day Alliance. He was heard in the Anglican church in the morning and at the United church in the evening.

CHAPTER MAKES SOCIAL SERVICE DISBURSEMENTS

Educational work and Empire Study, was a most interesting address given by Mrs. R. C. Wallace to the Prince Edward of Kent Chapter, I.O.D.E., at their annual dinner and meeting held in the Macdonald hotel on Monday evening. Mrs. Wallace was guest of honor at the dinner, with Mrs. G. Edgar Knechtal. The chapter, previously known as Capt. John Palliser, announced change of name at the affair.

Four new members, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Miss Ina Cunnington and Mrs. M. Harding were welcomed by the regent, Mrs. Kenneth Bowman.

During the year, reports revealed, the sum of $280 was disbursed by the chapter to child welfare work, soldier re-establishment, education, the children's camp, Christmas cheer, and other donations.

Mrs. Bowman was again elected to the office of regent, and others on the executive include Mrs. R. Kirkpatrick, first vice-regent, Mrs. R. Scroter, second vice-regent, Mrs. M. D. Parry, secretary, Miss M. Brown, treasurer, Miss K. Card, Echoes secretary, Miss Marjory James, education secretary, Mrs. A. P. Dodds, standard bearer, Mrs. C. W. Whiteside, first councillor and Mrs. P. Sorague, second councillor. Conveners include Mrs. Clifton, for the work for the blind, Mrs. J. Norrington, child welfare, Miss Jean Lees, soldiers' work, Miss Mary Mercer, immigration and assimilation.

W. M. S. HEARS PEACE TALK

"Lest We Forget" was the subject of an interesting story read by Mrs. L. C. Buchanan, secretary of Christian Stewardship, at a meeting of the Norwood United W.M.S. on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. L. Willis spoke briefly on "Peace," and a delightful vocal solo by Miss Camelia Perez was greatly appreciated. Following the program Mrs. E. Hyde and Mrs. F. Goard were appointed as delegates to the Presbyterial. Mrs. C. G. Elliott read the concluding devotional leaflet.

The Lord Bishop of Edmonton, assisted by Rev. G. P. Gower conducted the service of admission to 33 members of Christ Church Women's Association at their meeting in Christ Church parish hall on Tuesday afternoon. A number of new members have also been added to the roll.

Reports from committee conveners indicated splendid progress in W.A. work, and plans were discussed for group meetings to be formed shortly.

Mrs. R. H. Cautley is opening her home for Valentine tea on Friday afternoon, February 14, for which Mrs. Phillip Debney is convener.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. G. E. Story, Mrs. I. Ingram, Mrs. F. W. Timleck and Mrs. L. Grey.

Teach Children How To Take Hard Knocks

Dorothy Dix

I know a young mother whose constant admonition of her children is: "Be brave. Smile." If a little toddler falls and bumps his nose, she doesn't run and pick him up and blame the naughty old floor for hurting Mamma's precious baby. Instead she calls out cheerily: "Be brave! Smile!" And the little one swallows his tears and gets up grinning.

Is Sally tearful because a bad cold and bad weather keep her from doing something she has set her heart on? Mother cuts short the complaint with, "Be brave! Don't whine! Smile!" And Sally gathers her little soul up to meet the challenge. Is Mary discontented because she can't have the fine clothes richer children have, and Tommy disgruntled because he has chores to do while other boys are playing? Mother's slogan: "Be brave! Smile!" rings out like a trumpet call across the dark welter of their little worlds and puts fresh courage into them.

You do not need to be told that that mother is not only teaching her children what Stevenson called "the brave attitude toward life," but she is also putting on the top of the burden that every human being must bear on his back through life the little flower, as in the fairy story, that makes his load light and that carries him triumphantly through every vicissitude of fortune.

Life is not all beer and skittles for any of us. Taking it by and large, all of us get about the same number of bumps, we have about the same amount of disappointments, we have the same heartaches, the same blasted hopes, and if Old Man Trouble doesn't call us in one way he does in another. No one is immune from the common fate and it is how we take it that leaves us either a tear jug or a big laugh.

Consider what it means to a child to have courage inculcated into it from its very infancy. No blessing that heaven can bestow upon a youngster can equal that of having had a mother who bred strength into it instead of weakness; who taught it from the very time it could understand anything at all to stand up and fight instead of lying down and quitting when it encountered any of the bogies along its pathway.

Most of the failures in life are due to lack of backbone and not to lack of ability. Men and women go into some occupation for which they have plenty of talent, but when they don't achieve a spectacular success in a few months and when they find out that it will take them years and years of hard, monotonous climbing, an inch at a time, to reach the top of the ladder, they give it up and change to something else.

And isn't it cowardice, not being able to take it, that is at the bottom of nine-tenths of the divorces and responsible for the wrecked homes and the miserable little half orphans that fill the land? A pampered and indulged boy was never taught by his mother to meet what comes in life with courage and so when marriage proves a disappointment he doesn't try to make the best of it. He quits.

What To Do

By Francine Markel

Keen enjoyment is impossible in dull moments.

What do I do in this case? I want to send a wedding present to a man whom I know very well, but I have never met the girl he is going to marry. Should the gift be a personal one to him or a general gift for the home? MARY JANE.

Answer—Just because you have never met the bride is no reason why you should not send a joint gift that both your friend and his wife can enjoy. And as a matter of fact, unless you have some very exceptional and clearly recognized relationship to the groom a personal gift would be embarrassing and in very poor taste. Remember, too, that you receive the invitation or announcement from the bride's family; that gifts should be sent to the bride; that she should acknowledge them, and that presumably you will be thrown into social intercourse with her after her marriage.

Minute Make-Ups

The new powdered eye shadow is very simple to apply and, can be, if it is thought, put on more evenly than the paste shadow. The eyelid should first have a light coating of cream and then with the tip of the finger the powdered shadow becomes not a film but a real "shadow."

Match Lipstick To Color Of Your Lips

By GLADYS GLAD

In past ages, the lips have been a source of much tinkering for beauty's sake. Women of East Africa, for instance, bored holes in their lips and inserted sharp wooden pegs to enhance their charms. And girls in Ethiopia punctured their lips and forced brass hoops through them, in order to adorn themselves. In this day and age, however, we do not try to mutilate our lips in these ways, but we do use lipstick in order to intensify the attractiveness of our smiles.

A few days ago, I told you about the importance of employing skill when applying lipstick, but skill in the selection of lipstick is of equal importance. Color is a most important factor in the selection of a proper lipstick. For even the most perfect makeup in the world can be ruined by the use of a discordant shade on the lips.

Since the purpose of all cosmetics is to imitate or emphasize nature's own coloring, lipstick should match the natural coloring of the lips perfectly. Of course, you may claim that your lips are practically colorless. But it is very easy to determine their natural color. After all, the color of the lips is occasioned by the blood showing through a transparent layer of skin, and if you simply bite your lips—gently, of course—for a few seconds, the color will rise in them, and will serve to guide you in your choice of a proper lipstick shade.

SHOULD HARMONIZE WITH ROUGE

As a rule, lipstick should always be of the same basic tint as the rouge used. For a purplish-red lipstick and a yellowish-red rouge would conflict, and would tend to destroy the color harmony of the makeup. It is a good plan to experiment with differently-colored lipsticks, in order to find the one best suited to your coloring. But even when doing such experimenting, there are several facts that it is well to bear in mind.

the yellow and reddish tones that appear in a youthful face. The darker and more purplish lipsticks are not as youthful, for purplish shades are the tones that appear in an aging face. Try always to have your lipstick match the natural coloring of your lips. But select it from the more youthful colors, rather than the aging ones.

Dried Beef May Be a Delicacy Or Disaster

By MARY E. DAGUE

When I was in college we had dried beef in a white sauce for Wednesday supper and that day everybody rushed to the Inn after classes for waffles and syrup. That was because the cook made such a mess of the dish.

The secret of good creamed dried beef lies in frizzling the beef before adding the cream sauce. Dried beef is lacking in fat so this must be supplied. Melt butter in frying pan, add beef cut in shreds, picked into small pieces with all bits of stringy tissue removed. Cook over a low fire until the edges of the beef curl. Use 1 tablespoon flour for each cup of milk to be used in sauce. Sift flour over beef and stir with a fork until flour is absorbed. Add milk and butter to the boiling point, stirring constantly.

BEEF IS SALTY ENOUGH

Sauce made this way is the color of old ivory and has a delicious flavor. No salt is needed because the beef furnishes enough. Pepper can be added. For a more savory dish, add one slice of onion and a few celery leaves scalded in the milk. Strain to remove vegetables and be sure to cool milk before making sauce.

An attractive way to serve creamed frizzled beef is to put the creamed beef in the centre of a large serving dish, then arrange long strips of buttered toast from the beef to the edge of the dish and pile hot potato chips between the toast strips. Garnish with sprigs of parsley or sprinkle minced parsley over the beef.

Macaroni with tomatoes and dried beef is a fine luncheon dish. It should be served with a crisp lettuce or cabbage salad and a custard dessert.

Scrambled eggs gain zest and interest by the addition of dried beef. Frizzle the chipped beef in butter in frying pan before adding milk and eggs and proceed as usual.

Mushrooms make an effective garnish for creamed dried beef. Perfectly creamed dried beef with a border of broiled mushrooms is worthy a place on any luncheon table.

Two cups milk, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 10 or 11 prunes, ¼ cup boiling water, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar.

Remove pits from prunes and cut in small pieces. Combine with water, 1 tablespoon sugar and cook in double boiler until soft. Scald milk, mix and sift cornstarch, salt and sugar and gradually add scalded milk, stirring constantly. Cook in double boiler for twenty minutes. Add yolks of eggs slightly beaten and cook a minute longer. Add prunes and cool. Turn into a serving dish and chill. Beat whites of eggs until stiff, adding powdered sugar gradually. Beat in lemon juice and pile roughly over pudding before serving.

Dried apricots, dates or figs can be used in place of prunes. Use about ¼ pound of dried fruit. I gave you the number of prunes because I thought it would be easier than weighing them.

Tomorrow's Menu

WESTMOUNT

Old-time dancing and a whist drive were arranged for members of the Westmount Community League in their community hall at the week-end. Thirty-four tables were at play and highest scores were held by Mrs. J. D. Mair, Mrs. Lillian Johnstone, Mrs. A. Blanchard, Mrs. W. H. Morgan, Miss Jean Rowland, Mr. J. B. Gillies, Mr. W. C. Wilson, Mr. A. Edgar. Special prizes went to Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Patterson, and Miss Pickfall. Mr. William Browning was master of ceremonies for the evening.

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL. COCHRANE Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

The funny-looking man grew fagged. He cried, "When all you tots are dragged up safely to the shore, I'm going to drop right down and rest.

"I've turned this crank, oh, I don't know how many times. I'm rather slow, but you can't blame a fellow, when he does his very best."

"Of course not," Scouty loudly cried. "Don't worry, we enjoy this ride. Just take your time. We're splashing 'round, and it is lots of fun.

"The two girls are a wee bit scared, though they know just how well they've fared. We will be glad to thank you, soon, for everything you've done."

And then the Tinies heard a cry. It was wee Duncy. He said, "I have lost my hold upon the rope. Oh, kindly wait for me."

"Ha, ha," laughed Coppy. "Wade a bit, and you soon can catch hold of it. The frightened look you're showing now, is funny as can be.

"The current's not so strong right here; so there is not a thing to fear. I'll stick my foot out. Grab it, and then hang on good and tight."

The lad did just as he was told, and when he had a real good hold, he shouted, "Thank you, Coppy. Once again I'm quite all right."

By this time they were near the bank. They heard the squeaking of the crank. The rope began to pull them up, and Scouty reached dry ground.

He was the first in line, you see. He shouted, "Now, it's up to us to run and help the funny fellow turn the crank around."

The Tinies just smiled and said, "Why, you are small. This is too hard to do. However, you can help by grabbing hold of each tot's hand."

This was real easy, Scouty thought. As soon as everyone was caught and pulled ashore, fair Goldy cried, "Oh, thank you, that was grand!"

Your Children -

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Sally had been visiting her aunt. She went home and said they had chicken every day. Later it was discovered that there had been no chicken at all, but otherwise Sally had a remarkable fare.

O. R. Barton

Being four years old, it was Sally's way of saying that she much preferred to eat at Aunt Jane's house. The reason for the omission of capons was Uncle Jim, who collected chickens, but which is not important here.

They were amazed at Sally's lie, not understanding that the extra flourish was a compliment.

Then shortly afterward Aunt Jane came one day. Mother was out and Sally in her high treble entertained her. "Where had she found her lost doll?" Why, Mamie had put in her doll-buggy and wheeled it away. And her mother had gone right over to Mamie's house and looked and found it in Mamie's doll-bed and brought it home. Aunt Jane believed it, so convincingly was it told.

YET SHE DIDN'T EVADE TRUTH

Again, later, this also proved to be a fairy tale. Mother said she had gone over to Mamie's and found Polly lying on the steps where Mamie had left her.

Yet Sally was a stickler for the truth. She instantly and frankly told that she had dropped the cake of soap out of the bathroom window to see if it would slide on the icy roof. She said yes, it was and who had rummaged in her mother's bureau, gotten her card case and scribbled on all the cards.

"She's just a little liar," her father said. "If she invents anything more, stop her. She's made fools out of all of us too often."

I don't wonder that parents are nonplussed at the inventiveness of children of four and even five and sometimes six. Yet it seems to be "sense" as natural to some of them as to breathe. Almost invariably they outgrow it, just as they outgrow their mixed ideas of yesterday, today and tomorrow.

FLOURISHES DRAMATIZE FEELINGS

It cannot be classed with lying. They seem to think that we listeners know all about the real truth of the case. Their embellishments are taken for what they are worth. I think that sometimes they believe they are themselves, for even grown-ups are often gifted with a sort of self-hypnotism that makes them think fiction is the truth.

But many tots, I am certain, think we old ones know exactly what has occurred, and they weave a bit of drama about it. Motivated by dear knows what reference to chicken, Sally's favorite, was intended to express great approval. Mamie was mean, and Sally related what she thought Mamie would do if she got a chance.

We can't spank or shame or frighten this out of a child. Try to keep him to facts, but also try to understand him. When we read them stories, they think they are true, too.

If you need to add a little color to ordinary desserts, drop those small cinnamon candies, known as red hots into a bit of warm milk or water and then add the liquid to rice pudding, apple sauce, baked apples or tapioca.

CAUGHT NAPPING

The following deal appeared at one of the regular Thursday duplicate games at the Knickerbocker Whist club, New York, and about half the players sitting down to battle themselves to be trapped into having to give a game at spades to West. The incident simply illustrates how players, thinking that game is lost, allow themselves to grow into a condition of mental apathy that really causes the game to be lost.

At several tables bidding went: West, 1-Spade; East, 3-Hearts; West, 4-Spades, ending the auction.

The popular opening lead was the 3 of clubs. Dummy's Ace won the trick. The J of Spades lost to the K. Another club was led and lost to declarer's K. A second round of trumps captured all outstanding spades. A low diamond was led from declarer's hand. Some North players at once put up their Ace. Others did so on the second round of diamonds, after declarer had re-entered his hand by means of a trump and again led diamonds through North. In either event North won a single diamond trick and East won two tricks in the suit. The final lead always was left in dummy, and a heart was led. At two tables, which we will designate as A and B, the Ace of hearts won the eighth trick. North held the K-5 of hearts, only. At table A, North played low when the Ace and the 4 took the second heart trick with his K.

Mr. A North was in a predicament. He held only the J of diamonds and the 9-8-6 of hearts. His declarer partner dummy held either a diamond or a club. When North led a minor suit card dummy ruffed and declarer discarded his last heart, just going through North's apathy. At table B, the Ace of hearts went on the eighth trick, but North scored that he could not save game if he won the next trick, underplayed his K of hearts. As a result declarer had to lose the ninth and tenth tricks to South's two top hearts, and went down a trick.

Can It Be Done?

Before tomorrow see if the above problem hand can be solved. Spades are trumps. North is to lead and take all six tricks against the best defense of East and West.

EXHIBITION'S 1936 BUDGET IS APPROVED

The 1936 budget containing a total estimated expenditure of $76,870 and revenue of $84,000 for the Edmonton Exhibition Association was approved by the association's directors at a meeting in the council chamber, Civic block, Wednesday afternoon.

$17,345 FOR RACES

Expenditures for the exhibition alone are figured at $46,325, with the racing department estimated to cost $17,345 and general administration, $13,000.

Expected receipts for the 1936 season total $68,300 for the exhibition and $15,700 for the race meets.

Directors also approved of the construction of a ring for the sale of livestock next summer. Location of the ring has not been definitely decided yet.

FALL MEET

Announcement was made that there would be a fall horse race meet in Edmonton during August, dates of which have not yet been fixed. The meet is being operated by the R. J. Speers Corporation of Winnipeg.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Western Canada Association of Exhibitions held recently at Winnipeg reported that excellent grandstand and midway attractions had been secured for the summer fair here.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS

FRED T. Walker, former glory-shouting evangelist, now helps glorify screen actresses.

Walker is a make-up artist, and proud of his job. He applies paint and powder to the faces of some of the leading players on the Fox lot, stencils eyebrows, colors lips. Doesn't try to convert anybody.

CONQUEROR CONQUERED

Branching out for himself, Walker directed his forces of righteousness against that old stronghold of sin, Hollywood. Planned such a sweeping reformation that the name likely would be changed to Holy-wood.

But the campaign flopped. It flopped because he decided, after investigation, that there was relatively little sin in the cinema citadel.

Announcement of his findings brought down the wrath of other fighting preachers, and resulted in Walker becoming an ex-evangelist.

That was 18 years ago. He became an actor, and a fairly successful one until the advent of the talkies. Somehow, his voice was not satisfactory. So he went into the makeup business.

He thinks it's all right to tint the cheeks of chorus girls. And he thinks actresses and actors are less hypocritical than lots of more regular churchgoers.

Eight New I.O.D.E. Chapters Formed

TORONTO, Feb. 6. — Organizing secretary of the national executive committee of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, announced that eight new chapters had been formed in different parts of the country at a meeting here Wednesday.

The chapters formed follow: Primary chapters—King Edward VIII, New Waterford, N.S.; Earl of Chester, Edmonton; John Lindsay, Vulcan, Alta.; Stewart Gibson, Shebo, Sask.; Robert G. Coombes, V.C., Melville, Sask.; Lady Aikens, Winnipeg. Junior chapter, the L. M. Montgomery, Toronto.

New safety records were set by scheduled air lines of the United States during the first half of 1935 in flying 990,660 per accident and 40,714,686 passenger miles per passenger fatality.

PULSE THROBS GALORE WHEN INFORMER ACTS

Dramatic Thunderbolt Tops Bill of Rialto Film Fare

"The Informer," pulse-pounding dramatic thunderbolt of primaeval human passions with Victor McLaglen as its star tops the Rialto theatre two-feature program for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This much "four-starred" drama is the most stark and heart-reaching saga of human emotions the screen has ever known, a dramatic thunderbolt which found critics solidly agreeing that it made new screen history.

Unfolded with sardonic humor, impressive and ruthless this vital epic of life and death, love and hate, hope and despair, pathos and laughter presents life itself in its primitive passions. Old as humanity itself the story is located during the Irish Revolution.

The country's greatest authorities have labelled "The Informer" as the most astounding drama the screen has ever known, and McLaglen, the star, supported by Heather Angel, Preston Foster, Margot Grahame, Wallace Ford, Una O'Connor and a host of others, declares that the role is the greatest in his varied and long career.

The simple yet tense story runs to a passion mad fury of hungry hearts reaching out from black pits — a maelstrom of remorse, ecstacy, terror, tenderness, suspense and retribution. It is a masterpiece that leaves an impress upon the human mind and is an important milestone in the screen's progress.

Totally different in type is the second feature which presents a typical musical western starring Gene Autry, radio singing cowboy who rides like a centaur, packs a mean six-shooter, picks a mean guitar and sings in a manner that millions have approved of "Melody Trail" is the title of this feature.

NEW STRAND STAGE SHOW VERY SOCKO

With a fast new routine, the Strand's stage unit opened its second appearance here this week with entertainment that was socko" from the time the curtain went up on Cecil Cameron's band until it rang down on the whole company doing the Harlem "Truckin'" steps.

Snappy new feature of the end of the week show is the chorus, Dora Marshall's lighting-footed sextette draped in cellophane doing a series of rhythmic gyrations with a dash of paprika.

Cecil Cameron's band, six players rounded out with Johnny Van Deelan and Harry McOnah, the local boys with the burning brasses, is distinctly hot although the dan-sapators can, and do, cool off and slow down for the les swingy dance routines.

Jean Walker, the "Personality Girl," who looks like Harlow and sings like Harriet Hilliard, and Phyllis Bolton, one of the featured hoofers, both were hits as crowd-pleasers.

Each of the Dora Marshall "Fashionettes" is good for an individual dance and their rhythm when stepping as a unit is as provocative as that seen when the Strand management brought in the black and tan girls last fall.

In the finale number the band goes to town with "Truckin'" and the girls are shaking like six individual jellies with the jitters, Charlie Wright, the "Smiling Master of Ceremonies," who has a 21-jewel Rudy Vallee smile, directs the music and pushes the tooters until they blast a rhythmic melange of tortured screams and groans from rumbling brass and straining reeds. It's hot.

QUESTION OF MILK GRADING TO BE TALKED

At a special meeting of the Edmonton Board of Health Wednesday night, it was decided, on a motion of A. W. Haddow, city engineer, that the bylaw providing for the grading of pasteurized and unpasteurized milk, which now appears on the statute books, remain inoperative. And that a committee of three Board of Health members meet a committee of five representatives of the interested parties to discuss the whole question of grading.

In the meantime no prosecutions will take place under the bylaw. The interested parties to be represented include the milk producers, the pasteurized distributors, the unpasteurized producer - distributors, the consumers of both types of milk, and others who desire to be represented.

By virtue of the acceptance of Mr. Haddow's motion, Alderman C. Gould's motion to repeal the bylaw and Dr. R. B. Jenkins' amendment to this motion to try the bylaw for a one year period, were not voted on.

Alderman Gould opposed the bylaw on the ground that he was dissatisfied with the method of inspection of milk. His information was correct, and wanted to thrash out the whole question in order to tighten up on inspection regulation, particularly of out-of-town producers.

Dr. R. B. Jenkins, in reply to Mr. Gould, stated "there is more rigid inspection of out-of-town producers than those within the city limits. Their milk is inspected once a week and premises are inspected four times a year. The producers in the city have been getting away with selling milk that we would not allow the out-of-town producers to sell, as a matter of fact."

Dr. F. Crang is to appoint the committee by Monday from the Health Board, and if he fails to do so, the chairman of the Wednesday meeting, Alderman J. Fry will appoint the committee. Representatives of interested groups are to get together and decide who will be their appointees.

HARTMAN BLAMES PREMATURE PUBLICITY FOR UNFAVORABLE ATTITUDE TO PAIN-RELIEVER

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.— Dr. Leroy L. Hartman blamed premature publicity Tuesday for an unfavorable attitude shown by many dentists towards his newly-developed "pain-killer."

The Columbia University dentist, who comes from Victoria, B.C., asked members of the Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia dental societies to give it a fair trial, and said only intelligent use over a reasonably long period and a fair and impartial recording of results will tell the full tale.

"In the end, I believe, we will have something to relieve the pain from sensitive dentine," Dr. Hartman said.

Soviet, Rumania Negotiate Treaty

Copyright 1936, by Havas News Agency

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Soviet Russia and Rumania have negotiated a mutual aid treaty which awaits only official signatures to take effect, it was reported here last night.

Thus the "collective security" alliances pronounced by Great Britain and France to keep the peace of Europe are moving another step toward completion, according to Little Entente circles here.

Two million tons of refuse are collected annually by London's boroughs.

IT'S 50 BELOW AT VERMILION; LOW 30'S HERE

Continued Cold, North Winds Forecast For Friday

King Winter entered the third day of his rampage Thursday with temperatures the past twelve hours all being under 30 below.

From midnight to 9:00 a.m. Thursday the mercury reached its lowest ebb at 34 below and by 9:00 a.m. had shrugged up the glass to 32 below.

The forecast, far from cheerful, is for more of the same, reading: "Strong northerly winds, cloudy and decidedly cold Thursday and Friday."

Fort Vermilion, northern Alberta's "refrigerator" came back into its own Thursday with 50 below, the meanest temperature of the entire province. Hudson's Hope followed closely with 48 below and a half dozen other points had readings in the low forties.

The last breath of the ice-capped Yukon country whistled its wintry way across Canada today, laying temperatures low with a barrage of cold from British Columbia's interior to the Maritime provinces.

The cold wave centred far up in the Arctic reaches. It swung southward, hitting the wheat province of Saskatchewan hardest. There the icy blast delivered a body blow to Manitoba and moved eastward with an array of sub-zero temperatures in Ontario and Quebec.

Mayo, in the Yukon, tingled at 58 degrees below zero with Dawson a close second, recording 56 below. Fort Simpson, N.W.T., tingled with a similar temperature. The north country was cold even for such an injured country as the Arctic.

COMMISSION IS SOUGHT ON SUGAR BEETS

Delegation Claims Insufficient Return For Work

Establishment of a commission to probe all phases of the sugar beet industry within this province, to determine whether manufacturers should pay an increase in prices for their products, was requested by a delegation of sugar beet growers that interviewed Premier William Aberhart and members of his cabinet on Wednesday. On hearing the representations presented, it was declared that the government would take the matter into consideration.

In stating their arguments, growers stated that skilled laborers were seeking an increase in wages at the rate of $4 a ten. The present rate is $18 a ton. It was claimed that if the sugar beet producers were forced to pay the higher scale of wages, they would be unable to continue growing operations. The delegation also stated that they had to take their troubles to the manufacturers on various occasions, but they had not obtained any increase.

Growers also stated that if a commission was appointed and an investigation held and if it was found that the manufacturers were unable to increase the price to the growers, they were willing to abide by this decision.

Replying to questions regarding skilled laborers, the growers stated that they had the skill in harvesting and slicing of sugar beets was necessary if the loss from this operation was to be reduced to a minimum.

LAST AKLAVIK WINTER MAIL WINGS NORTH

Con Farrell, Canadian Airways chief pilot, left Fort McMurray for Aklavik at 10:45 a.m. Thursday, taking the second and last mail of the winter to be shipped to the Arctic outpost.

Farrell reached McMurray from Goldfields Wednesday afternoon, bringing R. Walter Hale, district superintendent of postal services. Mr. Hale had been making the first inspection of the new post office at Goldfields. It was expected that Pilot Art Rankin would fly him to Edmonton late Thursday.

Rudy Huess left McMurray for Fort Simpson Thursday morning and Archie McMullen was reported southbound from Outpost Island at 9:30 a.m.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE BRIGADE

Edmonton Ambulance Division 61, will meet in police headquarters on Thursday, Feb. 6th, at 8 p.m. Dress: Mufti.

Owing to the officers' meeting at Ambulance H.Q. the parade will be conducted by Sergt. C. Atkin.

8.00-9.00 p.m.: Roller bandage practice; 9.00-10.00 p.m., first aid instruction.

All members are notified that the St. John Ambulance dance, in aid of the medical and surgical supply department, will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 12.—L. H. Nuthall Div. Supt.

Budgets for License, Police, Market, Treasury, and Freight and Purchasing Departments Are Reviewed by Council.

Item of $5,000 for the proposed installation of a modern police "flash" signal system for contacting constables on their beats is contained in 1936 police department estimates dealt with at a special meeting of council Wednesday night. As the aldermanic board has not yet definitely approved estimates for any departments, this item was also tabled for further consideration.

Budgets for the license, police, market, treasury and freight and purchasing departments were reviewed by council Wednesday before it adjourned to meet again at conferences called for Thursday afternoon and evening.

EXPENDITURE OF $8,823

Hhos. McCallum, head of the license department, reported estimated expenditure of $6,823 for 1936 as compared to an actual expenture last year of $7,120.

Anticipating a drop in revenue due to the abolition of slot machines which brought revenue of $3,000 in 1935, estimates for the license branch showed $61,000 for this year as against revenue of $64,500 last year.

NO ALLOWANCE

Questioned by Ald. Margaret Crang as to whether he made any allowance for relief cases needing dog licenses, Supt. McCallum said regulations did not permit of this. He gave it as his opinion that unemployed should not spend money needed for food on dog licenses.

Replying to a query by Ald. Guy Patterson as to whether any concession was made relief cases in the matter of bicycle licenses, Ald. Hugh J. Macdonald said that casual earning of unemployed would provide for the purchase of bicycle tags.

EXTRA COST

Police department expenditures are estimated at $169,571 as compared to a total cost of $162,245 in 1935, the increases this year being due to extra men being taken on the force and a proposed expenditure of $5,000 for a new and more efficient signal system.

In recommending that his recommended "flash" signal equipment, Police Chief A. G. Shute reported that maintenance of this system would cost about $1,500 as against $1,000 in 1935 for what he termed antiquated signal equipment. Constables could be contacted quicker on their beats if the more modern facilities were installed, he said.

$4,500 REVENUE

Revenue for the department for 1936, comprised of police court fines and costs, was figured for the year at $4,500, the 1935 revenue being $4,400.

Commenting on the new amendment which allows gasoline tax refunds allows motorists short of gasoline to buy fuel after service stations are closed, Chief Shute said those needing gas could get a permit for the purchase by calling the police headquarters. Only two or three motorists had taken advantage of this new rule so far, he stated.

CITY DISCLAIMS RESPONSIBILITY FOR 50 FAMILIES

Request that the city be relieved of responsibility for support of approximately 50 families which have moved into Edmonton recently with the demand that they be given relief allowances here has been placed before the provincial relief appeal board. This board, which met in Edmonton today and Thursday afternoon at the administration buildings, rules on the responsibility for relief cases, as between the government, the city and rural municipalities.

Commissioner Mitchell estimates that about 200 individuals are represented by the 50 families in question, and the claim is made that since they have come to Edmonton from outside points they are not properly city charges.

Members of the provincial board are W. D. Bradey, chairman: Rice Sheppard, representative of the city; and W. Johnston, of Spruce Grove, representating the rural municipalities.

T. B. McDormand May Go East To Maritime Church

Word has been received that First Baptist church, Amherst, Nova Scotia, has extended a call to Rev. T. B. McDormand of Edmonton. Mr. McDormand, who is minister of Strathcona Baptist church here, informed the Edmonton Bulletin Thursday that he has not yet received word of such a call.

Negotiations, by correspondence, have been made during the last few months, however, although nothing definite has been done up to the last exchange of letters between Mr. McDormand and the Amherst church. In the event of receiving a call, Mr. McDormand would leave Edmonton about a month after the first of April if he decided to accept it.

First Baptist church in Amherst, Nova Scotia is a beautiful church with a congregation of 800 members. It has the standing of being one of the finest churches in the Maritime provinces. Mr. McDormand held services there while a student at Acadia University.

Gleaned From Today's News

A. Cunningham of the Ford Motor's Calgary office, came to Edmonton Thursday on a business visit.

Chief Justice W. C. Simmonds arrived in the city from Calgary on Thursday morning.

Two Calgary Power Company executives, G. H. Thompson of Calgary, and G. A. Gaherty of Montreal, frequent Edmonton visitors in the past month, returned here from the south Thursday.

Word has been received from Ottawa that Inspector P. H. Tucker of the R.C.M.P. here, has been awarded the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Long Service and Good Conduct Medal.

The Edmonton Stamp Collectors' Club will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 6, at the Memorial hall. Messrs. R. A. Reid and W. C. Marshall will give talks on the stamps of the British West Indies, and display their collections.

Two Mackenzie Air Service planes were well on their way north Thursday morning. Stan McMillan was headed for Fitzgerald Bay and Harry Hayter was going to Outpost Island. Marlowe Kennedy is still in Edmonton.

EXPANSION OF AGRICULTURE IS FORECAST

Speech From Throne Gives Hints of Sessional Program

Stabilization of agriculture by improving prices, enlarging market and reducing overhead charges, together with reduction of high interest rates on both public and private indebtedness will be major objectives of the legislature during the session which opened on Thursday afternoon. Forecast of this activity was given in the Speech from the Throne, delivered by His Honor Lieut.-Gov. W. L. Walsh.

The Speech from the Throne also urged that "some definite action should be taken by you through which capital may be made available to our citizens in building and rebuilding properties in the townsand cities of our province. Too many restrictions are interfering with capital investments."

Confirmation of an earlier announcement by Premier Aberhart that a measure providing for the formulation and adoption of a plan based upon the principles of Social Credit will be submitted for your consideration."

Some consideration will be given to the improvement of public health services and a review will be undertaken of provincial hospitalization, municipal health contracts, the Workmen's Compensation Act and other legislation.

DOUGLAS COMING

The Speech forecasts a return here of Major C. H. Douglas, chief reconstruction adviser to the provincial government, to continue his advice on Social Credit.

The strictest economy is forecast. Regarding the proposed new School Act, the Speech says that the government "as soon as possible will institute legislation for the efficient co-operation and co-ordination of rural schools."

REVISE STATUTES

Revision of the statutes is forecast, while the Recall Bill is scheduled for introduction.

Maintenance of highways, transportation matters, encouragement of new industries and development of natural resources all are touched upon, as is the rehabilitation of southern dried out areas.

Early Riser Helps Prevent Fire Loss

Observation of early-rising Mike Kuziak, 10012 80 street, who arrived in an alarm at 6:50 a.m. today, saved the Bayamo Manufacturing Co., Ltd., 10006 80 Street from serious damage when rubbish near the stove caught fire. One line of hose was laid by the responding fire brigade but the flames had not made any headway.

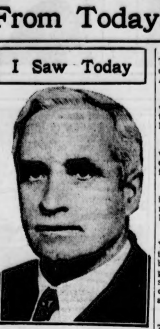

Police Court

Magistrate A. H. Gibson in city police court Thursday convicted 21-year-old Charles Jolin on a charge of striking his wife, Hilda, aged 19, and placed him on probation for nine months. The boy was advised to admit his misbehavior openly before his wife, instead of attempting to justify it by talk of provocation, to get a job, and "hang onto it."

An accused who celebrated too freely while on bail on another charge, was ordered kept in custody pending an adjourned hearing of an intoxication charge. The crown's evidence was that in an autopsy a document was allowed in order that defence witnesses might be called. Another celebrant pleaded guilty and received the usual penalty, $20 and costs or 30 days.

Ian Patterson, of Donalda, first year student at the University of Alberta and now resident at St. Stephen's College, states that he is not the Ian Patterson whose name appeared in police court in connection with a wanton driving charge.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Popularity of winter sports has grown considerably in Edmonton and district during the past few years, and every week-end witnesses thousands of young bloods (and a sprinkling of the older folk) enjoying themselves on the hills and river flats of the Saskatchewan.

Skiing, tobogganing, skating, bob-sleighing—all are the blood-tingling pleasures of King Winter. But the Inquiring Reporter (who is not so old himself) wondered whether the young folk of a generation ago went in for winter sports as enthusiastically as they do today, so he asekd:

"Did the last generation enjoy themselves with out-of door sports as much as they do today?"

Here are the answers:

MRS. L. WHEELER, city visitor from Moose Jaw: "Don't fool yourself, B.I.R. They enjoyed themselves as much as we do today. They might not have had the advantage of the more modern sporting equipment but they had a good time, nevertheless. Listen to some of the old folks tell about the sleigh-riding parties and the skating on the rivers and sloughs and then ask yourself whether they were stay-at-homes."

MRS. L. CARR, of Senlac, Sask.: "Don't talk to me today. We came to Edmonton to get warm but I doubt that we'll be thawed out before we have to start back. Winter sports? Nice, aren't they, when you look at them through the window of a warm room. Yes, I expect the old folks enjoyed themselves. They didn't have as much time to play, those pioneers, but they had all their heart into it when they did."

BILL ZIEGLER, Varsity man: "Those of the last generation whooped it up just as much as we do today, although naturally their winter games were not as extensive as ours are, due to the lack of facilities. Skiing, while popular then, did not reach nearly the proportions it does at present. Hockey was very much in recent years to encourage athletic activities."

DR. BILL GLADSTONE, foot expert: "Say, the fellows and their girls of a generation ago could run circles around some of the youngbloods of today. They got behind a fast team of horses, gave them their heads and hung on to the cutter. Fun? It must have been. And curling was a favorite sport, despite the lack of proper curling rinks. I've heard tell that folks then used to curl on the river, and skate on it, too for miles when there was an open winter."

ALL M.L.A.'S ARE SWORN IN

All members of the legislature were sworn-in by His Honor Lieut. Gov. W. L. Walsh at 10.30 a.m. on Thursday, in order that they could take their places at the opening, timed for 3 p.m.

All cabinet ministers were sworn-in this being necessary as they were sworn-in only as cabinet ministers when they took office on Sept. 3 last.

The ceremony for each individual member took little time, but most of the morning was occupied getting through the entire house.

Registered at the Macdonald on Thursday was W. B. Lowry, official of the Insurance Company of North America, Winnipeg office.

The Victorian Order of Nurses will hold its regular monthly executive meeting Friday at 3 p.m. in the Hudson's Bay Company store.

Clearing house figures for last week were $3,732,201.05 as compared with $4,352,772.86, which were the figures for the same period in 1935.

L. A. Raymond, Winnipeg, superintendent of C.P.R. traffic communications department for western lines, is a visitor in the city.

Regular meeting of the Civic Youth Association will be held in the basement of the Alexandra building Thursday, Feb. 6, at 8:30 p.m. Following the business a social will be held. The hockey club benefit prizes will be given away.

At the present time there are 21,709 electric light and power meters in service in Edmonton, an increase of 436 as compared to the total of 21,273 for the corresponding period last year. Classification of meters in use follows, figures for 1936 and 1935 respectively in that order: Domestic lighting, 15,716, 15,431; commercial lighting, 2,286, 2,182; sign and window lighting, 458, 43; motor, power appliances, etc., 1,249, 1,217.

CITY'S WATER PLANT UNDER DISCUSSION

Edmonton Engineers Given Outline of System and Working

"Treatment of Water" was the subject of a paper given by Alex Ritchie, superintendent of the Edmonton power plant, before a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, held at the Macdonald hotel this week.

Mr. Ritchie introduced his subject by giving a synopsis of the progress made to day in the fermentation basin and six wood-tub filters. Additions have been made at different periods and today Edmonton boasts of an efficient purification system. Mr. Ritchie presented a lay-out of the water plant to show the progress of the water from the time it was taken into the pump pit and delivered into the city mains.

EDMONTON WATER

The Saskatchewan River, from which Edmonton draws its water supply, has a wide variation in flow, and is therefore subject to a large amount of turbidity at different stages. The water-shed of the river covers considerable area, and the purification of the water presented several problems. In 1926 a start was made to study these problems. A model basin was constructed and experiments carried out to decrease the turbidity of the water. A system of sedimentation by artificial sedimentation with coagulation was developed. Prior to 1934, no research work was carried out for taste and odor in the water. Since that time, a qualified chemist had been employed and experiments have been carried out to remove certain tastes and to improve the color of the water. From these tests, the system of purification was changed in the plant and the desired results obtained. The speaker read the research reports and showed graphically, the results obtained.

Figures were quoted to show the cost of the different treatments.

Dentist Reports Nocturnal Theft Of Gold Fillings

That's gold in them that molars. This must have been the call which lured a nocturnal prospector to break into the office of Dr. Gordunn Feiurstay, 221 Kitchen block. The doctor reported to police that several gold fillings had been stolen from the premises.

NEAR-BLIZZARD SLOWS TRAFFIC STREET RAILWAY

Disruption of street railway traffic due to near-blizzard conditions occurred in practically all parts of the city early Thursday as tram inspectors and motormen combatted low temperatures and snow-covered rails in an effort to keep service any where near normal.

It was reported that fine snow whipped up by a bitter northeast wind was responsible for the slowing up of traffic on all lines. Particular difficulty was encountered in hill sections, spinning cars wheels finding but little grip on the tracks covered with frost and snow.

All available sweepers were pressed into service as soon as street cars started running Thursday morning, and these were kept in constant operation during the morning.

Sawchuk Guilty: Term Not Fixed

Steve Sawchuk, charged with retaining stolen goods, was found guilty by Mr. Justice Ewing in special criminal court Wednesday afternoon and remanded for sentence until February 28. Sawchuk appeared before Mr. Justice Tweedie early in the assizes, but the judge, after hearing most of the evidence, declared a mistrial.

Sawchuk, who is only 18, but already has a police record, was captured by Mr. Justice Ewing, who, however, said that he would prefer not to send the boy to Fort Saskatchewan. He said that there was no doubt about Sawchuk being guilty but he wanted time to consider what would be best for the boy.

The accused was chased by police as he was riding in a taxi, driven by Charles Carl, and containing stolen goods. As the police car drew alongside Sawchuk jumped out of the back seat and disappeared down a lane, but police were able to identify him and picked him up later at his home.

E. B. Cogswell, K.C., was crown prosecutor, and Fred R. Jackson conducted the defence.

MAYOR CLARKE TERMS JOURNAL STORY VICIOUS

Declares 60-Mill Rate Forecast is Propaganda — Supports 50

"Propaganda of the most vicious kind," Mayor Jos. A. Clarke, K.C., declared Thursday when commenting on a recent news item in the Edmonton Journal to the effect that a 60-mill rate would be required this year to balance the 1936 budget. The mayor has supported a tax rate of 50 mills since he was re-elected last November.

"The mill rate is struck by the city council, the estimates are passed by the city council and until these figures are arrived at no one can say what the mill rate is going to be," Mayor Clarke declared.

PROMISED 50

"The taxpayers of the city have been promised and now demand a reduction from the 55-mill rate levied last year, and this should be brought about, if necessary, by budgetting for a deficit of a limited amount, as was done by last year's council. We were shown last year that the taxpayers appreciated an effort to reduce the mill rate when they paid over 100 per cent of the levy, taking into account payment of arrears as well as current taxes.

FRENZIED FINANCE

"The majority elected at the last election have some definite ideas on how to get rid of the frenzied financing that has characterized municipalities in Western Canada. They have some practical ideas on how to change this, and they gave a definite promise to reduce the mill rate from 55 mills. If they allow the hold-over members of council to shove a 60 or 58-mill rate down their throats, as is now being attempted with the assistance of some heads of departments who should know better, they will have only themselves to blame if the taxpayers resent this kind of political manipulation.

"I certainly never was consulted about any estimate of a 60 mill rate by either commissioner or head of department. The announcement of such is unauthorized and malicious."

Study Club Talks Improvements To Education System

Educational problems in Alberta were reviewed at a recent meeting of the Social Study Club and as a result of discussions the club will shortly submit one or two resolutions to the provincial government containing suggested improvements to the school system.

School curricula in detail have been studied by the Club which has interested itself in proposals designed to advance the standard of schooling in Alberta.

HARRY CURLETT ACQUITTED OF FRAUD CHARGE

Jury Returns Verdict After Being Out Two and One-Half Hours

Mayor Harry Graves Curlett, of Westlock, charged with five instances of fraud, was acquitted by a six-man jury Wednesday night. It took the jury two and one-half hours to reach a verdict in the case which has been proceeding for more than a week before Mr. Justice Ives in criminal division, supreme court.

Investigation of the fire which destroyed Curlett's home at Westlock had been carried on almost incessantly for more than two years and hearing of charges and defence constituted one of the most lengthy ordeals in local legal history.

DEFENDANT CONGRATULATED

The defendant was congratulated warmly by Westlock residents when he stepped out of the prisoner's box after Mr. Justice Ives pronounced the words "you're discharged"—those who came here from the northern Alberta town to attend the trial all declared that their mayor was innocent and they enthused over his vindication as they gathered about him in the court room.

Curlett, who testified that the fire, the lengthy investigation, and the publicity have caused him acute embarrassment smiled wanly as he accepted their felicitations. The rigors of the past few months have marked him plainly.

JURY CHARGED

Mr. Justice Ives took less than 15 minutes to charge the jury after Hugh Cullen Macdonald, K.C., had lectured them for nearly two hours on behalf of the defence, and J. J. Frawley, K.C., spoke for the attorney-general's department, had summed up the crown's case in one hour and 15 minutes.

"In my experience I have found that virtue and intelligence are never confined to the members of one side or of the other," the judge said, cautioning the jurors to deal carefully with the masses of testimony which conflicted on several points. "You're not going to let any undue generosity in either of these men," he added, referring to the manner in which Curlett and James Taylor, insurance adjustor, had haggled over the details of the fire loss adjustment.

NO EVIDENCE

"Leaving aside two items, the walnut bedroom suite and the house, is there any evidence that Curlett had dealt with anything and above the replacement value? —There is no evidence that he got anything more than the replacement value of the fur coat.

"Curlett offered me his lie and don't get anything out of it," the judge said. "I have no doubt that the jury will deal with him fairly and I have no doubt that there are a few items that are low," he added, speaking of the voluminous claims which Curlett had submitted to the insurance adjustor.

SEPARATE COUNTS

"In considering the evidence must bring to your mind an irresistible conviction one way or the other," he said, "and deal with the several separate counts on which Curlett was being tried. 'If you find that he obtained money by statement or pretences in regards to the contents you should find him guilty on all counts except two."

The jury retired at 3:18 p.m. and returned with the verdict shortly before 6 p.m.

GROCER CHIEFS GATHER AT MAC

Prairie province executives of Western Grocers gathered at the Macdonald on Thursday to attend a three-day regional meeting of managers and credit managers.

Today's Markets

At Toronto—Mines

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—The mining market on the Toronto Stock Exchange maintained an even course in today's trading.

Buffalo Ankerite held out with a gain of 3c cents to $6. Senior golds were quiet and silvers slow.

Toronto—Industrials

Nickel held around 49, up ¾. B.A. Oil advanced ¼ to 28. Breweries held firm.

Fractional price gains dotted the steel and building shares. Eastern added nearly two points. Smelters closed about two points higher.

Banks ruled higher and implements and utilities did better.

At New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Selected stocks surged forward in today's market, many reaching new highs for several years with gains of fractions to 2 or more points. A few, such as American Telephone and Case, got up around 5. The close was firm, despite late profit taking. Transfers approximated 2,600,000 shares.

At Montreal

MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—Mixed prices ruled on the Montreal Stock Exchange today with high priced issues taking major losses.

Smelters dipped five points to 8. Nickel was ½ higher and Noranda unchanged.

Powers were weak, easing fractions while Canadian Northern and Brazilian improved. Banks were quiet and utilities steady.

TRADING SLOWS UP IN GRAIN PIT

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6.—Trading slowed to a snail's pace on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Wheat prices, steady throughout the session, closed ⅛ cent lower to unchanged, May at 86⅛, July 86⅞ and October 86⅛ cents.

Export sales were meagre and traders took little interest in the market. Prices at Liverpool closed ⅜d lower to ⅛d higher. Buenos Aires and Chicago held unchanged.

Trade statistics were bearish. Black Sea shipments of wheat this week totalled 816,000 bushels.

NOTED SOCCER PLAYER DIES

SUNDERLAND, Eng., Feb. 6.—James Thorpe, goalkeeper of Sunderland football club, leader of the English league this season, died yesterday but doctors have not yet determined whether injuries received on the football field were responsible for his death.

At the last Thorpe was in a diabetic coma and it is believed this condition was probably set up by concussion suffered in the game with Chelsea at Roker park last Saturday. The match ended in a 3-3 draw. During the match Thorpe made a difficult save from a corner kick.

It was seen he suffered some form of injury, but quickly recovering, the custodian carried on.

Later the Sunderland supporters were staggered when the custodian let through two easy shots which enabled Chelsea to equalize. He was bitterly criticized by spectators who were unaware he had been badly hurt. Examination after the match by a doctor showed he had suffered injuries to the back of his head and arms. He became delirious Monday and was taken to hospital.

Thorpe was treated for diabetes 18 months ago but it was believed he had been cured.

Montana Youth Captures Title Speed Skater

BANFF, Feb. 6.—Alberta's junior amateur speedskating title goes to Montana this year. Kenneth Nygren, of Butte, when his worst threat, Robbie Crosby, of Banff, quit one lap too soon in the 440-yards and fell in the 880-yards, captured both races, the first in 47 seconds and the second in 1 minute 36 seconds.

In the junior ladies' event of the afternoon, Patsy O'Connor, Montana, intermediate champion, also fell half-way through the 440 yards, losing her chance at the title.

Despite low temperatures, carnival events passed off with vim; junior ski jumping and hockey in the afternoon and hockey and speed skating in the evening. Tonight, Montana Clarkes, first United States hockey team ever seen in action at a Banff carnival, make their debut in carnival senior hockey.

Fatal Accident

HORIZON, Sask., Feb. 6.—Hurled from a gas jigger as it sped around a curve and crashed head-on into a snowplow one mile east of here Wednesday morning, Mike Brown, 40, Horizon section foreman, was killed and Thomas Suffick, 35, his helper, of Sintaluta, was fatally injured. Suffick died in Assiniboia hospital yesterday afternoon. An inquest into the two deaths will open at Assiniboia Thursday.

Dean Appointed

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Archdeacon L. E. Blackburne was Wednesday appointed Dean of Ely. This was the first ecclesiastical appointment made by King Edward VIII.

To Film "Hamlet"

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The filming of the first screen version ever made of "Hamlet" will begin in England in March, with Robert Donat in the title part, the producer of the film being Alexander Korda.

BROOMHALL

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Rains have fallen in central India this week which will benefit seed crops, especially, and wheat to some extent. No exports are reported of wheat, but linseed clearances are fairly substantial. Liverpool cables that there is slightly more interest in foreign wheat, but actual business does not materialize. It is now reported that the grain board has taken over all the wheat stocks of the old Canadian wheat pool. Sales to exporter have been gradually becoming insignificent lately, but shippers holdings have been well absorbed, and eastern stocks are gradually diminishing, so that renewed buying is liable to develop when foreign buying is resumed.

The Liverpool-Winnipeg spread is now six cents in favor of the former, which is ¾ cents worse than it was a fortnight ago.

U. K. DAIRY PRICES

OTTAWA, Feb 6—Butter was firmer and cheese steady on United Kingdom markets, according to cable advice received today by the department of agriculture. Quotations:—

Butter—New Zealand, 95 to 97s per swt. (21.25 to 21.47 cents per lb.); Australian, 94 to 95s per cwt. (21.25c per lb.).

Cheese—New Zealand, white, 53s per cwt. (11.85 cents per lb.); colored, 57 shillings 6d per cwt. (12.86 cents per lb.); Canadian, quiet and steady; Junes and Septembers, 58s to 61s per cwt. (12.97 to 13.64 cents per lib.).

GOLD AND SILVER

MONTREAL, Feb. 6—Bar gold in London up five cents at $5.32 an ounce in Canadian funds, 140s 11d in British funds. The fixed $5 Washington price amounted to $4.98 in Canadian.

MONTREAL, Feb. 6—Feb., March, May, July, Sept. and Nov., 43.95; Dec., 44.00.

LONDON, Feb. 6—Bar gold advanced 8 pence to 140s 11d. (U.S. equivalent, $35.33).

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

LONDON, Feb. 6—The United States dollar made a fractional gain on a quiet foreign exchange market today, closing officially at $5.01 5-16 to the pound compared to the overnight New York rate of $5.01⅞.

The French franc closed at 74.94 to the pound compared to yesterday's close of 74.97.

GRAIN INSPECTIONS

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6—Inspections on Wednesday: Wheat, 166 cars, 76 last year; contract wheat, 8-0; oats, 45-28; barley, 21-12; flax, 2-0; rye, 1-1; other grains, 0-2.

LONDON CLOSING

LONDON, Feb. 6—Business slackened on the stock exchange today. Oils, industrials and Transatlantic shares eased on profit-taking. Rails held firm, while other sections moved undecidedly. The closing was irregular.

AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 6—Hogs, 14,000. Tops $10.60, sows $9.40.

Cattle, 8,000. Steers $10.50, bulls are steady.

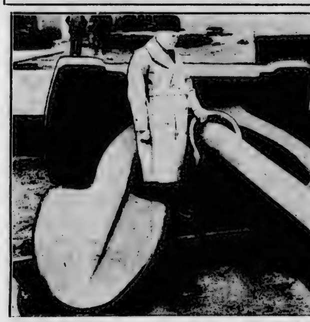

Sheep, 10,000. Lambs $10.50, yearlings $9.75.

In Crushing Hug

Like the fabled Old Man of the Sea, whose embrace never could be broken, the huge roots of a tropical tree have entwind an abandoned temple in Sumatra, crushing the sturdy stone walls in its relentless grip. Tribal legend recites how the builders of the temple were captured by enemies. The swampy jungle engulfed the ruins of the abandoned village.

Some Huge Anchor

Capt. Sir Edgar Britten, appointed commander of the Cunard super-liner Queen Mary, inspecting one of the huge anchors lying beside the ship at Glasgow, Scotland, where work is being finished for the liner's maiden voyage. Each of the two regular anchors weighs 16 tons. A third emergency anchor will also be carried.

PROTECTION OF INDUSTRY BLOW TO WESTERNERS

West Has Suffered Great Hardships M. M. Porter, K.C., Says

CALGARY, Feb. 6.—Great hardship was suffered by Western Canada because of protected industries in Ontario and Quebec, M. M. Porter, K.C., declared here last night in an address to 200 members of the Alberta School Trustees' Association.

WORKED HARDSHIP

Speaking on the economic history of Alberta, Mr. Porter said Canadians were forced to pay an enhanced price of 26 cents on the dollar on purchases of products from these protected industries and this worked a hardship on every province with the exception of Ontario and Quebec.

In 1930 goods to the value of $100,000,000 were purchased from these industries, he stated.

Mr. Porter spoke optimistically of Alberta's financial position. The provincial debt was $158,000,000 while the average value of agricultural production over the last 10 years was $212,000,000, he said. Alberta's rural bonded debt amounted to five cents a head compared with Ontario's bonded debt of $65.75 a head.

"We will pay our way and own what we have at the end," Mr. Porter predicted. "We are lacking in progress because we are not boastful enough nor self-analytical enough. Our future rests in our hands. Collectively we have no load in relation to the plant we have."

The funeral of Mrs. Olga Knopp, beloved wife of Mr. Sam Knopp, of R.R. 2, Strathcona, who passed away in the city Saturday, Feb. 1, at the age of 41 years, was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the South Edmonton Lutheran church. Rev. Mr. Krisch officiated, and interment took place in the Rosedale cemetery. The pall-bearers were her six brothers. Many beautiful floral tributes were received. She is survived by her loving husband, two sons, August and Evald, four daughters, Rosalia, Elsie, Sophie and Emma, all at home, five sisters and eight brothers. Hainstock & Son, funeral directors.

EMILY CATHERINE RICHARDS

The funeral service of Mrs. Emily Catherine Richards, beloved wife of James Richards, 10533 98 street, who passed away in the city February 1, at the age of 66 years, was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Hainstock & Son's funeral chapel. Rev. Mr. G. A. Skitch officiated and interment took place in the Beechmount cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Mr. F. Berry, Mr. J. Frew, Mr. Williams, Mr. A. Lang, Mr. E. Jeandon and Mr. G. Granger. Many beautiful floral tributes were received. She is survived by her loving husband, one son, Francis, in Port Ellis, B.C., and two sisters, Mrs. Rhoda Sevill, of Medicine Hat, and Mrs. Daisy Hill, of Saskatoon. The late Mrs. Richards came from Ireland in 1882 and settled with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cosgrave, in Whitewood, Saskatchewan. Hainstock & Son, funeral directors.

6. Cards of Thanks

With my heart full of gratitude, I wish to thank all our friends who so kindly paid their last respects to my dear wife, Emily Catherine Richards who passed away on Feb. 1st; also for the beautiful floral tributes. Jas. Richards. 170-30

Steamer Forced To Break Ice To Aid Marooned Settlers

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—The heavy oil tanker returned here Wednesday after ploughing through two miles of ice to take relief to approximately 30 persons marooned in small settlements at the northern extremity of the north end of Burrard Inlet.

Plight of the settlements was sensed by W. W. Bissell, manager of Coast Quarries Ltd., which has interests in the district, when the small gasboats usually making the trips with provisions and other supplies returned after being unable to break through the ice.

The tanker was dispatched Tuesday.

From 5,000 to 75,000 eggs are laid by a lobster. These adhere to its body and are carried about during the entire 19 months required to hatch.

Insurance Official Starts Damage Suit

CALGARY, Feb. 6.—Seeking $50,000 damages for slander, F. A. Ogilvie, general manager of the Home Insurance Company here, has brought an action in the Alberta supreme court against H. Wingfield, a director.

Mr. Ogilvie, in his statement of claim, alleges Wingfield made statements reflecting on his credit and reputation.

Draws Last Tooth

CHARLIE OPENS MOUTH, MAKES FUNNY NOISES

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—For the first time, Charlie Chaplin opened his mouth and made noises on the screen last night, and crowds of tail-coated men and ermine-wrapped women were there for the startling event.

Germans Planning Atlantic Airmail

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Racing to be first to fly airmail regularly across the Atlantic, a delegation of German officials and aeronautical authorities will confer with United States officials here Saturday on plans to establish a jointly operated airmail service between Europe and the United States.

Kenya's New Budget

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Feb. 6 —The Kenya budget for 1936 shows an estimated surplus of $48,500. There will be reductions in railway rates for export produce totalling $750,000.

WOODSWORTH TO SIT WITH H. H. STEVENS

Final Adjustments Made in Seating Arrangements In House

By THOMAS WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—The eve of the opening of parliament saw the final adjustments made in respect to the offices and seating arrangements in the House of Commons, which have given the cabinet committee and the chief government whip a strenuous week.

J. S. Woodsworth has finally agreed to sit with Hon. H. H. Stevens and this has paved the way for the adjustment of the whole seating mixup. Mr. Stevens' Block, while still insisting she is Independent Conservative, has accepted as one of the lower front bench of the Conservative block. Her seat mate will be J. Earl Lawson, chief Conservative organizer, but Mrs. Black still asserts she is Independent and will remain so.

TEMPERAMENTAL MEMBERS

A score of temperamental members have made life uncomfortable for a while. Some of them put up squatter's rights in offices they had no claim to and senior members who were allotted their rooms had to wait until the invaders were ousted, or forget they were gentlemen and use unparliamentary language.

Miss Agnes MacPhail, who is entitled to the same seat she has been allotted a place next to John Blackmore, leader of the Social Credit party, has put up a disclaimer from Mr. Stevens. Mr. Woodsworth, Miss MacPhail and Mr. Blackmore, all sitting side by side, that they have any political affiliation with each other. One wag suggested each should put up a sign, "No connection with any other firm."

GENERAL PLAN

The general plan follows the government's original set-up, with the government forces filling the government benches to the Speaker's right, and then on the Speaker's left in solid block, first the Liberal "rump," then the Conservatives, then a strip with Mr. Woodsworth and his C. C. F.-ers, then the Social Credit group.

MEAT STRIKE END RUMORED

LONDON, Feb. 6.—An unofficial report spread here last night that the meat strike at the Smithfield Central Market would end late Saturday with men returning to work between 11 p.m. and midnight.

Strikers, however, showed no signs of relenting and claimed all of the capital's dock, wharf, and cold storage workers will join with them unless Smithfield employers give in to their demands for increased wages.

The employers declared in a statement they "cannot and will not yield" to the demands.

SASKATCHEWAN HOUSE OPENS

REGINA, Feb. 6.—No boom of guns will herald the opening of the second session of the eighth Saskatchewan legislature when it convenes this afternoon.

As a mark of respect to the memory of the late King George V, the opening will be stripped of its ceremony and pageantry.

Instead of the customary escort and guard of honor, four officers representing the militia, the mounted police and the navy will be in attendance. The closed car will replace the open carriage and the four horses.

All officers and the Lieutenant-Governor will be in mourning bands on their left sleeves.

Two minutes silence will be observed at the opening of the session, following the reading of the Speech from the Throne, the house will adjourn until Friday.

Senate Munitions Hearing Completed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. — J. P. Morgan's partners said a final farewell to the senate munitions committee last night after it had produced evidence designed to show efforts to have the United States treasury discharge a war-time loan made to the British government by the famous banking firm.

A final night session clean-up of odds and ends also brought testimony that the British government insisted the United States pay off its commitments before Great War had ended. It already had done so to the extent of several billion dollars.

The presently defaulted war loans were the subject of a spirited exchange earlier, with Thomas W. Lamont, a senior Morgan partner, asserting there was no possibility of working out a means of immediate payment of the amounts due.

J. C. Spinks Dies

VICTORIA, Feb. 6.—John Carlton Spinks, father of Sir Charles W. Spinks, inspector-general of the Egyptian army with headquarters at Cairo, died here Wednesday. He was 91 years old. A native of County Cavan, Ireland, he had resided here for the last 24 years. Another son, William, of Victoria, also survives.

Hitler's Question Mark

While Germany's fast-growing legions form a foreboding question mark over Europe, Reichleader Hitler's honor guard unwittingly forms a question mark in the court of the presidential residence in Berlin, goose-stepping to the martial music of band and drum corps. The occasion was Chancellor Hitler's review of the guard following a reception for the diplomatic corps in Berlin.

SOCREDS THINK WAR ONE OF INEVITABLE CONSEQUENCES PRESENT MONETARY SYSTEM

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—Adoption of Social Credit's basic principles as the best means of preventing wars was urged in the report of the Social Credit party's House of Commons committee on international relations, made public Wednesday. William Mayhurst of Vegreville, Alta., is chairman of the committee.

The report claimed an impression had gone out that the party repudiates the principles of larger armaments and military training.

Believing "war is one of the inevitable consequences of the present monetary system," and that "until the nations of the world are prepared to depart from traditional monetary methods and substitute a money system based upon the productive capacity of the nations" there could be little hope for peace, the report pledges the party to strive for adoption of Social Credit principles.

The objective for these efforts was "reduction of armaments and armed forces, training of youth in other than war-like channels, discouragement of all activities having war-like tendencies and elimination of artificial trade barriers."

TWEEDSMUIR PLANS VISIT REMOTE SPOTS

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—Within the next year or two Baron Tweedsmuir, Governor-General, hopes to visit many of the remote parts of Canada and see something of frontier life in the north and west.

Addressing the Canadian Institute of Surveying at luncheon on the first day of its annual meeting Wednesday, His Excellency said he was a countryman and knew interested in the wild places than in cities. He felt most at home when he was with men who lived and worked in the open spaces.

TOT TELLS OF FATAL FIGHT

MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—A fight that brought death to her mother and serious injuries to her unemployed father was described to police officers last night by five-year-old Shirley Morrow, who sobbed and pleaded to "go to mama."

It was a terrified child that ran from the little home in suburban Verdun, crying for help and shouting that her mother and father were fighting. She ran to the home of a relative, who summoned police.

Detectives entered the home to find the blood-covered body of Mrs. Edward Morrow, 30, waitress. She had been beaten to death with an ice-chopper. In another room they found Morrow, an unemployed electrician, his throat slashed with a safety-razor blade.

Blind Woman Is Burned To Death

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Annie Louise Claire, 60-year-old blind housewife, was burned to death in her home last night when she attempted to light the kitchen stove and her scarf was caught by the flames.

The woman's husband, Frank Claire, told police he returned to the town to find her lying in the living-room terribly burned, and with parts of her clothing still smouldering.

Gold Discovery

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Feb. 6.—Discovery of a large gold reef, bearing quartz veins from a foot to two feet or more thick, was announced Wednesday by the colonial office upon receipt of a report from a geological survey party in the British Guiana hinterland.

So elaborate were some of the designs and decorations on the covers of early European Bibles that it required more than five years to paint a single cover.

T. H. HOWES OF MILLET HEADS CATTLE GROUP

Chosen President of Canadian Red Poll Association

REGINA, Feb. 6.—T. H. Howes, Millet, Alta., cattleman, Wednesday was elected president of the Canadian Red Poll Association at the annual meeting held during the Saskatchewan Dairy Association convention.

Other officers elected included: H. V. Clendinning, Treherne, Man., honorary president; and W. J. McComb, Hayfield, Man., honorary vice-president; John Gowans, Bestwick, B.C., second vice-president, and P. J. Hoffman, Annaheim, Sask., secretary.

The board of directors will be: British Columbia, John Gowans, Bestwick; Alberta, T. H. Howes, Millet, and H. F. Wm. Galahad; Saskatchewan, E. Hursch, Macoun, D. Wagner, Tyvan, and P. J. Hoffman, Annaheim; Manitoba, W. J. McComb, Hayfield; Ontario, J. R. Bell, Port William.

The association, which is marking its 30th year as a breeders' organization, reduced fees to the following scale: For animals under six months, $1; over six months and under three years, $2; over three years and under five years, $3; over five years, subject to the approval of the board of directors, $4. Fees will be double to all non-members.

KING TO OPEN INDUSTRY FAIR

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The first public engagement of King Edward since the funeral of his father, King George, will be to visit the British Industries Fair.

The fair will be held from February 17 to 28, with exhibits both in London and Birmingham.

Canadian sections have been organized for both the London and Birmingham parts of the fair. Canada also will have a number of buyers at the fair, which is held annually.

Nahas Pasha To Be Named Leader

CAIRO, Feb. 6—A royal decree will be issued today, it was reported last night, naming Nahas Pasha, Nationalist leader, to head a delegation to negotiate and sign a new treaty with Great Britain on the basis of the treaty of 1930. Nahas Pasha and those named with him will have full freaty-making powers, and will name their own experts and technical advisers, it is understood.

JAPAN STORM TAKES LIVES 73 PERSONS

88 Others Feared Lost At Sea as Result Two-Day Blizzard

TOKYO, Feb. 6. — Seventy-three persons were known dead in Japan today and 88 were feared lost at sea as the result of a two-day blizzard which swept over the centre of the island.

It was thought the death list might be increased when word from isolated mountain villages to which communications were disrupted.

SNOWSLIDE KILLS 35

Hope was abandoned for the Unnan Maru, a 200-ton freighter, with a crew of 45, which sent out an SOS yesterday morning saying she was waterlogged and sinking. The steamers which fought their way to the Unnan's position found no trace of her.

Two other vessels were missing in the storm-tossed waters off the coast, while a considerable earthquake shock was felt yesterday afternoon in Kyoto, accompanying the blizzard which raged Tuesday and Wednesday.

WHALER IN DISTRESS

The small whaler Fukushima Maru reported she was in distress off the east coast and no word had been received since yesterday of the fishing boat Deshina Maru, reported in distress there.

The American steamer Eglantine, bound from Galveston to Yokohama, was standing by hoping to aid the Deshina Maru.

No Such Thing As Over Production In Agriculture

TORONTO, Feb. 6—Stating his belief that surpluses of agricultural products could move only in accordance with the normal operation of economic laws rather than as a result of government action involving tariff or other artificial agencies, and voicing his considered opinion that there was no such thing as world agricultural over production, Sir Edward Beatty, chairman and president, C.P.R., addressed the Holstein-Friesian Association at their annual dinner here last night.

As far as Sir Edward knew, the world had never had enough food to satisfy all the demand and the situation in that respect was by no means improving. World agricultural production for 1934 was lower than for any year since 1927 while world population had increased in that time from eight to ten percent. That there did exist a widespread condition under which people who wanted food might not be able to buy it because they had no means of paying. This had resulted from disturbances following the Great War and the post-war boom and depression.

Contributing factors were development of extreme nationalism under which almost every country had sought self contained and self sustained, and the bringing under cultivation in recent years of previously unused land, now no longer available.

Letter Received Two Years After Death Of Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 6.—A letter dictated to give himself up was received Wednesday from the late C. C. Julian, Oklahoma and California oil promoter—two years after he committed suicide in Shanghai, China.

The letter, mailed to an Oklahoma City newspaper from Vancouver, B.C., was written in Feb., 1933. Julian, vice-president, had fled to Canada while under $25,000 bond on mail fraud charges. He was a native of Morris, Man.

Beet Growers Ask More Pay

Claiming that they could not live on wages received for their work, employees of southern Alberta sugar beet factories interviewed Premier William Aberhart and members of his cabinet on Wednesday night asking for a 50-50 division of receipts from sale of the raw product.

It was pointed out that if wages were going to be raised the price of beets would have to be raised.

The whole question of sugar beet production was probed and discussed from various angles and in the net result it was agreed that a further conference would be held between the factory owners and workers at which it was hoped a satisfactory solution would be worked out.

Boats Cast Adrift By Terrific Wind

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6—An icy wind blowing down Burrard Inlet from the north tore 11 scows from their moorings on the north shore last night and scattered them along the Vancouver water front.

West Vancouver ferry runs were cancelled until the tide dropped and heavy waves subsided.

Eight tugs were called to round up the drifting barges and all were believed picked up.

Minor damage occurred throughout the city and the wind blew down a number of telephone and power line poles. Signs were blown down and awnings torn.

Loan To Soviet

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Great Britain was reported in usually reliable quarters last night to be planning to grant a loan of £40,000,000 ($200,000,000) to the Soviet Union under a plan which would provide for payments to the holders of claims against pre-war Russia.

McLAUGHLIN ONLY UNBEATEN RINK IN BONSPIEL

Wetaskiwin Rink Defeats All Since Start Of Bonspiel

Rose, of Sedgewick, is Hard Luck Team in Yesterday's Events—Loses Three in Row After Being Undefeated

George McLaughlin, of Wetaskiwin, formerly of Camrose, was the only unbeaten rink in the nineteenth annual Alberta Curling Association at close of play late Wednesday evening.

McLaughlin kept his unbeaten slate when he defeated Keillor by a 11-10 score. It was a thrilling game throughout, as teams curled upon even terms most of the way, with the winning McLaughlin rink nosing out its opponents by the scant margin of only one point.

Three straight defeats to Billy Rose, of Sedgewick, last year's winner of grand challenge, was a feature of Wednesday's draw. It was a stinging morsel of curling fate that was handed the Rose rink as they bowed before stiff opposition in three times in as many tries.

FIRST DEFEATS

Granite rinks of Harold Ritchie and George Wanless, undefeated up until Wednesday, both suffered their initial defeats as the bitter cold weather continued to make ice surfaces glistening and fast.

One of the main features of today's curling activities will be the big banquet at the Macdonald hotel tonight. Also at the fete the election of officers will take place and preliminary plans will be gone over for the 20th annual 'spiel in '37.

As was expected, a fine progress is being made in all the draws with the close of the week's activities drawing rapidly near. The jewelry stage is reached in the visitors with Graham of Lougheed, being in the chair.

Throughout the day, starting at 9 o'clock, play will continue in the 'spiel and a fine round of draws has been arranged for the greater part of the day.

PAT MEEHAN WINS BITTER RASSLING GO

Pins "Yankee" Jack Rogers in Two Falls During Wrestle Royal

GREAT FALLS, Montana, Feb. 6.—Pat Meehan, big and rugged policeman of Edmonton, is still winning wrestling bouts in the United States—and against big and tough ones.

Last night, in a wrestle royal which closed out in a battle that reached riotous proportions, Meehan emerged the victor, defeating "Yankee" Rogers in two straight falls.

The wrestle royal, which, and you can take it from Mickey McGuire, is the toughest of them all, consisted of three tough gents who puffed and pummeled the folks right out of their pews. In the wrestle royal were Rudy Skarda who is nota-bada-guy in these milling bouts, Rogers and Meehan himself.

Skarda was eliminated first. He was bellied into oblivion early in the go and then it was up to Meehan and Rogers to lock horns—they were the two left—and that's how these wrestle royals go. The last two on their feet, no matter how many were originally in it, tops off the show with a matched bout.

It was arranged that Rogers and Meehan would go eight, 10-minute rounds, the two out-of-three falls.

It didn't last the full eight rounds. Meehan won the first, suffering heavily as the "Yank" gouged, bit and kicked, but the handsomely proportioned Pat could take the punishment. Evidently he could hand it right back, for in the first round, he pinned the "Yankee One" to the mat. Throughout the second round both Rogers and Meehan lasted out, but it was about that Meehan closed the show with a grand fall over his opponent.

POPULAR VERDICT

It was a popular decision for a fairly clean bout, but "Yankee" isn't through by a long shot in Great Falls—the most ardent town for wrestling fans—Anyway Rogers was chased out of town and Meehan and one out the first place possible in order to race to his dressing room. He managed this and safely protected from the mat-mob, is still wondering how the powerful Pat did it.

APACHES DOWN SENIOR BROTHERS

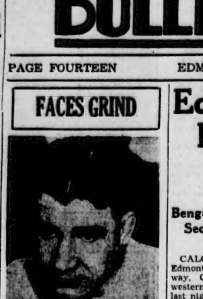

Playing the nicest game of the year, the "Y" Apaches defeated the Redskins in a torrid game played at McDougall gym last night by a score of 31 to 30.

Although the young players needed the handicap of 16 points they were the leading throughout. Two baskets by Seiler 7 (Ed. Motors) Ritchie 17; Greenough 6 (Ed. Motors) Wanless 10; Hanes 11 (Ed. Stettler 'Spiel Opens Next Week

STETTLER, Feb. 6 — Stettler's annual bonspiel will take place on February 11, 12 and 13. More than 30 rinks are expected to attend and eight sheets of ice will be in readiness. The most attractive assortment of prizes in some time are waiting the lucky winners. Ample hotel accommodation for all visiting rinks is available.

FACES GRIND

JOCK McAVOY

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The boxing tom-toms will start beating again today when Jock McAvoy returns to New York with the most ambitious ring program ever undertaken by an invading pugilist. McAvoy, holder of British titles in the middleweight and light-heavyweight classes, wants to capture the world titles in both divisions, if successful, he proposes to challenge Jimmy Braddock, Joe Louis or whoever is on top, for the world's heavyweight championship, in 1937.

SPORT SLANTS ON SEPARATE SCHOOL LOOP

The big problem in the Senior hockey league—how to stop Granain. The West End gang trounced both Mt. Carmel anr Sacred Heart handily this past week. The former went under by a 7-2 count, while John Dunningan's aggregation made it a little closer, at 4-1.

Albert Carriere, Grandin left wing ace, got up the season's scoring record for the league when he bagged four goals against Mt. Carmel recently. The former Vimy youth is improving all the time.

Tom Dunne, Mt. Carmel player is a standout in the Junior league. He recently led his team to a convincing 2-0 win over Grandin. A goal and an assist was his contribution to his side's offensive.

St. Alphonsius look strong in the Junior league. Patry, Hammond and Malone are the stars and these three will score often enough to keep the "Saints" in the running most of the time.

A house league is operating successfully at Grandin. Three teams, Maroons, Maple Leafs and Canadians comprise the circuit. The players are of junior weight, and interest in the G.H.L. (Grandin hockey league) is intense.

Bronks In Second Slot, Beat Miners

DRUMHELLER, Alta., Feb. 6. — Calgary Bronks landed into second place in the Southern Alberta Senior Amateur Hockey League by defeating the leading Drumheller Miners 3-1 here last night. Bronks' 3-2 victory over Olds Elks in Calgary last Monday has been protested by the Olds management.

David Eliminated In Winnipeg 'Spiel

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6.—The B. V. David rink from Vancouver was eliminated from the Purity flour event as Manitoba's annual bonspiel progressed last night.

The Vancouver four were defeated 9-8 by Howard Woods veteran rink from the Granite club. Mes Wise of Strathcona club and Ab Gowanlock of Gladstone, Man., also advanced in this competition.

Edmonton Eskimos Lose Close Battle To Calgary Tigers

Bengals Beat Igloomen for Second Straight by 4-3 Score

CALGARY, Feb. 6.—Outplaying Edmonton Eskimos most of the way, Calgary captured a Northwestern hockey league game here last night 4-3 to tighten the league standing.

The victory, Calgary's second straight over the Eskimos, moved Tigers to within a point of their opponents. Previously Edmonton had beaten Calgary five straight. It was Eskimo's last showing here this year.

Leo Lespi and Tony Savage shared the Tiger scoring with two goals and an assist apiece but the star of the show was Sam Timmins, who turned in an outstanding performance in the nets.

LINEUPS

Edmonton — McCusker, Townsend, Pridham; Holmes; Gagne, Dyck. Subs: Rimstad, Whittles, Martin, Carriere.

Seattle Seahawks Tie Portland 1-1

SEATTLE, Feb. 6.—Portland's dashing Buckaroos and the Seattle Seahawks battled to a 1-1 tie here last night in an overtime Northwestern Hockey League game which left the Hawks in first place and moved the Bucks into second over the idle Vancouver Lions.

LINEUPS

Portland—Aitkenhead; Sutherland, Arbour; Blyth; Coupez, Pratt. Subs: Jempson, Carl Sorenson, Hemmerling, Scott.

FEARS FANS

roughhouse gentleman of local grappling warfares, who has asked for protection against mob fury in h's bout at the Empire Friday, following the narrow escape he had after his last bout with Hugh Adams. Meyers will meet "Bad Boy" Bob Cummings in the next card and an interesting battle is expected.

Eskimos Battle Tigers At Local Arena Tonight

Hope to Avenge Last Two Defeats Given Them by Bengals

It'll be for the second place slot that the Eds will be fighting for, when they meet Calgary Tigers at the arena tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Edmonton are now in third place with 27 points, while Seattle is in first place with 30 points. Vancouver has 28 points and Portland is in second place with 29 points, while Calgary is trailing the race with 24 points. The clubs are all around and one would have to be an inspired prophet to forecast how it will end.

The Igloomen tonight will be trying hard to keep up their drive for the lead of the league and for a playoff berth. In their last dozen games, they've been playing inspired hockey, winning their battles in happy succession. The only hitch was their two defeats in Calgary in their last games and they'll be fighting to avenge that tonight.

The worthy Bengals also have ample reason for playing with all they've got tonight, for if they're in last place now it is largely due to the numerous defeats Eskimos have been handing them since the New Year. It'll probably be one of those spectacular Eskimos-Calgary struggles with everything in it but trench warfare.

Clarence Campbell will referee the game.

MEEHAN MEETS RAY KOTONEAU EMPIRE FRIDAY

When the "villainous-gentleman" Eddie Meyers spouted he needed protection when climbing in and out of the ropes at Mike Cutcher's wrestling show at the Empire theatre Friday, no statement could be more honestly spoken. Meyers, who has every ardent fan utterly peeved at him, will meet Bob "Bad Boy" Cummings in the feature bout, while in the other headliner Pat Meehan, the beautifully-proportioned policeman, battles Ray Kotoneau in a return match. The show gets under way at 8:30 o'clock.

Meyers, who last Friday whipped the favored Hugh "Whiskers" Adams, will go into his joust this Friday against another well-liked grappling ace in Bob Cummings. But it's a different type of battler that Meyers meets this week. Cummings, who recently has wrestled clean, can be a real "roughhouse" gent if his opponent is, and what else could Meyers be but rough? So it looks like a "natural" rowdy go when these two meet.

Meehan in the other end will be having tougher opposition with Kotoneau than he did in his first show. The return booking of Meehan and Kotoneau resulted after it was claimed the winner between Kotoneau and "Wild Bill" Collins at Great Falls, would meet Pat . . . Ray was the winner, and so, it's to be another fine struggle for the big "cop."

MIDDLESBROUGH, England. — Raymond Parkin, 24-year-old Arsenal footballer, has been transferred to Middlesbrough at a fee stated to be about $10,000.

Bruisers Defeat Orange Crush, 4-3

Rallying late in the third period the Bruisers scored two goals to come from behind and defeat the Orange Crush, 4-3. The first period was fast, with neither team getting a break, but in the second, both Anderson and Campbell beat Elinski to put the Crushites ahead, and then Whelpley beat Bagnell to half it up. In third Whelpley evened it up only to have Pollard put the Orange Crush out in front again. Then Jones teamed up with Whelpley to tie things up. Then Jones passed to Gregoraschuk to get the winning goal.

LINEUPS

Orange Crush—Bagnell, Saywell, Patty, Fresy, Nikipilo, Anderson, Pollard, Campbell, Clarke, Waywitka, Campbell.

Referee—Ken McAuley.

Escobar Gets Fast Kayo Over Gillette

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 6.—Sixto Escobar, Puerto Rican bantamweight recognized as champion in many quarters, scored a technical knockout over Al Gillette of New York in one minute and 15 seconds of the fifth round of their scheduled 10-round ring-title bout here last night.

Med Team Wins Interfac Game

The Meds successfully operated on the Ags in an Interfac hockey game at the Varsity rink last night and cut them up with a 3-2 score.

Warren opened the scoring for the Meds when he passed to goal judge early in the first. Play was fast and evenly divided between both teams with the stellar work of both goalies kept the score down. However, Barrett opened things up when he scored shortly before the end of the period.

Both teams divided the honors in the second period also, Rentiers getting one for the Meds and Darrah evening things up for the Ags. In the third period, after many close ones, Murray Warren came through again to give the lead to the Meds.

'Peggers Weather Coast Badminton

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—Winnipeg players competing in the British Columbia badminton championships advanced safely through opening rounds of the men's singles as the tournament opened yesterday.

Charlie Jones, Manitoba champion, defeated Munro Fraser, Vancouver, 15-6, 15-8, in a first round match. Douglas Grant, former Canadian champion, drew a bye in the first round and defeated F. H. Penwill, Vancouver, 15-4, 15-1, in the second round.

Locals Tie Battle Last Few Seconds Of Overtime Play

By JACK DEAKIN

Oft-times a goalie has snatched certain victory from his opponents. Last night in an exhibition game, Russell Bentley, Regina Abbotts' courageous cage guardian, did just that with South Side. The score ended, after overtime, at 3-3—possibly not a score that did South Side justice, but at that, near enough to be as it should.

But on the other hand, two seconds and a much belated attempt to "put on the power" by South Side, also stood between Regina and victory, resulting in South Side scoring just seconds before the final gong, to ring up a split verdict at the east-end ice lot.

DEADLOCK FAILS TO PLEASE FANS

To the 1,000 or so brave-hearted fans, huddled in their cold pews, the deadlock was not pleasing. After a slow and ragged first period, it was the general opinion that South Side would turn on their speed and plays, whipping the invaders by plenty. But it was not to be, for Regina reverted these thoughts and "poured the punishment on the locals until it came near hurting them with a stinging 3-2 defeat.

Maybe it was the cold . . . or possibly the feeble efforts to cheer . . . stage fright in the "big game" but whatever it was, South side gave possibly their poorest performances of team-play and polish. They have not looked worse since they dropped their initial schedule game.

NOT CLEVER CLUB

Therefore Regina's deadlock with their locals does not speak highly of their prowess. They were greatly over rated. Their skating and play-making at a lower level than shown by other Saskatchewan teams, and all it all, it was not the customary performance seen in major junior league attractions which feature visiting teams. But at that, on last night's play, South Side was not much better.

However, there were moments when the action pepped up, moments when South Side looked like a leadership club as they got away with some good plays—failing to finish them—and skated at a fast clip. But they were so scarce it just didn't matter.

FLETT WAS GOOD

Mayer Flett, the young and rugged gent who dishes with wild abandon through forwards, defence lines, and, if it were possible, we think he would go right through the net—head first to make it a goal now—was one of the players really in the game. It was Flett's lone assault upon the Regina cage which first stopped South Side into the lead.

This carefree young fella took one of his colorful spills right down the pond. He passed forwards, rounded the defence and did a top right when he hoisted the puck high into the hemp and then, very ceremoniously fell heavily to the ice. But he arose, grinned benevolently and skated unharmed to his defence post.

GOT EASY MARKER

It was one all in the second session. Regina tallied a soft one with Shea on the scoring end. Harold Sutton, of South Side, and Shea were fighting for the puck in front of the goal. The rubber got loose, slipped goalwards beneath Eddie Williams and Shea had little trouble pushing it in.

Each club scored one in the third. South Side again taking the lead. Jack Wotherspoon, who along with Flett, was one of the best on the ice, tallied. He tossed off a double assist play from Fred Ritchie and Harold Sutton.

But it only took Regina three minutes to equalize. Lach got the marker on Shea's pass.

GAME MIGHTY CLOSE

Regina came mighty close to winning. Lach belted Regina's third goal home, and it looked like a winner right up until only two seconds of play remained. And then, quite unexpectedly Mays drifted a shot over the line. Percy Davis, who also looked good for South Side, did most of the work. He shot a hard one, had it stopped by Bentley, but that clever gent could not clear it away before Mays got a hold of it.

Wotherspoon, Flett and Davis dished up the best hockey for Edmonton, while Bentley, Lach and Shea looked exceptionally good for the visitors.

THE LINEUPS:

Regina: Bentley, Uhren, Ring; Shea Acaster, Lach; Mullin, Jackson, Walker; Carter, Shinnan.

Edmonton: Williams; Anderson, Davis; Wotherspoon, Ritchie, Sutton; Chesney, Mays, Benoit; Flett, Paldiwar.

Referee: Clarence S. Campbell.

SUMMARY:

First Period: 1, Edmonton, Flett, 4.20. Penalty: Sutton.

Second Period: 2, Regina, Shea, 18.10. Penalty, Mays.

Third Period: 3, Edmonton, Wotherspoon, Sutton-Ritchie, 7.32; 4, Regina, Lach (Shea), 3.00. Penalties: Lach, Overtime: 5, Regina, Lach, 3.30; 6, Mullan.

Ramblers Increase Lead, Winning 2-1

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.—Philadelphia Ramblers increased their margin of leadership in the Canadian-American Hockey League last night by a 2-1 overtime victory over the New Haven team.

The victory put the lead on Obs Heximer's drive in the first period, and Charley Mason levelled the score with a last-ditch effort in the second. Bert Connolly drove in the deciding tally for the Ramblers.

U.S. Retains Lakes Trophy Golf Tourney

LONG BEACH, Calif., Feb. 6. — The United States retained the International Lakes cup trophy yesterday when a picked team of professional golfers defeated a dogged band of golfers from Australia.

Two Chicago stars, Harry Cooper and Horton Smith, clinched the cup.

Athletic Union Puts Rap On Roughriders' Executive

By ELMER DULMAGE

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—President W. A. Fry of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada announced the expulsion from amateur sport of nine members of the Ottawa Roughriders football club executive as an aftermath of the "great impersonation" of Roy Berry by Bohn Hilliard last fall.

Hilliard, former University of Texas halfback, assumed the name of Roy Berry and played with Roughriders in the Interprovincial Union last season. Mr. Fry said he was satisfied the impersonation actually took place and he was not satisfied that the club executive was unaware of it.

RAPS OFFICIALS

"It is almost incredible to believe that such prominent sportsmen could have acquiesced in this shocking breach of the ethics of British fair play and sportsmanship, and it will be a pleasure, indeed, to lift this ban if and when any or all of those mentioned present to the eastern Ontario branch of the Union at Ottawa satisfactory evidence that the impersonation was without their knowledge," Mr. Fry asserted.

An official investigation of the Hilliard-Berry impersonation, conducted by the A.A.U. of C. through Daniel J. Ferris of New York, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, revealed that Roy Berry could not have been in Ottawa last fall.

Speed Skating Trials Arranged For Wetaskiwin

It is announced by B. W. Bellamy, secretary of the Alberta Branch A.A.U. of C., that in addition to the indoor speed skating championships of Alberta for men and boys (senior, intermediate, junior, juvenile and midget), to be staged by the Wetaskiwin sports association at the new arena in Wetaskiwin on Saturday, Feb. 15, arrangements have been completed whereby the women's and girls' provincial championships of the Alberta Branch Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada, will be conducted at the same time and place.

There will be nineteen championship events on the dual program, and the first gun will be fired at seven o'clock in the evening.

Entries close with C. B. McMurdo, secretary, Wetaskiwin Sports Association, on Wednesday, February 12, who in the meantime will furnish application for amateur registration and entry forms to intending entrants. Forms for men's and boys' events may also be procured from C. H. Croft, Edmonton; or for women's and girls' events from Miss Ethel Barnett, Edmonton.

Buffalo Breaks Losing Streak

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6—Buffalo Bisons broke a three-game losing streak and advanced into a tie with London for second place in the International Hockey league's eastern division last night, defeating Pittsburgh Shamrocks 6-2 before a crowd of 1,500.

Paul Gauthier, former Winnipeg boy, loaned to Pittsburgh by Montreal Canadiens, replaced Joe Stark in goal in the third period and was impressive.

Cleveland Takes Fast 6-2 Victory

CLEVELAND, Feb. 6—Cleveland's greatly strengthened International league hockey team delighted a capacity throng of 3,500 fans by defeating Detroit Olympics, leaders of the league's western division, 6-2 here last night.

Desse Roche scored three of Cleveland's goals. His brother, Earl Roche, assisted on all three. Ken Doraty, Vic Ripley and Frank Daley got the others. Yip Foster and Earl Liscombe tallied for the losers.

Calgarians Top League Scorers

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 6.—Billy Hudson, former Calgary hockey star now with Pittsburgh Shamrocks, was still atop the International Hockey league scoring list yesterday, with a total of 28 points. He was followed closely by another Calgarian, Vic Ripley, now with Cleveland Falcons, who boasts 27 points.

WETHERED'S PUTTER

LONDON—Roger Wethered won the President's Putter of the Oxford and Cambridge Golfing Society at Rye for the second year in succession and the fifth time in all by defeating W. H. Aitkin 2 and 1. Sir Ernest Holderness has also won the Putter on five occasions.

Four Kayoes in 23 Bouts —Also Two Wrestling Battles

By BRUCE MacDONALD

Blood in the ring and thunder in the galleries ushered in the first inter-scholastic boxing and wrestling tournament at the Empire theatre last night.

Before an enhanced and appreciative audience which filled the theatre to the roof, fifty young gladiators showed what they had in the noble art of self-defence. It was a big evening, both for the boys—many of whom were entering the ring for the first time—and for the spectators, who went away with that satisfied feeling of having received their money's worth.

VARIED PROGRAM

There were bouts for every taste, the boxers, the fighters, and the boys who just walked in and led with their chin. Some of them, however, showed everything that goes to make up the boxer's bag of tricks; probably the best in this respect was the Irving Mitchell-Lawrence Ferguson scrap.

Both boys were in fine shape and plenty aggressive. For three rounds they battled with neither giving an inch ground. Mitchell would frequently with a straight left and packed a right hand wallop which made Ferguson's head ring. However, Ferguson wasn't on the receiving end all the time and in the last two rounds he came back strong with a barrage of lefts and rights which made the judge's job a very difficult one. Mitchell finally got the nod but only by the slimmest of margins.

HARD HITTERS

Less scientific and more in the style of the lumberjack, was the bout between Pte. Bladen of Victoria and Red Hobson of Technical. Neither boy knew how to back up so they simply leaned in and let go with both hands. Hobson absorbed a lot of heavy rights but he came back strong and at one juncture floored Bladen with a real old-fashioned hay-maker. Hobson lost points as a result and Bladen landed out of bounds and he was warned. Both fighters were weakening at the end of the third and were almost out on their feet, and it was no wonder considering the pace they set. Bladen received the decision, but the crowd cheered the red-headed battler when he left the ring.

In the one-forty pound class Ed. Liptsit beat Cam. Biter, at present in a bout which was one of the high-lights of the evening. One pound difference in weight, both boys packed good punches but Liptsit gained the decision after he had made Steer pretty groggy in the final round.

LIGHTWEIGHTS POPULAR

Of all the bouts of the evening, those staged by seven diminutive warriors, were the most popular. None of the boys weighed more than sixty pounds and in every case the gloves were almost as large as the fighters. The idea was to stand back and get their arms rotating as quickly as possible, then rush in and sweep the opponent off his feet with them. It was all good fun though and despite the novel styles, these lads displayed all the qualities of future champs.

FOUR KNOCKOUTS

The punching ability of these boys was well illustrated by a grist of four knockouts sprinkled evenly throughout the bouts in at least four more cases the boys slugged each other into semi-consciousness and only managed to stand up by holding on to each other.

Two short and snappy wrestling bouts commenced the evening's proceedings. In the 143 pound class Jim Hays, of Technical, defeated A. DeBleick, of the same school, in about four minutes. Jack Stasek threw Norman Grey in the second and last bout, both boys were from Technical.

Bout Cancelled

147 lbs.—Bill Warren beat N. Watkins; decision.

150 lbs.—Dean beat Bells; decision.

Cochrane Leading Regina Bonspiel

REGINA, Feb. 6.—Aubrey Cochrane and his Rouleau four forged into the lead for the grand aggregate of the Saskatchewan bonspiel here last night. The Rouleau rink now has 14 wins against two defeats and is followed by the Archydel rink, skipped by A. G. Dalrymple with 11 wins and two defeats.

GRAND SHOW OF ATHLETICS OPENS TODAY

Colorful and Unique Grandeur Starts Olympic Games

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 6.—Facing some 1,500 tanned, robust, expectant athletes, Chancellor Hitler opened the Fourth Olympic winter games amid a scene of unique grandeur today.

The Nazi chieftain spoke in German the words prescribed for the opening ceremony by the International Olympic Committee.

"I proclaim open in the winter Olympic Games of Garmisch-Partenkirchen, celebrating the fourth winter Olympiad of the modern era."

COLORFUL SIGNAL

Simultaneously a German army band played the Olympic hymn, all church bells of Garmisch-Partenkirchen pealed, the flames of the Olympic fire soared heavenward from a gigantic steel tower next to the ski jump, a signal division of the German navy hoisted the Olympic flag and salvos of cannon from the Dundered from the mountain heights and reverberated and re-echoed from valley to valley.

The chancellor was then welcomed at the gate by Count Baillet-Latour of Belgium, president of the international Olympic committee, and by Dr. Ritter Von Halt, president of the German organizing committee.

GREETED ATHLETES

These two presidents conducted their distinguished guest and his entourage to the balcony of the Olympic club house, where Hitler greeted the members of the diplomatic corps who had come from Berlin to see the representatives of their respective nations match athletic prowess.

Two Olympic teams marched into the Stadium. Following the time-honored custom, the Greeks, as originators of the Olympic idea, came first. There followed, in order of the German alphabet, the delegations from Australia to Venezuela. Last to enter was the United States of America and finally those of Germany, the host.

As each delegation, clad in some distinctive winter garb, marched by the German chief of state and the Olympic officials, its standard bearer lowered his national flag, while a battery of German artillery on the Kochel mountain opposite, fired a salute.

It was an imposing spectacle when, on completion of the drills, the 28 standard bearers closed in a row, their national flags fluttering in the breeze, and halted at attention, column after column of competitors.

Canuck Hockey Stars Suspended

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 6.—Two members of England's hockey team in the winter Olympic games, opening today were ruled ineligible for a breach of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association transfer rule.

James Foster, star goalie, formerly of Winnipeg and Moncton, and Alexander Archer, high-scoring wingman, also formerly of Winnipeg, were the players lost to the English side.

The International Hockey Federation voted the suspensions unanimously.

ENGLAND DOWNED BY WALES, 2-1

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, Feb. 6.—Wales today duplicated its 2-1 score over England of two years ago when the two countries met in their annual international soccer match. England, however, is still far ahead in the series which started in 1879, winning 37 to Wales' eight. Ten games have been drawn. Last year England won 4-0.

Regina Caps In Tie With Vics By Win

REGINA, Feb. 6.—Humbling the lowly Moose Jaw Millers 7-1 last night, Regina Caps climbed into a tie for fourth place with the Regina Vics in the Southern Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey League.

The Southern League schedule ends next week and four teams will then enter the play-offs.

MANSFIELD'S NEW BOSS

MANSFIELD, Eng. — Harold Wightman, former Luton Town manager and the old Chesterfield, Notts Forest and Derby County player, has been appointed manager of Mansfield Town, northern section, third division, English football club. He succeeds C. Bell. Wightman resigned his position at Luton in October.

TENNIS CHAIRMAN

LONDON, Eng. — Albert D. Prebble has been selected chairman of the Lawn Tennis Association Council in succession to C. F. Woodhall club. One of the most popular figures in tennis, Mr. Prebble has been a vice president of the L.T.A. for some years.

SKI COLLISION

CHAMONIX, France—M. Buisan-Varilla, captain of the French Olympic ski team, fractured a leg in a collision with another member of the team while both men were travelling at high speed.

Southern Italy's door - to - door milkmen, who sell milk fresh from the cow, have "license plates" for their cows; they are brass tags worn on a chain between the horns.

Poison To Puck

NEW SAREPTA BEATS MINISTIK

NEW SAREPTA, Feb. 6.—Again New Sarepta hockey boys were the victors in a 10-minute overtime period against Ministik club to the tune of 1-0.

Both teams were striving valiantly for a goal in the three regulation periods, but it took an overtime period to break the tie of 0-0

Return game will be played Sunday, February 9, at New Sarepta.

LINEUPS

Ministik—Ben Schreiner, goal; Art and Russell Rowland, Frank Baumgartner, Jimmy Roderick, Sidney Whitford, Steelie Murdock, Doug. Bill and Sherry George, Freddie Williams.

Referee—Ray Sanders.

Imps Take Second Game Of Playoffs

Down Comets 46-35 to Even Up Series in Finals

The second stage of the provincial playdowns has passed and gone. The Imps are on even terms with the Comets once more. An avalanche of baskets from the "team" of Betty Bawden and Alice Cross defeated the Comets in a wildly exciting game at the McDougall Gym last night.

Those two ladies were mainly responsible for the 46-35 victory of the Imps last evening. For two periods it was either teams' game. In fact at one stage of the last quarter the score was 30-34 in favor of the Imps and the prophecies were whispered or maybe hoped from the Comets' bench that the Comets would stage one of their characteristic last minute rallies and steal the game. However, the Imps would have none of that and instead staged a rally of their own which left the Comets standing bewildered or wandering aimlessly about on the floor.

FORM REVERSED

The Comets were not the same scrappy which took the first game. Neither were the Imps the same troupe either. The former lacked the power to check and the latter found their shooting eyes. During those first two quarters the Imps' play featured sure and speedy checking with Blanche Belanger and Jean Wright stopping sure counters time after time. The other end Zelma Watkins and Lavina Allard were keeping out the Imps regularly. The front "lines" had their duties to do and missed few chances to discharge them.

Then in the fateful third stanza the Imps decided it was time to go over the top. At this stage of the game they were behind 18-14, but it took very few seconds to wipe out this deficit the way the Comets weakened on the defense.

With the count now tied up the hostilities have just begun. Next game will be the third and perhaps the one that will forecast the final winner.

LINEUPS:

Imps—Bawden 20, Cross 14, Wright 6, Johnson, Belanger 4, Rennie 2, Slaughter; total, 46 fouls, 11 accuracy, 22-78.

Comets—Watkins 8, Allard 4, Hill 3, Smith, Plante 9, Watson 8, Frederick 6, Nerbonne, Lockwood, total, 35; fouls 6; accuracy, 16-74.

Referee—Mrs. Watkins.

CALHOUN RINK WINS IN JASPER

The Calhoun rink from the Edmonton Royal Club is doing right well by itself in the Jasper Bonspiel. Yesterday Calhoun won the second cup of the Bonspiel when he came through on top in the Citizens' event.

The final game was played against McLeod of Edson and a tense battle was waged before the Edmonton rink won by the score of 12-10.

P.E.I. To Compete Macdonald Brier

CHARLOTTETOWN, Feb. 6. — Prince Edward Island will be represented in the Macdonald Brier Dominion Curling Championships which open in Toronto in March, Secretary C. M. Williams of the provincial association, announced last night.

Londos In Comeback

DETROIT, Feb. 6—Jim Londos, who forfeited his claim to the world's wrestling championship when he lost to Danno O'Mahoney last June, will attempt a comeback here Friday night in a match with Jules Strongbow. The match will follow the main event between Pat O'Shocker and Jim McMillen. Friday's bout will be the first for Londos since he lost to O'Mahoney.

Bulletin Carriers Are Merchants in Their Own Right

They buy their papers and sell them at a profit. They are young merchants in their own right and like all good business men strive to hold present customers and to secure new ones.

A substantial part of the 20c you pay your Bulletin boy each week represents his profit. The loss of your business means a cut in his earnings.

He truly values your friendship quite as much as your custom and is genuinely anxious to meet your wishes in every way possible.

Know your Bulletin boy! Your encouragement and interest mean a great deal to him and are sure to result in mutual benefit.

The young merchants who deliver your Bulletin come from solid self-respecting Alberta homes.

First Aid for Eyes

Next to the heart the eye is perhaps the most useful organ in the entire body. It gives us sight — one of the most precious of our possessions. Very few eyes are optically perfect and the greatest hazard resulting from imperfect eyes, is eye strain. Have your eyes properly tested by our fully qualified registered optometrist.
